Be Transformed

Transformation leading the way

In today's world, when rapid change is the order of the day in all spheres of life, technology is not just an outcome of a strategic planning exercise, it is the new strategy! Or at least, a big part of it. For the foreseeable future, no other choices will matter to the future of a company, as much as the new technologies it adopts and the pace at which it accelerates its transformation using these technologies. For any industry today, the future business models and value chains are much less predictable than they used to be, but they are certainly inevitable, through constant experimentation, fail-fast mindsets and being open to innovative ideas, wherever they come from.

Reinvention is not just about serving your existing customers through digital channels, experiences and transactions, it is also about serving entirely new customers in entirely new markets. As incumbents in every market – from publishing to advertising to automobiles to banking have found out, there are few barriers to entry in any market. If anything, “outsiders” who move fast, and disrupt convention have a better chance of success, because it's easier to run when you are not carrying any baggage. And the baggage doesn't have to be outdated infrastructure or processes, it can be cultural baggage too, which comes in the shape of outmoded ways of thinking and working.

It is hard to imagine any business or brand that can afford to be complacent about customer loyalty, and the leaders in every industry are taking charge of their own destinies by experimenting furiously with new business models that leverage data, experience, platforms and ecosystems. More than anything else, leaders are setting solid foundations by modernizing their technology landscape and reinventing culture, mindset and talent strategies.

We have made it our obsession to help our clients' businesses adapt and modernize to be future ready, because no disruption announces itself ahead of time. We are empowering our clients to lower the cost of experimentation and failure, so they can pivot like a start-up and scale like an enterprise. We are helping them not just with the adoption of technologies like cloud, AI or blockchain, but also working with them to adopt new ways of working, in the IT organization and beyond.

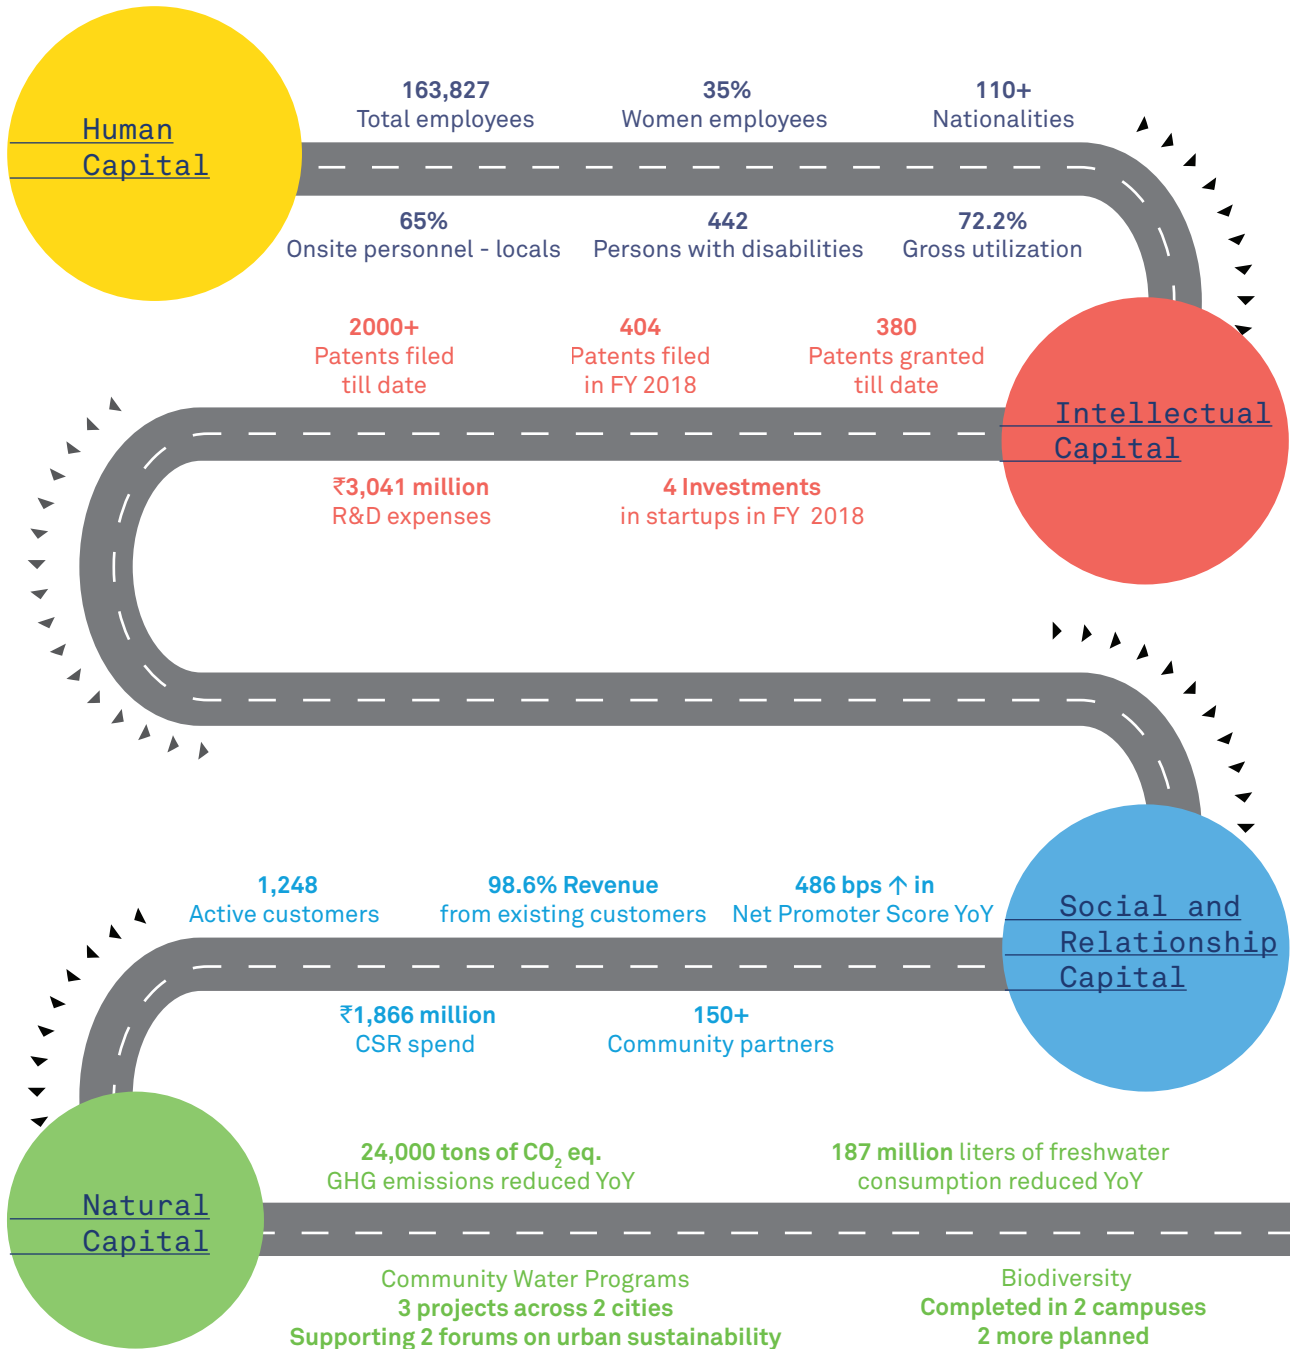

Our own transformation journey has been a rich and rewarding experience and a deep source of learning to succeed in the brave new world. We began by transforming ourselves along four dimensions – reskilling, reorientation or new ways of working, culture, and processes and systems, with digitization as our central guiding principle. Today, Wipro's employees are fast learning to be digital in their mindset, in every aspect of the way we work. Our deep investments in Wipro HOLMES™ Artificial Intelligence Platform (Wipro HOLMES), our acquisition of the crowdsourcing platform Topcoder, and our expanding innovation ecosystem of start-up investments are beginning to make a transformative impact on our engagements. Our Digital revenue continues to grow, and accounts for more than a fourth of our revenue now.

Our teams are lean and agile, bringing a collaborative and experimentation mindset to their way of working – heralding the new work culture that is inspiring even our client organizations to evolve faster. We have reoriented our service with a renewed, sharper focus on client themes. The new ecosystem transcends traditional silos, and fosters collaboration, experimentation and innovation.

We continue delivering productivity through automation by deploying Wipro HOLMES in driving business transformation in our clients and it's gratifying to see the impact.

While the fundamental economics of industries are changing, customer focus remains the nucleus of any strategy. There can be no better guarantee of our own success than making our customers successful in what they do. We are inspired by the vision of our customers and excited to partner with them, as they undergo their transformational journeys, to create enduring success in these dynamic times.

Chairman's letter to the stakeholders

Dear Stakeholders,

The calendar year 2017 saw most of the large global economies do better than in the last few years, while developments in technology continued picking pace. Organizations are becoming nimbler by the day and are embracing these developments, not just to keep their businesses relevant but also to transform their customer experience. Partnering with our clients in this transformative journey enabled our IT Services Revenue to grow 4.6% in fiscal 2018.

In my earlier letters, I have talked about the way Digital is being embraced by enterprises, consumers and IT services firms. While the pace of adoption is unprecedented, it is on expected lines, with 'customer experience' becoming a central theme for all organizations. Digital emphasizes upon 'how' technology reaches the end customer rather than 'which' technology. Both, enterprise mindsets and business models are undergoing a paradigm shift where the key scarce resource is no longer financial capital, but intellectual capital. One's own ability to adapt to the new and agile way of conducting business has become the key differentiator.

We at Wipro are seeing our early investments in disruptive technologies increasingly result in successful outcomes with clients and markets, which are early adopters of such new age technologies. This journey has only just started and we are continually calibrating and aligning ourselves to make our clients successful and be at the forefront of what our industry can offer.

Spirit of Wipro

In this journey, the Spirit of Wipro continues to guide us as we walk with our clients to partner with them on their transformational journeys. It keeps us alert, aware of and aligned to our core values, and enables us to deal with a multitude of situations in a uniform Wipro-like manner, while we ensure the success of our clients, employees and other stakeholders in a social and responsible manner.

Stakeholder Value

Our capital allocation philosophy has remained unchanged as we continue to keep long term value enhancement for our investors at the center of our pursuits through regular return of capital.

I had mentioned in my last letter that the Board was considering a proposal to buyback equity shares of the company. In July 2017, we announced a buyback amounting to ₹110,000 million. We also declared an interim dividend amounting to ₹5,420 million in January, 2018.

The value creation of an enterprise extends beyond financial capital. As more and more educated people become part of the organized workforce across the world, issues like sustainability and climate change have become everybody's business. For us at Wipro, creating value across social, natural, intellectual and human capital is central to our existence.

Till last year, we have trained more than 90,000 of our employees in Digital technologies, thereby enhancing the intellectual and human capital of society. Our work in school education, community care and ecology, helps enhance the social and natural capital across various spheres of life. Last year, we reduced our office space emissions by 20% and now use renewable energy for more than a third of our total energy requirements. We also saved nearly 187 million liters of freshwater last year, to make our small contribution to the community's natural capital.

In the current dynamic environment, we are often trapped by false choices. Through my years in Wipro, I have learnt that not getting trapped by these choices is at the heart of enduring success. Let me share three such examples:

- Old and new: Do we have to shed what is old to become new? This choice is often also thought of as choosing between the past and the future. It is far more effective if we are both, old and new. We must retain the strengths and learnings of the past, as we embrace the future by developing new capacities and innovative approaches.

- Business and Society: Sustained long term success in business will happen only if the business contributes positively to society. This contribution is at many levels. At the core is the basic matter that our business activity must create value for society. It is about acting responsibly towards the environment and contributing to our communities.
- Means and ends: Do we choose ends over means, pursue success however it comes? This is the classic false choice. Means and ends are exactly equally important. We must achieve our ends without ever compromising on the means.

As a company, our pursuit to make an impact in all walks of life continues unabated, and I want to thank you all - our clients, our employees, our partners and our stakeholders, for continuing to repose your trust in us. This is our driving force and makes us want to do our best in these exciting times.

Very Sincerely,

CEO's letter to the stakeholders

Dear Stakeholders,

Ability to learn and change has arguably become the most important differentiator in today's business as each organization treads through its own journey to be transformed. Keeping this very principle in mind, we embarked upon our own journey transforming the way we operated and the way we invested into the future. We focused heavily on our client servicing, reinvented our delivery and made investments in new age technologies and partnerships. This has helped us create a solid organizational foundation as a partner of the future for our clients.

We are encouraged by the initial outcomes of our efforts. In this fiscal year, we grew 14.1% in BFSI, which has been an early adopter of new technologies like Digital, a reflection of our decision to make early and sound investments in building our digital capabilities. Our Digital business grew 27.3% year on year. Our acquisitions like Designit, Appirio and Cooper are shaping up well and consistently proving to be key differentiators for us in the marketplace.

However, we have also taken some challenges in our stride during the last fiscal year which created a bump in our momentum of increasing revenue growth. Two of our clients declared bankruptcy which reduced our operating margins by 236 bps and 109 bps in Q3 and Q4 respectively. Also, the legislative challenges around the Affordable Healthcare Act in the United States have had an impact on our Health Plan Services business which has continued to see a steep decline, offsetting 1.0% of our full year growth. While this loss of momentum is disappointing, I am happy with the foundational improvements that we have seen during the year. I am happy with the strength in our client mining, leadership in Digital and progress in our AI/automation journey.

We continue to relentlessly focus on our strategy which is about helping our clients navigate to a Digital future ('Enable the future') while driving hyper-efficiencies in their 'Run' operations ('Modernize the core') through a comprehensive and integrated portfolio of services.

I am sharing with you an update on how we have been executing our strategy across the key strategic themes that we have outlined.

Digital & Consulting

Digital continues to scale new heights and is invariably at the forefront of our client relationships; whether we are helping our clients determine and solve their problems or we are bringing aspects like Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning to execute our projects better. Our Digital value chain, which includes our consulting arm, as well as our connected customer experience practice, enables us to bring our differentiated value proposition, including advisory, design and technology, to drive digital transformation delivering immense business value to our clients. As a result, our Digital eco-system grew from 22.1% of revenue in Q4 last year to 26.7% of revenue in Q4 this year. In FY 2018, our Consulting business grew 26.0% and constituted 6.3% of our revenue.

Integrated Solutions & Client Mining

We are taking proactive ideas to our clients combining their context and our investments, to enable our clients to transform. This is done through the SMART program, and all our key clients continue to repose their trust in us, with growth in our client metrics like our Net Promoter Scores (NPS), which improved 486 basis points in FY 2018 over FY 2017. Our top ten clients grew 8.8% for the year and we added 5 clients in the >50 million bucket. We exited the year with 2 clients having a revenue run rate over $250 million in the fourth quarter.

Process & IT estate Modernization

This strategy is about demystifying the complex processes and technology landscape of our clients. We are driving this through consolidation, elimination, hyper-automation and cloudification of the client landscape, leverage distributed agile ways of working and microservices, and cloud based architecture to deliver simplification, speed and productivity benefits. Our Wipro HOLMES platform, not only helps us improve our delivery productivity, but also leverages Robotic Process Automation (RPA) partnerships and cognitive capabilities for us to dramatically improve the user experience for our clients and their customers. In FY 2018, Wipro HOLMES has generated 8,000 people-equivalent productivity across 300+ clients.

Non-Linearity

We continue to invest and scale intellectual property via platforms, products, frameworks and solutions, enabled by innovative commercial constructs and delivered in a 'as-a-service' model, thus truly variabilizing their costs in a risk reward model (e.g. transaction based, outcome based pricing). In FY 2018, the number of patents we held (and applied for) crossed 2,000. Wipro for Business is focused on solving use cases in areas such as compliance, onboarding, customer service, supply chain and anomaly detection, with a strong focus on building industry-specific solutions.

Open Innovation

The Open Innovation ecosystem comprises of M&A, Ventures, Partner Ecosystem, our Horizon program, Topcoder, Expert Networks & Academia. This year, we invested in 2 leading edge companies i.e. InfoSERVER - which provides us a platform to deliver a full suite of solutions for our clients in Brazil; and Cooper - which helps us further strengthen our strategic design capabilities and expand them to the west coast of U.S.A.

Further, we have been recognized as a 'Leader' in 137 analyst reports, a 4-fold increase over the past 3 years. 20 of these recognitions are in the Digital space.

Localization

We continued to make sustained progress in localization in all our key markets. In the US, more than 55% of our workforce is now local, due to our unrelenting focus on local hiring through campuses and laterally, continued investments in acquiring capabilities, constant expansion of our delivery centers and an unwavering focus on our sustainability initiatives, especially in education. We also surpassed localization levels of 75% in APAC, and in Latin America, almost all our staff was local as we ended FY 2018.

Employees

Skill development of our workforce with a key focus on building skills to be ready to cater to the fast-emerging Digital technologies has been at the forefront of our people strategy. We have trained over 90,000 employees on Digital skills.

In last financial year, we rebranded ourselves to emphasize that we at Wipro continue to enable our clients and ourselves to be transformed during this period of immense change, aided by our vision which is "to earn our clients' trust and maximize value of their businesses by providing solutions that integrate deep industry insights, leading technologies and best in class execution". We also restated our values, to incorporate the additional aspects required by this transformation.

I take this opportunity to express my gratitude and appreciation to our clients who present to us the opportunity of dealing with the exciting challenges of today's business, our employees and partners who enable us to execute and meet our commitments, and our shareholders for their unflinching support for us to pursue our goals in a steadfast manner.

Very Sincerely,

Management discussion and analysis

Industry Overview

IT Services

Fast-evolving technology landscapes, dynamic economic environments and the emergence of digital business has created a need for enterprises to look for a partner to advise, design and execute their technology transformation and support programs. Large multinational enterprises are engaging global IT Services companies who can deliver high quality service on a global scale and at competitive costs. Over the past two decades, with the emergence of the internet and inexpensive connectivity, the global delivery model of service delivery has risen to become the preferred model in sourcing of IT services, business process services and research and development services. In this period, service providers have gained technological expertise, domain competency and delivery capability by either developing organically or by acquiring companies with these competencies. Large multinational enterprises are engaging global IT Services companies to deliver high quality service on a global scale and at competitive costs. We believe the IT Services industry has significant growth potential.

Global IT service providers offer a range of end to end software development, digital services, IT business solutions, research and development services, technology infrastructure services, business process services, consulting and related support functions. According to the Strategic Review 2018 of NASSCOM (the NASSCOM Report) in FY 2018, IT export revenue, from India was estimated to grow by 7.8% to $126 billion.

In the last few years, enterprises around the world are embracing the reality that digital transforms every aspect of business. Experiences, consumers, entire industries, business models and ways of working are all rapidly and fundamentally changing. Recognition of these trends, combined with the realization that enterprises may not be able keep up with this pace of change, has a profound impact on our clients. This requires new business models, new ways of working and integrated capability across strategy, design and technology.

IT Products

The key components of the hardware industry are servers, desktops, notebooks and tablet computers, storage devices, peripherals, printers and networking equipment. According to the NASSCOM Report, the hardware segment of the IT-Business Process Management exports from India is estimated to be $15 billion in fiscal year 2018. Emergence of cloud computing technologies is negatively affecting demand for IT products such as servers.

Business Overview

We are one of the leading providers of IT services globally. We develop and integrate innovative solutions that enable our clients to leverage IT to achieve their business objectives at competitive costs. We use our quality processes and global talent pool to deliver 'time to development' advantages, cost savings and productivity improvements.

Our IT Services business provides a range of IT and IT-enabled services which include digital strategy advisory, customer-centric design, technology consulting, IT consulting, custom application design, development, re-engineering and maintenance, systems integration, package implementation, global infrastructure services, analytics services, business process services, research and development and hardware and software design to leading enterprises worldwide.

The vision for our business is "To earn our clients' trust and maximize the value of their businesses by providing solutions that integrate our deep industry insights, our leading technology and best-in-class execution”. We seek to emphasize our core values of being passionate about our clients’ success, treating each person with respect, being global and responsible, and maintaining unyielding integrity in everything we do.

The markets we serve are undergoing rapid changes due to the pace of developments in technology, innovation in business models and changes in the sourcing strategies of clients. Pressures on cost-competitiveness, an uncertain economic environment and immigration restrictions are causing clients to develop newer business models. On the technology front, digital business has changed the nature of demand for IT services. Development of advanced technologies such as cloud based offerings, big data analytics, mobile applications and the emergence of social media is making technology an integral part of the business model of our clients. In addition to the Chief Information Officer, newer stakeholders such as Chief Marketing Officer, Chief Digital Officer and Chief Risk Officer play a key role in shaping the technology roadmap of our clients. These trends on newer business models, emerging technologies and sourcing patterns provide us with significant growth opportunities.

Our IT Products segment provides a range of third-party IT products, which allows us to offer comprehensive IT system integration services. These products include computing, platforms and storage, networking solutions, enterprise information security, and software products, including databases and operating systems. We have a diverse range of clients, primarily in the India and Middle East markets from small and medium enterprises to large enterprises in all major industries. We continue to focus on being a systems integrator of choice, where we provide IT products as a complement to our IT services offerings rather than sell standalone IT products.

Business Strategy

Our customers today are undergoing an unprecedented change and transformation in their businesses led by forces such as Digital, Consumerization of technology, Industry platform disruptions, and competition from new age companies across industries. We at Wipro believe that there are a few key industry trends, which over the next 5-10 years, will fundamentally transform the way technology is bought and consumed by enterprises. These are ‘as-a-service’, ‘Intelligent automation’, ‘Digital’ such as Design and user experience, Digital ways of working and shared economy, ‘Cyber-security and Cyber-defense’.

In today’s market context, our vision and our strategy is about helping our clients navigate to a Digital future while driving hyper-efficiencies in their ‘Run’ operations through a comprehensive and integrated portfolio of services. We deliver this through industry wrapped process, and technology solutions and services through an open innovation led approach.

Modernize the core – the “Run Strategy”

Our “Run” strategy is about “Modernizing the clients’ core” operations and technology landscape. It includes the following strategies:

- a. Business Solutions brings together domain and technology solutions across applications, infrastructure, business process services and analytics to deliver business value to our clients in an ‘as-a-service’ model.

The Integrated Services and Solutions Group (ISSG) focuses on building integrated offerings across four key business themes: Customer Experience, Business Acceleration, Simplified and Sustained IT and Connected Ecosystem. An example is Insights-as-a-Service, which accelerates Time-to-Insights using the Data Discovery Platform (DDP) powered by advanced visualizations, models, accelerators and algorithms and is offered as Pay-Per-Use.

- b. Process & IT Simplification is about demystifying the complex processes and technology landscape of our clients. We deliver this through consolidation, elimination, automation and cloudification to deliver agility and productivity benefits. An example of one of our approaches is the Framework for Application Services Transformation which covers:

- New age application development;
- App rationalization, optimization and modernization;
- Cloud application services;
- Newer methodologies such as AgileBase and DevOps; and
- Next generation quality assurance, application support and trust management.

Enable the future – the “Change Strategy”

Our “Change” strategy is about “Enabling our clients’ digital future”. It includes the following strategies:

- a. ‘Digital’ is about enabling transformation for our clients as they become a digital enterprise. It begins with an advisory and design approach followed by engineering and build initiatives, all of which are deployed in a native cloud environment and delivered in an AgileBase delivery model (DevOps). We co-create and co-innovate with clients by leveraging our Digital

Pods across the globe and new ways of working.

We have adopted a four 'm' model: method, model, machine and mindset:

- Our method applies a five-step design and build methodology through our Designit® and Buildit® platforms;
- Our 'team of teams' model allows us to create multi-disciplinary, collaborative digital teams to scale across client projects;
- A custom-built engineering machine, which we call the 'Digital Rig', creates the environment for rapid prototyping, testing and launching at extreme velocity; and
- A specific mindset, which focuses on attracting and retaining the right people and surrounding them with a digital culture, ensures we have the right talent to support our customers.

Our acquisition of Cooper, an award-winning design and business strategy consultancy, strengthens Wipro's design and innovation capabilities. Cooper, as a part of Digital, expands our reach in North America and adds significant capabilities in professional education. We are seeing significant synergy across our integrated digital and design capabilities.

Through March 31, 2018, we have trained over 90,000 professionals in digital technologies. We are expanding our innovation labs, or digital pods, to offer enhanced transformation services to global customers. Currently we have 18 Digital Pods spread across the globe and are continuing to expand, introducing two new pods this year in Edinburgh, Scotland and Mountain View, California.

Our approach of creating a consulting ecosystem has seen success. It continues to focus on delivering growth and improving quality for our clients, thereby delivering impact to us through growing business relationships and creating integrated deals.

- b. Big Bets: A key element of executing the Wipro Strategy is the approach to prioritization on high potential growth areas. Towards this, we have focused on 'Big Bets' at a company level where we are making disproportionate allocation of investments to drive differentiated focus and growth. Examples of these include Cloud, Cyber and Digital.

Four core strategies

Underlying the 'Run' and 'Change' strategies, are four key strategies which apply equally to the 'Modernize the core' and 'Enable the future' strategy. These are:

- a. Non-Linearity is about driving differentiated offerings leveraging IP, platforms, solutions and innovative commercial constructs to realize the 'as-a-service' need of our clients, thus allowing them to have a variable cost structure in a risk reward model (e.g., transaction-based and outcome-based pricing).

We have invested significantly to drive non-linearity through investments in IP in the form of platforms acquired through acquisition of Gallagher Financial Systems Inc., Opus Capital Markets Consultants, LLC, HPS and ProMAX Systems, Inc. and organically developed platforms, frameworks and solutions such as Wipro HOLMES.

As part of this effort, we have increased our patent filings significantly in the past few years and have developed a business model that emphasizes upon our patent portfolio and growth in our inventor base within the organization. Industry analysts and rating organizations recognize the quality of our intellectual property (IP) and we intend to continue developing high quality inventions. Many of our patents are in emerging technology areas and serve as a foundation for many of our new technology platforms, including AI, IoT, connected devices, and autonomous vehicles.

- b. Open Innovation is about leveraging the innovation ecosystem through following vehicles:

- Wipro Ventures: The strategic investment arm of Wipro, is a $100 million fund that invests in early to mid-stage cutting edge startups. As of March 31, 2018, we have invested in and partnered with 11 startups in the following areas – AI (Avaamo, Inc., Vicarious FPC, Inc.), Business Commerce (Tradeshift, Inc.), Cybersecurity (Demisto, Inc., IntSights Cyber Intelligence Ltd., Vectra Networks, Inc.), Data Management (Imanis Data, Inc.), Industrial IoT (Altizon Systems Private Ltd.), Fraud & Risk Mitigation (Emailage Corp.) and Testing Automation (HeadSpin, Inc., Tricentis GmbH). In addition to direct investments in emerging startups, Wipro Ventures has invested in two enterprise-focused venture funds: TLV Partners and Work-Bench Ventures.

- Partner Ecosystem: We have established a dedicated unit to drive and deepen our partner ecosystem to drive creation of new markets and solutions, expand in key verticals and geographies, drive innovation in our offerings and drive go-to-market outcomes. We have sub-divided the partner ecosystem into the following categories:

- Strategic Partners: Multiple product lines with significant business volume and potential
 - Growth Partners: Single practice alliances
 - Niche Partners: Niche products with differentiated solutions
 - Academia Partners: Collaborating with academic institutions and associations in the United States, Europe, Israel and India in the fields of computer and electrical engineering to promote innovative technology research and capability
- Horizon Program: The goal of the horizon program is to drive organic incubation in emerging areas covering products, platforms, solutions and capabilities. In order to achieve this objective, we are investing in key areas such as AI, AR/VR, IoT, cloud computing, Software-Defined Everything, autonomous vehicles, cybersecurity, digital experience, digital marketing and commerce, and Industry 4.0. During the year ended March 31, 2018, we funded 19 projects as part of this program.
 - Crowdsourcing – Topcoder: A community of more than one million developers, designers and data scientists with offerings focused around analytics, Connected Customer Experience (CCX), quality assurance, enterprise transformation, community experts, self-service and hybrid expert networks.
 - M&A: Acquisitions are key enablers for us and drive our capability to build industry domain, focus on key strategic areas, strengthen our presence in emerging technology areas, including Digital, and increase market footprint in newer markets. We focus on opportunities where we can further develop our domain expertise, specific skill sets and our global delivery model to maximize service and product enhancements and higher margins. We also evaluate business units to determine if divestments would maximize our focus on key priorities.

Acquisitions consummated during the year ended March 31, 2018 include InfoSERVER and Cooper. InfoSERVER is a Brazilian IT Services company that predominantly caters to the Banking, Financial Services and Insurance market in Brazil. Over the last 21 years, InfoSERVER has been recognized for its excellence in delivery and specialized knowledge of local banking domain and processes. InfoSERVER is headquartered in São Paulo, Brazil. With this acquisition, Wipro and InfoSERVER will be able to deliver a full suite of integrated IT services across Digital, consulting, and business process services to four of the top five banks in Brazil. Cooper is an award-winning design and business strategy consultancy. Cooper will further strengthen design and innovation capabilities and expand reach in North America besides adding capabilities in professional design education. Increasingly, global enterprise clients recognize that design is a critical part of any digital or business transformation. By adding Cooper's skills and expertise, Wipro will be better positioned to support its clients' digital programs.

We have also made minority investments in Denim Group, Ltd., a leading independent application security firm, serving as a trusted advisor to customers on matters of application risk and security and Harte Hanks, Inc., a U.S.A based global marketing services company specializing in omni-channel marketing solutions including consulting, strategic assessment, data, analytics, digital, social, mobile, print, direct mail and contact center. Also, during the year ended March 31, 2018, we have increased our ownership in Drivestream Inc. from 19% to 43.7%.

Further, we have entered into an agreement with Ensono Holdings, LLC (Ensono), a company engaged in providing complete mainframe and Hybrid IT services to mid to large enterprises across industries, to acquire 10.2% stake in the entity. Ensono has a right to repurchase up to an aggregate of 5.5% of the above units if Wipro is not able to achieve certain joint business milestones agreed between the parties.

- c. Localization: We are focused on acting local and thinking global. The core components of this strategy are local hiring, campus hiring, setting up local delivery centers, establishing digital pods and making strategic investments through acquisitions. We are driving localization initiatives in our key geographies such as the United States, United Kingdom, Continental Europe, Canada, Latin America, Africa, Asia Pacific and the Middle East. We believe that commitment to these geographies is important in growing our business. We expect an increase in the percentage of our global workforce comprised of local employees and consultants, and diversity is a key strategic priority as part of our globalization efforts.
- d. Hyper-Automation: is about driving efficiency in business process and technology operations through deployment of robotics and cognitive automation, through Wipro HOLMES. Wipro HOLMES helps enterprises hyper-automate processes and offload specific cognitive tasks to the artificial intelligence (AI) platform to gain agility, enhanced user experience and cost efficiencies. Wipro HOLMES helps businesses adopt a hybrid mode of operation (i.e., pairing automation and human effort), which is achieved through a combination of virtual agents, predictive systems, cognitive process automation, visual computing applications, knowledge virtualization and AI reasoning. We also offer automation advisory services to help clients in their journey of AI/Automation through designing Automation roadmap and setting up Centers of Excellence for automation initiatives. In addition to the Wipro HOLMES platform, we are building a collaboration ecosystem for automation, working with partners such as Robotics Process Automation providers, startups, and established partners. Over 3,000 employees have been trained and certified on AI/ML.

b. Acting Responsibly

At Wipro, we think it is critical for businesses to engage with the multiple social and ecological challenges that face us. We have classified eight sustainability mega

Grievance Redressal

Wipro is committed to the highest standards of openness, probity and accountability. Having a robust whistle-blower policy that allows employees and other stakeholder to raise concern in confidence is an essential condition for a transparent and ethical company. This ensures a robust mechanism is in place, which allows employees, non-employees, partners, customers, suppliers and other members of public to voice concern in a responsible and effective manner.

Under Ombuds Policy adopted by each of our businesses, all complaints are addressed to Ombuds and investigative findings are reviewed and approved by Chief Ombudsperson who reports into Compliance Committee. Dedicated email address (ombuds.person@wipro.com) are created to facilitate receipt of complains and for ease of reporting. The company has a 24x7 hotline where the concern can be communicated through telephone call. All employees and stakeholders can register their concern either through web-based portal or at www.wiproombuds.com. The toll free numbers provides global languages options. Following an investigation, a decision is made by the appropriate authority on the action to be taken basis the findings of the investigation. In case the complainant is non-responsive for more than 15 days, the concern may be closed without further action.

1,526 complaints were received via the Ombuds process and 1,532 complaints were closed (including some from previous year) in FY 2018. All cases were investigated and actions taken as deemed appropriate. Based on self-disclosure data, 20.5% of these were reported anonymously. The top categories of complaints were people processes at 42% and workplace concerns and harassment at 23%. The majority of cases (71%) were resolved through engagement of human resources or mediation, or closed since they were unsubstantiated.

Wipro has a policy and framework for employees to report sexual harassment cases at workplace and our process ensures complete anonymity and confidentiality of information. Adequate workshops and awareness programs against sexual harassment are conducted across the organization. A total of 101 complaints of sexual harassment were raised in the calendar year 2017, of which 92 cases were disposed and appropriate actions were taken in all cases within the statutory timelines. This includes all cases reported in the system, even if unsubstantiated. In some cases, a clear action has been taken (warning or separation) and the rest of the cases have been resolved through counseling or other specific actions.

Capitals and Value Creation

In this section we cover Wipro's approach to value creation across the five capitals namely financial, intellectual, human, social and relationship and natural.

- a. Financial Capital is broadly understood as the pool of funds available to an organization. Financial capital also serves as a medium of exchange that can obtain value through conversion into other forms of capital.
- b. Intellectual Capital is broadly organizational, knowledge-based intangibles, including intellectual property, such as patents, copyrights, software, rights and licences and 'organizational capital' such as tacit knowledge, systems, procedures and protocols.
- c. Human Capital is broadly people's competencies, capabilities and experience, being continuously innovative and contribute to the organizations shared goals and values .
- d. Social and Relationship Capital is broadly the institutions and the relationships within and between communities, groups of stakeholders and other networks, and the ability to share information to enhance individual and collective well-being such as customers, investors and suppliers.
- e. Natural Capital is broadly all renewable and nonrenewable environmental resources and processes that provide goods or services that support the past, current or future prosperity of an organization. It includes air, water, land, minerals, forests, biodiversity and eco-system health.

Manufactured Capital is broadly seen as human-created, production-oriented equipment and tools. For the IT services business, these are the fixed assets like buildings, IT hardware and telecommunication equipment. The deployment of the capital is adequately represented in financial capital and through impacts to natural capital. Hence this report does not cover manufactured capital separately.

- For segment reporting, we have included the impact of exchange rate fluctuations in revenue. Excluding the impact of exchange rate fluctuations, revenue, as reported in our statements of income, is ₹550,402 million and ₹544,871 million for the years ended March 31, 2017 and 2018, respectively. Further, finance income on deferred consideration earned under multi-year payment terms in certain total outsourcing contracts is included in the revenue of the respective segment and is eliminated under reconciling items.
- Gross margin and operating margin as a percentage of revenue for year ended March 31, 2017 have been calculated by including Other Operating Income with Revenue.
- Earnings per share for the year ended March 31, 2017, have been proportionately adjusted for the bonus issue in the ratio of 1:1 as approved by the shareholders on June 03, 2017.

Revenue: Our consolidated revenue, in INR terms, declined by 1.4%, primarily due to decreased revenue in the Communications and Healthcare and Lifesciences verticals. Revenue from the Communications vertical has declined due to the loss of a client, which declared bankruptcy, and due to ramp downs in a few large projects. Revenue from the Healthcare and Lifesciences verticals has declined due to uncertainties around regulatory changes relating to the Affordable Care Act, and appreciation of the Indian Rupee against currencies other than US Dollar. Banking, Financial Services and Insurance verticals registered growth in revenue. In the IT products segment, revenue declined by 30.6%, primarily due to our focus on being a system integrator of choice where we provide IT products as a complement to our IT services offerings rather than sell standalone IT products.

Selling and Marketing expenses: Increased by 3.8% in absolute terms, primarily on account of increases in employee compensation, marketing and brand building charges, offset by the decrease in amortization and impairment charges for intangible assets recognized through business combinations in the year ended March 31, 2018 as compared to the year ended March 31, 2017.

General and Administrative expenses: Increased by 6.6% in absolute terms, primarily due to impairment of receivables and deferred contract cost arising on account of insolvency of two of our customers.

Other operating income: During the year ended March 31, 2017, we had concluded the sale of our EcoEnergy division for a consideration of ₹4,670 million. The net gain from the sale, amounting to ₹4,082 million, had been recorded as 'other operating income'.

Finance expenses: Our finance expenses decreased from ₹5,942 million for the year ended March 31, 2017 to ₹5,830 million for the year ended March 31, 2018. This decrease is primarily due to a decrease of ₹888 million in exchange loss on foreign currency borrowings and related derivative instruments, which was partially offset by an increase in interest expense by ₹776 million primarily on account of increase in long term borrowings during the year ended March 31, 2018.

Finance and Other income: Our finance and other income increased from ₹22,419 million for the year ended March 31, 2017 to ₹23,999 million for the year ended March 31, 2018. The increase is arising from increase in gains from investments by ₹1,542 million during the year ended March 31, 2018 as compared to the year ended March 31, 2017, due to increase in the average investment held during the year.

Income taxes: Our income taxes decreased by ₹2,823 million from ₹25,213 million for the year ended March 31, 2017 to ₹22,390 million for the year ended March 31, 2018.

Our effective tax rate decreased from 22.8% for the year ended March 31, 2017 to 21.8% for the year ended March 31, 2018, primarily on account of the re-statement of deferred tax items pursuant to "Tax Cuts and Jobs Act," which was signed into law on December 22, 2017. As a result of the operational structure of the Company, it is possible that the application of the recently enacted US tax reform legislation may not have a material and adverse impact on our operating results, cash flows and financial condition. We are still evaluating the impact of this legislation on our business.

Segment results: As a result of the above factors, our operating margin decreased by 139 bps to 15.4%. Adjusted for the impact arising out of insolvency of two of our customers, the operating income and operating margin for FY 2018 was ₹88,906 and 16.3% respectively, a decrease of 5.3% in absolute terms, as compared to FY 2017.

Profit: Profit attributable to non-controlling interest has decreased from ₹248 million for the year ended March 31, 2017 to ₹3 million for the year ended March 31, 2018.

Significant changes in ratios: Our interest coverage ratio has reduced by 30.4% due to increased borrowings to fund the acquisitions made in the second half of FY 2017 and in the year ended March 31, 2018. However, it is important to note that our Earnings before Interest and Tax covers Interest Expense approximately 24 times during the year. The other financial ratios, such as debtors turnover ratio, current ratio, debt equity ratio, operating margin and net profit margin, have not varied more than 25% as compared to the previous financial year.

Resource Allocation Strategy

Cash generated from operations is our primary source of liquidity. We believe that our cash and cash equivalents along with cash generated from operations will be sufficient to meet our working capital requirements as well as repayment obligations with respect to debt and borrowings. Our choices of sources of funding will be driven with the objective of maintaining an optimal capital structure.

We maintain a debt/borrowing level that we have established through consideration of a number of factors including cash flow expectations, cash required for operations and investment plans. We continually monitor our funding requirements, and strategies are executed to maintain sufficient flexibility to access global funding sources, as needed. Please refer to Note 12 of our Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional details on our borrowings.

The Company's cash flow from its operating, investing and financing activities, as reflected in the Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows, is summarized in the table below:

(Figures in ₹ million except otherwise stated)

Net cash provided by/ (used in) :	FY 2017	FY 2018	YOY changes
Operating activities	92,773	84,233	(8,540)
Investing activities	(116,283)	35,578	151,861
Financing activities	(22,752)	(129,978)	(107,226)
Net change in cash and cash equivalents	(46,262)	(10,167)	36,095
Effect of exchange rate changes	(1,412)	375	1,787
Cash and cash equivalent at the end of the period	50,718	40,926	(9,792)

As of March 31, 2018, we had cash and cash equivalent and short-term investments of ₹294,019 million. Cash and cash equivalent and short-term investments, net of debt, was ₹155,760 million.

In addition, we have unutilized credit lines of ₹53,483 million. To utilize these lines of credit, we require the consent of the lender and compliance with certain financial covenants. We have historically financed our working capital and capital expenditures through our operating cash flows and through bank debt, as required.

Cash Generated from Operating Activities: Cash generated by operating activities for the year ended March 31, 2018 decreased by ₹8,540 million while net profit for the year decreased by ₹5,059 million during the same period. The decrease in cash generated by operating activities is primarily due to increased working capital requirements.

Cash Generated from Investing Activities: Cash generated from investing activities for the year ended March 31, 2018 was ₹35,578 million. The cash generated from sale of investments (net of purchases) amounted to ₹47,973 million. Cash utilized for the payment for business acquisitions amounted to ₹6,652. We purchased property, plant and equipment amounted to ₹21,870 million which was primarily driven by the growth strategy of the Company.

Cash Generated from Financing Activities: Cash used in financing activities for the year ended March 31, 2018 was ₹129,978 million as against ₹22,752 million for the year ended March 31, 2017. This is primarily due to a decrease in net proceeds of loans and borrowings amounting to ₹24,102 million. Payment toward the dividend including dividend distribution tax and buy back of shares for the year ended March 31, 2018 amounted to ₹115,732 million. Dividends paid in the year ended March 31, 2018 represents interim (and final) dividend declared for the year ended March 31, 2018 amounting to ₹1 per share.

As of March 31, 2018, we had contractual commitments of ₹13,091 million related to capital expenditures on construction or expansion of software development facilities, ₹21,010 million related to non-cancelable operating lease obligations and ₹28,201 million related to other purchase obligations. Plans to construct or expand our software development facilities are determined by our business requirements.

Shareholder Returns

We continue to enhance shareholders value through bonus, dividends and share repurchases. There is no change in our philosophy on shareholder return and we will continue to provide regular, stable and consistent returns.

Dividend: The cash dividend paid per equity share during the year ended March 31, 2018 was interim dividend of ₹1. The Board recommended the adoption of the interim dividend of ₹1 per equity share as the final dividend for the year ended March 31, 2018.

Bonus: On April 25, 2017, our Board approved the issue of stock dividend, commonly known as issue of bonus shares in India, subject to shareholder approval. June 14, 2017 was fixed as the record date for this purpose. The Companies Act, 2013 permits a company to distribute an amount transferred from the free reserves or other permitted reserves, including share premium account, to its shareholders in the form of bonus shares, which are similar to a stock dividend. The bonus issue in the proportion of 1:1 i.e.1 (One) bonus equity share of ₹2 each for every 1 (one) fully paid-up equity share held (including ADS holders) was approved by the shareholders of the Company through resolution dated June 03, 2017 through postal ballot/ e-voting. Consequently, 2,433,074,327 shares have been issued and ₹4,866 million (representing par value of ₹2 per share) has been transferred from retained earnings to share capital.

Buyback: During the year ended March 31, 2018, the Company has concluded the buyback of 343.75 million equity shares at a price of ₹320 per equity share, as approved by the Board of Directors on July 20, 2017 and by shareholder through resolution dated August 28, 2017 through postal ballot/ e-voting. This has resulted in a total cash outflow of ₹110,000 million. Consequent to such buy back, share capital has reduced by ₹687 million.

Assessment of Key Risks

- a. Global economic crisis: We derive approximately 53% of our IT Services revenue from the Americas (including the United States) and 26% of our IT Services revenue from Europe. If the economy in the Americas or Europe continues to be volatile or conditions in the global financial market deteriorate, pricing for our services may become less attractive and our clients located in these geographies may reduce or postpone their technology spending significantly. Reduction in spending on IT services may lower the demand for our services and negatively affect our revenue and profitability. Our clients are concentrated in certain key industries. Any significant decrease in the growth of any one of these industries, or widespread changes in any such industry, may reduce or alter the demand for our services and adversely affect our revenue and profitability.
- b. Taxation risks: Our profits for the period earned from providing services at client premises outside India are subject to tax in the country where we perform the work. Most of our taxes paid in countries other than India can be applied as a credit against our Indian tax liability to the extent that the same income is subject to taxation in India. Currently, we benefit from certain tax incentives under Indian tax laws. These tax incentives include a tax holiday from payment of Indian corporate income taxes for our businesses operating from specially designated Special Economic Zones (SEZs). Changes to these incentives and other exemptions we receive due to government policies can impact our financial performance.
- c. Wage pressure: Our wage costs in emerging markets have historically been significantly lower than wage costs in the developed markets for comparably skilled professionals, and this has been one of our competitive advantages. However, wage increases in emerging markets may prevent us from sustaining this competitive advantage and may negatively affect our profit margins. We may need to increase the levels of our employee compensation more rapidly than in the past to retain talent. Unless we are able to continue to increase the efficiency and productivity of our employees over the long term, wage increases may reduce our profit margins. Inability to provide adequate wage increase may result in attrition and impact competitiveness.
- d. General market risk: Market risk is the risk of loss of future earnings, to fair values or to future cash flows that may result from a change in the price of a financial instrument. The value of a financial instrument may change as a result of changes in the interest rates, foreign currency exchange rates and other market changes that affect market risk sensitive instruments. Market risk is attributable to all market risk sensitive financial instruments including investments, foreign currency receivables, payables and loans and borrowings. Our exposure to market risk is a function of investment and borrowing activities and revenue generating activities in foreign currency. The objective of market risk management is to avoid excessive exposure of our earnings and equity to losses.

Components of Market Risks

- Foreign currency risk: A significant portion of our revenue is in US Dollars, United Kingdom Pound Sterling, Euros, Australian Dollars and Canadian Dollars while a large portion of our costs are in Indian Rupees. The exchange rates between the Indian Rupee and these currencies have fluctuated significantly in recent years and may continue to fluctuate in the future. Appreciation of the Indian Rupee against these currencies can adversely affect our results of operations. Consequently, the Company is exposed to foreign exchange risk through receiving payment for sales and services in foreign currencies, and making purchases from overseas suppliers in various foreign currencies. The exchange rate risk primarily arises from foreign exchange revenue, receivables, cash balances, forecasted cash flows, payables and foreign currency loans and borrowings. As of March 31, 2018, a ₹1 increase/decrease in the spot exchange rate of the Indian Rupee with the US Dollar would result in approximately ₹1,500 million decrease/increase in the fair value of our foreign currency dollar denominated derivative instruments.
- Interest rate risk: Interest rate risk primarily arises from floating rate borrowing, including various revolving and other lines of credit. The Company's investments are primarily in short-term investments, which do not expose it to significant interest rate risk. The Company manages its net exposure to interest rate risk relating to borrowings by entering into interest rate swap agreements, which allows it to exchange periodic payments based on a notional amount and agreed upon fixed and floating interest rates. Certain borrowings are also transacted at fixed interest rates. If interest rates were to increase by 100 bps from March 31, 2018, additional net annual interest expense on floating rate borrowing would amount to approximately ₹1,186 million.
- Credit risk: Credit risk arises from the possibility that customers may not be able to settle their obligations as agreed. To manage this, the Company periodically assesses the financial reliability of customers, taking into account the financial condition, current economic trends, analysis of historical bad debts and ageing of accounts receivable. Individual risk limits are set accordingly. No single customer accounted for more than 10% of the accounts receivable as of March 31, 2017 and 2018, respectively and revenue for the year ended March 31, 2016, 2017 and 2018, respectively. There is no significant concentration of credit risk.

- Counterparty risk: Counterparty risk encompasses issuer risk on marketable securities, settlement risk on derivative and money market contracts and credit risk on cash and time deposits. Issuer risk is minimized by buying securities in India which are at least AA rated by Indian rating agencies. Settlement and credit risk is reduced by the policy of entering into transactions with counterparties that are usually banks or financial institutions with acceptable credit ratings. Exposure to these risks are closely monitored and maintained within predetermined parameters. There are limits on credit exposure to any financial institution. The limits are regularly assessed and determined based upon credit analysis including financial statements and capital adequacy ratio reviews. Our counterparties are primarily banks and financial institutions and the Company considers the risk of non-performance by the counterparty as non-material.
- Liquidity risk: Liquidity risk is defined as the risk that we will not be able to settle or meet our obligations on time or at a reasonable price. Management monitors the Company's net liquidity position through rolling forecasts on the basis of expected cash flows. As of March 31, 2017, our cash and cash equivalents are held with major banks and financial institutions. Our Gross cash and cash equivalent and short-term investments of ₹294,019 million. Cash and cash equivalent and short-term investments, net of debt, was ₹155,760 million.

Risk Management Procedures

We manage market risk through a corporate treasury department, which evaluates and exercises independent control over the entire process of market risk management. Our corporate treasury department recommends risk management objectives and policies, which are approved by senior management and Audit Committee. The activities of this department include management of cash resources, implementing hedging strategies for foreign currency exposures, borrowing strategies, and ensuring compliance with market risk limits and policies.

Foreign Exchange Risk Management Policy and Results

We evaluate our forex rate exposure arising from operations and enter into foreign currency derivative instruments to mitigate such exposure. We have a consistent hedging policy, designed to minimize the impact of volatility in foreign exchange fluctuations on earnings, assets and liabilities.

We evaluate exchange rate exposure arising from transactions and positions and enter into foreign currency derivative instruments to mitigate such exposure. We follow established risk management policies, including the use of derivatives like foreign exchange forward / option / future contracts to hedge forecasted cash flows denominated in foreign currency. As per the policy, the total hedges shall be 50% to 100% of the next four quarters of inflows in addition to select long term contracts which are beyond one year in tenor.

We have designated certain derivative instruments as cash flow hedges to mitigate the impact of foreign exchange exposure on Profit and Loss account and forecasted highly probable cash flows. We have also designated foreign currency borrowings as hedges against respective net investments in foreign operations.

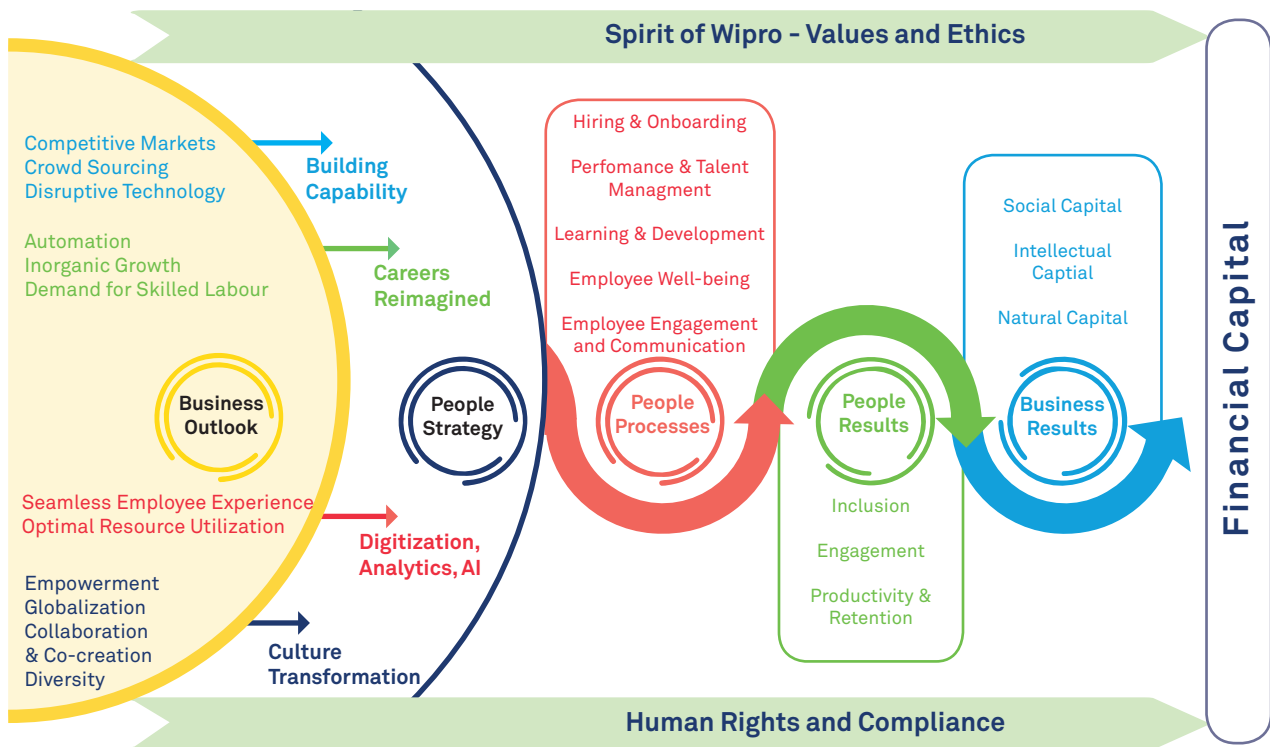

Our Hedge Book as on March 31, 2018 stood at $2.4 billion.

Internal control systems and their adequacy

We have presence across multiple countries, and a large number of employees, suppliers and other partners collaborate to provide solutions to our customer needs. Robust internal controls and scalable processes are imperative to manage the global scale of operations.

Management has laid down internal financial controls to be followed by the Company. We have adopted policies and procedures for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of the business, including adherence to the Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial disclosures.

Human Capital

Human Capital Value Chain – Working Ethically and Upholding Human Rights

Our human capital interventions are driven by the dynamic business landscape we operate in. Today, innovations like artificial intelligence, automation and analytics are disrupting traditional business models, and opening up newer opportunities and revenue streams for us. Since millennials form a majority of our 163,827 strong employee-base, we are dealing with newer challenges, expectations and employer-employee relationships at the workplace. Competitive labour markets, diverse teams, evolving employee needs and aspirations, coupled with the tectonic shifts in the technology landscape are shaping the way we attract, develop and retain top talent.

Our human capital value chain consists of people strategies which are based on current and future business requirements. Our policies, processes and systems flow from these strategies which encompass the lifecycle of our employees. Finally, the outcomes of these people interventions are reflected through our people result indicators, which directly or indirectly contribute to the intellectual, social, natural and financial capital of Wipro. Throughout this value chain, our strategies, processes and policies reflect an unflinching commitment to the Spirit of Wipro, our values as well as globally-recognized principles of business responsibility and human rights.

Human Rights & Values at Wipro

- Our Company-wide Code of Business Conduct (COBC), Spirit of Wipro Values and Human Rights Policy express our commitment to do business ethically and embrace practices that support environment, human rights, and labour laws around the world. Our entire workforce is covered and trained on the COBC guidelines.
- Our COBC and Human Rights Policy are aligned to globally accepted standards and frameworks like the U.N. Global Compact, U.N. Universal Declaration of Human Rights and International Labour Organization's Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work (ILO Declaration). Wipro is also one of the founding members of CII's Business for Human Rights Initiative.
- Our commitment to human rights covers employees, suppliers, clients, communities and countries across geographies where we do business.
- We have established committees / processes like the Ombuds process, Prevention of Sexual Harassment Committee, Audit/Risk & Compliance committees and an Inclusion & Diversity Council to review progress and formulate strategies to address material issues pertaining to compliance, safety and a harassment-free workplace. We constantly keep our employees informed about these processes through trainings, mailers and internal social media platforms.

People Processes: Key Highlights FY 2018

Hiring and Onboarding

We are an equal opportunity employer and focus on meritocracy at all stages of the hiring and deployment process, including role-mapping and remuneration. Localization continues to be a strategic focus for our talent agenda and we have made considerable progress in this area in our key markets. We have a robust process to source and select the best talent, both for entry-level roles as well as lateral hires through our website, channel partners, job fairs, campus placements, and internal job postings. Our comprehensive onboarding program helps assimilate new talent seamlessly within the organization.

In FY 2018, we moved towards digitizing our campus hiring process by using interview bots thus bringing in higher rigour and quality to our selection. Our recruitment process has become more inclusive with diversity-focused sourcing and engaging with veterans in the U.S.A. Global 100 Program continues to be a key focus and has successfully brought in diverse talent across the globe who are engaged in impactful work and are groomed into potential leaders of the future.

Performance and Talent Management

Our performance management system is designed to achieve holistic development for all our employees through performance differentiation, transparency, and effective evaluation. Our quarterly review process introduced in 2016-17, continues to be a strong platform to encourage feedforward discussions that are candid, constructive and meaningful. An Agile Performance Management system is in place for specific job requirements of certain roles. We also have an annual 360-degree feedback process for employees in middle and senior management roles where they are evaluated on their leadership competencies. Appropriate development plans and interventions are then charted out based on discussions between managers and employees. Additionally, each Unit also has a formal Talent Review and Planning process to identify, train and develop key resources. Executive coaching is provided to top leadership to facilitate their all-round development.

Talent Marketplace, an online platform has enabled internal role fulfilment for senior roles. The objective of the initiative is to connect the right talent to available opportunities within the organization. In FY18, internal redeployment was at 68% for senior/strategic roles.

Learning and Development

We have a comprehensive Learning and Development program which caters to the behavioural, technical and leadership needs of our workforce. Our curriculum includes classroom courses, on-the-job-trainings, blended learning, social learning, mentoring and gamified modules to suit the diverse needs of the participants. We continuously align our learning and development investments with the business imperatives as well as the evolving expectations of our employees. We believe, that these programs help build capabilities in new and emerging technologies, which in turn enables our employees to deliver value to our clients, leading to better Customer Satisfaction Scores (CSAT).

Equal Opportunity to Learn, Anytime, Anywhere

52,000+ employees are using TopGear, a social learning and crowdsourcing platform. Learning on emerging technologies is enabled through 80+ cloud based development environments, 1,000+ Learning assignments and 435 real life projects.

We have created 250+ learning videos which are accessible on mobile. We have enabled learning through social learning platforms, revamped our Learning Management System and put special emphasis on hands-on trainings and assessments. We provide equal learning opportunities to all our employees, where they can nominate themselves for any technical or behavioral course of their choice and get trained.

Digital Upskilling

Our core focus is to keep pace with the disruptive speed at which Wipro is growing in the Digital space and how we can make our employees future-ready from a capability standpoint. We have trained over 90,000 employees in digital skills as of FY 2018. We are enabling the delivery leadership through a program called ADAPT where 100% of our Delivery Managers and a high number of Delivery Heads are being trained on such skills.

Building Sales and Delivery Capability

We have scaled our programs which impart key behavioral competencies required to service clients effectively such as ADROIT, EMPOWER, Design Thinking and WinMore: Account Mining for Growth. 8,000+ Delivery Leaders, Program Managers, Project Managers, Architects and Presales leaders participated in these programs.

We have sustained interventions like OneVoice, LeadNxt and Leading Global Teams to manage the softer aspects like customer focus, leadership development and inclusion respectively. To encourage faster internal deployment to sales roles, we are successfully training employees from delivery/presales teams through the PRISM program.

Employee Well-being

Our employee wellness programs encompass the three areas of employee well-being, namely physical, emotional and financial well-being.

Physical well-being

- a. Safety Standards: We have implemented strict safety standards at all our facilities and operations, based on global best practices and regulatory requirements. We have well-defined policies and standard operating procedures to ensure the safety of women employees inside and outside the campus. These include Safety Awareness Programs, Global 24x7 Security Command Centre, cab pick-up/ drop facility with escort, mobile apps to confirm "Safe Reach", among others.
- b. Sensitization: Periodic employee connect programs are conducted to raise awareness among employees on safe workplace standards and practices. Sessions on employee health and wellness are regularly held across Wipro locations.

- c. Health: We have 27 Occupational Health Centers and 7 Ergonomic Centers across Wipro India locations which help in awareness on ergonomic-related illnesses and upper respiratory infections among our workforce.
- d. Risk Assessment: We have established a robust and an integrated Risk Assessment process for Initial Environmental Review and Hazard Identification. We conduct periodic as well as annual assessments of our campuses/offices. Employees, stakeholders and service providers are part of the risk assessment process. Locations with more than 2,000 employees have safety committees which meet quarterly and participate in risk assessments, safety inspections, incident investigations and hygiene audits. Other locations report work place hazards in the Health Safety and Environment (HSE) portal which get addressed in city-wise committee meetings.

Coverage of Training

Occupational Health and Safety Assessment Series (OHSAS) certification coverage = 90% of the employees covered across 22 locations in India.

136,000+ employees, contractors and service providers attended trainings on Health & Safety.

Cafeteria – FSSAI coverage

Food Safety Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) license is mandatory for vendors operating within Wipro-owned locations in India. Regular inspections and audits are performed by both internal and external teams to ensure compliance.

Participation in committees

2,800+ permanent and contract employees participated in committees on safety, food, transport, etc. across India, to represent the interests of the workforce.

Emotional well-being

Mitr is our employee counselling and support forum in India. It enables employees to reach out to counsellors 24x7 in-person and/or on phone to seek assistance for issues pertaining to personal or professional life. In geographies outside India, we have employee counselling services provided as a part of Employee Assistance Programs.

Financial well-being

We continually strive to provide our full-time and part-time employees with compensation packages commensurate with their skills and experience. Our benefits program takes an integrated approach and provides a range of options for better financial and social security, including efficient tax-management options, life and accidental insurance, medical packages and assistance in managing financial issues. We started providing long term incentives by granting restricted stock units (RSU's) in 2004 towards long term retention of key talent. We continue to drive a high-performance culture through our variable pay programs. Our management compensation is now more closely aligned with organizational objectives and commitments, and rewards higher performance, significantly.

Employee Engagement and Communication

To facilitate open channels of feedback and communication within the organization, on our values, rights, policies and processes, apart from sending regular updates via org-wide mailers, we have instituted town halls, Yammer blogs, Wipro Meets' sessions with the CEO and senior leadership teams as well as group and individual connect sessions with the human resources teams.

Wipro OnAir – Global Podcast Series

Within a year of its launch, the podcast has received over 280,000 hits. The Wipro OnAir group on Yammer is one of the most engaged groups with 27,000 members.

Yammer – Internal Social Network

Since its launch in 2014, we have had over 103,500 users, who shared over 2.5 million messages, and formed 10,000 groups. It is currently the largest social engagement tool at Wipro.

Microsoft Teams – Collaboration Platform

Since its launch in 2017, we have had over 36,000 users using Microsoft Teams with 60,000+ team conversations across mobile/desktop/browser channels.

Human Rights Due Diligence & Assessment

Structured interventions like our grievance redressal process of Prevention of Sexual Harassment (POSH) and Ombuds, Employee Perception Survey (EPS), Contract Employee Engagement, governance reviews with Health Committees, Audit Risk & Compliance Board and Inclusion & Diversity Council, help us to proactively identify and mitigate risks on human rights and any other organization processes.

Our due diligence & assessment process has identified the following impacted groups/issues –i) benefits extended to contract workforce ii) unconscious bias at workplace. The key engagement platforms and actions taken are:

- a. Employee Perception Survey: EPS is the formal mechanism to capture employee feedback. This is done through (1) Biennial Employee Perception Survey (EPS), and (2) a shorter dipstick survey (EPS Pulse) which is held between two EPS cycles. Our in-house built EPS analytics tool provides breakdown of the results at various levels e.g. geography, business unit, gender, career levels, age, nationality, tenure and enables us to formulate action plans. EPS 2017 results have already been analyzed and action areas based on employee feedback have been finalized for the coming year.

Based on employee feedback, we have simplified several of our systems and processes, introduced policies that allow greater flexibility, at work, launched initiatives to promote greater collaboration, among others.

- b. Contract Employee Engagement: Our focus on responsible people practices extends across our people value chain, and covers our contract employees as well. A dedicated team performs the complete employee lifecycle management for contract employees deployed on IT delivery projects. Audits are conducted on the empaneled partner to ensure that they comply with the human rights, statutory and labour compliance.
 - Through client-site visits and open house meetings, we connect with contract employees to understand their needs and concerns. Meet Matters is one such forum for partner employees to interact with their employer.

- We have introduced several initiatives, including a chatbot and a new claims system for our partner employees that enable a more simplified and smoother experience at work. Through an online learning system, they can also develop various skills and competencies.

Our people supply chain includes temporary workers who are in soft service functions such as Housekeeping, Security, etc. We protect the interest of such workers by ensuring that the contract agency complies with the Supplier Code of Conduct. We safeguard Human Rights by ensuring that the salaries of all workers comply with the relevant minimum wages legislations and by providing them with appropriate working conditions.

- c. Inclusion and Diversity: Our strategic focus today is to become more “Inclusive” than merely representing our “Diversity” through numbers. We have a two-pronged approach towards achieving our goals (1) we constantly build Inclusion as a Way of Life within our culture. Our culture is rooted in the principles of respect, fairness and equality. (2) We focus on policies and processes that create and reinforce Inclusion.

The entire organization, beginning with our leadership, is aligned with our I&D vision. Our CEO is the Executive Sponsor of the I&D Council. Further, I&D is a key agenda item for our Board Reviews.

Our focus areas include Gender, Persons with Disabilities, nationalities, underprivileged communities, suppliers, and more recently, LGBT community.

Across the spectrum, we focus on building plurality of ideas and on the elimination of unconscious bias.

We are deeply committed to promoting inclusivity and diversity at the workplace. The Board and I&D council regularly monitor key indicators in this area. Though we have made significant progress, we recognise that a lot more needs to be done. For example, even as the gender pay ratio is close to 1 at junior levels, the gap widens by 5-10% at middle and senior levels. This points to the need to increase the representation of women at senior positions. We will continue to encourage and support more women to assume high impact leadership roles in the organization.

Sensitization on Unconscious Bias

Apart from focussed training programs, we have initiated conversations through leaders on our internal social media platform, which encourage a deeper understanding and awareness of inclusive behaviors, cultures and unconscious bias.

Key Gender Inclusion Programs

An exclusive mentoring program launched for young mothers who are returning to work from their maternity break.

WoW Nxt Career Advancement Program launched to enable women in junior management to take on middle management roles.

1,000+ women covered through focused women enablement programs including mentoring at various levels.

Inclusion & Diversity Speaker Series: 40+ Speakers.

Accessibility Initiatives for Persons with Disability

300+ employees sensitized on disability-related issues such, including the Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act (RPWDA), and how to hire and include PWD at the workplace. Sensitization sessions also included speaker sessions from disability advocate organizations.

100+ online applications and modules have been made accessible to employees with sensory disabilities.

60 engineers and training content developers coached on Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) standards.

Freedom of Association

We respect the right of employees to free association without fear of reprisal, discrimination, intimidation or harassment. Our employees are represented by formal employee representative groups in certain geographies including Australia, Austria, Brazil, Czech Republic, Finland, France, Germany, Ireland, Italy, Netherlands, Poland, Romania and Sweden which constitute about 2% of our workforce. The HR function meets these groups periodically to inform and consult on any change that can impact their terms and conditions / work environment. In some of these countries, Collective Bargaining agreements are required by law. We pro-actively engage with Works Councils and Unions when it comes to issues like client employee transfers, complying to local regulations.

People Results

Leaders who significantly influence human capital strategies of the organization are measured on the performance of key indicators in this area. The indicators provide insights into the effectiveness of human capital strategies and are reviewed regularly both at organizational and individual business unit levels. The key indicators are:

Wipro won the "Asia IP Elite" award from the Intellectual Asset Management publication for the fifth consecutive year for best IP Practices.

Social & Relationship Capital

Organizations earn and maintain their societal license to operate by adopting a boundary-less perspective with respect to their stakeholders. Social value and capital is created when a business co-creates positive outcomes with its customers, business partners, vendors, employees, investors, communities and civil society. To this we also add another key stakeholder into the frame – future generations, a perspective that helps to also bring in voices from the unrepresented, but are core to create a sustainable society.

Customers

Wipro believes in creating value for the customer over and above the contracted terms. Our approach is based on our vision of delivering value to our customer businesses based on a solid relationship of trust, collaboration and competence. We ensure this by providing solutions that integrate deep industry insights, leading technologies and best in class delivery processes.

Engagement is critical to meet and understand the expectations of customers. The key to customer retention is building deep relationships. IT industry, a major driver of efficiency and productivity improvements for most businesses, is undergoing tremendous change in the face of disruptive technologies. The Business Strategy section outlines the drivers and how it informs our business model, offerings and customer engagement approach.

From a sustainability perspective, the most material issues for our customers include Data privacy, IT Security and compliance on sustainability related aspects. The World Economic Forum Global Risks Report 2018 lists large-scale IT security issues and data fraud/thefts among the top 10 in terms of likelihood and impact. Sustainability Accounting Standard Board (SASB) standard for software and IT services also lists these as being material to the sector.

IT Security: Wipro's IT infrastructure is certified under the ISO 27001 standard which provides assurance in the areas of information security, physical security and business continuity. We benchmark our processes to meet the EU's General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and SOX IT compliance requirements. We closely monitor IT infrastructure availability incidents based on severity, outage duration and users impacted. Most of the incidents are related to telecommunications and network links. We have maintained SLA with vendors on IT and telecom infrastructure availability close to 99.99% in the reporting year.

Data Privacy: Being a B2B business, Wipro does not collect, store or monetize information pertaining to our customers' attributes or actions, including but not limited to, records of communications, content of communications, demographic data, behavioral data, location data, or any other personally identifiable information. Therefore, our company does not receive requests for customer information from government or law enforcement agencies. Wipro does not store any customer proprietary data in its systems and networks. In rare circumstances where, as part of project requirement, it is needed to view customer data, it is accessed remotely - with the data being stored and hosted on the customer's systems. This helps in meeting data privacy compliance requirements from a contractual & operational perspective since it is Wipro's customers that are in control of their own data, even while outsourcing project work to Wipro. Wipro signs Master Services Agreements with its customers that have clauses covering confidentiality of the customer's information. Wherever applicable, Wipro also executes Business Associate Agreements with its customers who are governed by sectoral privacy regulations such as HIPAA (Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act) of 1996. As a matter of due process, a customer is notified in the event of any breach of data privacy as per notification procedure agreed in the contract. In Wipro's BPS (Business Process Services) business, technical help-desk and process outsourcing in areas like human resources, finance accounting, procurement and retail are provided. Like in IT services, all customer data is stored in customer systems and there are multiple process layers before the data is presented to the customer support executive, with appropriate controls and auditing mechanisms. In the reporting year, there were no substantiated incidents concerning breaches of customer privacy and / or loss of customer data.

Sustainability: Apart from technology driven value creation, our global customers also expect transparency and compliance on different sustainability aspects within our operations and in our extended value chain – Human Rights, Labour Practices and Diversity being key dimensions among them. Many customers require acceptance and alignment with their supplier code of conduct. We have close to 200 of our customers who are part of independent raters like Ecovadis , Verego and industry led consortiums like the JAC (Joint Audit Consortium), Pharmaceutical Supply Chain Initiative (PSCI) and Quest Forum (Focusing on Quality and Sustainability in ICT community). We also respond to CDP supply chain with information on our GHG emissions attributable to the work we do for specific customers and as a corollary , on collaboration opportunities with those customers on GHG mitigation.

Suppliers

Managing and mitigating the environmental and social impacts of one's supply chain are interlinked to effective economic outcomes over the long term – they can help businesses avoid disruptions, meet evolving customer requirements, foster innovation and protect the company's reputation and brand value. It can also help further the business imperatives of efficiency, cost effectiveness and resilience in the supply chain. The supplier ecosystem of Wipro can be broadly categorized into two heads - contract employees involved in core delivery of IT Services and Solutions (refer the Human Capital section); and 'product or services supply chain' or 'secondary supply chain' which comprises suppliers who provide products, business support services and facility management services for our operations.

Our Code of Business Conduct (COBC) and the Spirit of Wipro values provide the ethical guidelines and expectations for conducting business and for directing Wipro's relationship with its suppliers. The code is applicable to all suppliers, agents, service providers, channel partners, dealers and distributors. In addition to the COBC, the Supplier Code of Conduct (SCOC) of Wipro further strengthens and augments the COBC with respect to environmental and social aspects (including key aspects of human rights) of business practices and sets clear expectations from our supply chain. All decisions related to procurement are governed by our procurement policy which addresses social and environmental aspects like green procurement, supplier diversity, equal opportunity in sourcing and accessibility of goods and services for people with disabilities.

Our Supply Chain engagement has been a journey where sustainability has increasingly become central. Our engagement approach is multi-pronged with the focus on improving the capabilities of suppliers in managing their sustainability performance. Manpower service providers in civil, operations and support services is a category identified as being significant in terms of social impacts. Similarly, suppliers who provide utility products and services (electricity, water, waste management) and ICT equipment have large environmental footprints and are therefore material to our strategy to reduce our environmental impact.

A significant feature of our engagement is how we align our community or CSR (Corporate Social Responsibility) programs with supplier engagement wherever it is possible. This can address some of the fundamental issues at hand – our bridge program in education for children of migrant laborers for our new infrastructure projects, urban water programs in cities where we operate and access to social benefits for city municipal solid waste workers are some examples.

Supplier Diversity: Wipro is an Equal Opportunity employer and strongly advocates the same through its supply chain by encouraging supplier diversity. Qualified enterprises owned by persons with disability, women or member of minority communities are proactively identified and engaged with. We are restructuring our vendor empanelment process to help strengthen our supplier diversity process.

Summary of supplier sustainability engagements:

- a. During the reporting year we have conducted social audit of 128 manpower services providers spread across 7 states and 1 union territory. Employee Benefits provided and Women's Safety at workplace were identified as key issues for workers in supply chain. We are actively engaging with our suppliers to ensure they take corrective actions.
- b. Supplier Diversity Program for facilities management services at our campuses – A sensitization program was conducted and expectations have been conveyed formally through our contracting process. The gender diversity ratio for supplier staff deployed at our facilities is 25.6% .
- c. Green initiatives in ICT Hardware
 - Green Procurement – For desktops, laptops and display equipment our guidelines are in accordance with the EPEAT standard from Green Electronics Council. In 2017-18, we purchased more than 44,000 EPEAT Gold and over 8,000 EPEAT Silver category products across desktops, laptops, displays, imaging equipment and mobiles. Our purchase of EPEAT registered IT products translates to savings of approximately 15,655 MWH electricity and a reduction of 2,560 metric tons of greenhouse gas emissions in the upstream supply chain
 - Asset re-utilization beyond end of life at around 15% - Achieved through proactive maintenance and upgrades
 - Managed Print Services (MPS): This outcome-based model, where Wipro's printing services are managed through an independent third party helps generate higher operational efficiency through better controls and analytics as well as reduced resource consumption (paper, toner) and planned asset refresh. Consumables and printer issues are tracked remotely managed by MPS vendor. We have also reduced unwanted printouts by a provision to scan and send documents to respective user mailboxes.
 - Awarded runner-up in the category "Excellence in procurement - sustainability" at the CPO Forum India 2017 awards.

Investors

Our endeavour is to, not merely, report true and fair financial results in a timely manner but also communicate the business outlook, risks and opportunities transparently to the investor community. Increasingly, discerning investors are interested in the longer term strategy of the organization and issues which are material to the industry. We deploy multiple channels of communications to keep investors informed about various development and events.

Wipro's senior management leaders along with our dedicated Investor Relations team participate in various forums like investor conferences and investor road shows, in addition to hosting investors and equity analysts who visit our campus. Our quarterly results, regulatory filings, transcripts of our earnings call, media presentations and schedule of investor interactions are available at <http://www.wipro.com/investors/>

We participate in different investor led disclosures like Dow Jones Sustainability Index, Vigeo, FTSE Russell ESG, MSCI ESG and Carbon Disclosure Project. Wipro was selected as a member of the global Dow Jones Sustainability Index (DJSI) - 2017 for the eighth year in succession. Wipro is included in both the DJSI World and Emerging Markets Indices. The Euronext Vigeo Emerging Market Sustainability Index also includes Wipro among the 70 most advanced companies in the Emerging Market Region.

Communities and Civil Society

At Wipro, we think it is critical for business to engage with the social and ecological challenges that face humanity in a deep and meaningful manner with long-term commitment; for that is the only way by which real change can happen on the ground. We engage with communities on issues that matter to them most. Wipro's social initiatives center on the following dimensions. The programs on ecology are covered in the 'Natural Capital' section.

Key programs in Education

Our work in education covers a range of initiatives in school and higher education from systemic reforms to sustainability education. Apart from India, we have significant programs in U.S.A as well. The common vision that ties this together is our belief that education is a key enabler of change towards a better society.

Systemic reforms in School Education:

Over the past 17 years, we have worked to contribute to systemic reform in school education in India, through Wipro Applying Thought in Schools (WATIS). The strategy for this has been to support the development and strengthening of good organizations working in this space. We have partnered with over 101 organizations in different areas of systemic reform. The impact of this wide network of education organizations has been in the areas of curriculum, text books, teacher capacity, and school leadership. Over the last 17 years, our work has spanned 163 projects with a collective reach of close to 20,000 schools across 29 states. During 2017-18, we continued to build momentum of identifying and supporting new and young start-ups in school education through a structured program of seeding fellowships. 29 Fellows from 17 organizations were added during the year taking the total number of 'Fellows' to 60. The second element of our strategy is to support organizations working in other developmental areas like livelihoods or healthcare to expand their locus of work to school education. 15 such organizations were identified for partnering during the year. In addition, we continue to identify and partner with good early to mid-stage organizations who are already working in education. Our hope is that this three-pronged strategy will eventually help build a bulwark of strong organizations across the country which are deeply committed to change in school education. As part of network building and advocacy of such issues, our 17th national forum was organized – a unique platform that brings together the best minds in education in the country to deliberate and exchange thoughts and ideas on some of the most important issues in education.

Our target, set in 2015 is to support 100 new organizations by FY 2020. As of March 2018, we are supporting 56 new organizations.

Number of organizations with respect to thematic area

Key Highlights of the Year

Thirty-two new organizations have been supported this year; of these, 17 organizations (31 fellows) were supported through seeding fellowships and 15 through organization grants. Continued support to 7 older partnerships, 4 of which concluded this year.

17th Partner's Forum on organizational sharing was held in May 2017. The 3-day forum was a well-attended affair with over 100 participants from various organizations.

Wipro Science Education Fellowship Program in U.S.A

The Wipro Science Education Fellowship (SEF) is a significant initiative we started in U.S.A in 2013 with a focus on improving STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) learning in schools serving disadvantaged communities. Our work centers around helping teachers become better STEM educators and change leaders for STEM in their school districts. Anchored by the COSMIC center in the University of Massachusetts, the program has been widely accepted in U.S.A as an important initiative in this space. In 2017-18, we expanded our presence significantly, adding three new sites at Tampa, Florida, Jefferson City, Missouri and Mountain View, Santa Clara. We established three new partnerships for these sites with the University of Southern California, University of Missouri and Stanford University respectively. With this, the Wipro-SEF program is active in seven locations in the U.S, including the existing sites at Boston, New York, New Jersey and Dallas.

This initiative is aligned with the US federal government's priority on improving science and math education in their school system. We are satisfied with the outcomes of this program till now ; Going forward, we will start implementing our modified strategy in line with the roadmap we have laid out till 2022.

Wipro's commitment of about USD 9 million since 2013 is one of the largest such commitments made by a company outside U.S.A to the cause of improving science and math education out there.

Sustainability Education

Wipro earthian, our flagship program that brings together two of our key concerns, Education and Sustainability, into a nation-wide initiative for schools and colleges continued to expand and progress on multiple fronts in its eighth year. In the schools segment, Wipro earthian is now present in more than 30 states and union territories across India. In the past couple years, we have consciously established and expanded our outreach to the North-East in India, which is normally underserved on many counts. While our strategy for schools is centered on broad awareness building through large scale outreach, our engagement with colleges is more selective and aligned with the particular characteristics of different disciplines and institutes.

Wipro earthian covers two phases – the Wipro earthian awards program and the Continuous Engagement Program (CEP). The award program for schools engage students under two thematic areas - Water and Biodiversity. Participating schools form teams and engage in an 3 to 4 month activity in their school and communities. The CEP provides unique learning experiences for schools and colleges – through experiential workshops, internships, in-school learning material and co-creation of faculty led pedagogy material, which further accelerates sustainability learning at an institutional level.

School submission from across the country reached a new high of 1,254, primarily driven by extensive outreach and participation from North East states. Overall submissions came in from 29 states and 43 districts covered by the program.

Continued partnership with School of Sustainability, Xavier University, Bhubaneswar and MOU's with leading institutes to develop sustainability pedagogy tools for faculty across various disciplines/subjects - CEPT, Ahmedabad(Urban Planning), IIM Ahmedabad (Sustainability Business Case study development) and ICT, Mumbai (Chemical Engineering).

2 doctoral fellowships on sustainability and faculty-led research program on the theme of 'Business and Human Rights' and 'Sustainability Risk Assessment' with IIM-Bengaluru.

13 students from 4 colleges completed their internships with diverse sustainability non-profit and consultancy organizations - TRUCOST, BIOME, CSTEP, ATREE, WRI, CDP, Hasiru Dala.

6 sustainability quizzes at BITS Goa, IIM-B, IIM Kozhikode, NIT Trichy, GIM Goa and IIT Kharagpur with participation from 470 teams and 940 participants.

Technology Education

People with the right skills and competencies form the bedrock of IT services organizations. The challenge for the Indian IT industry has always been to respond fast enough to the ever rapidly changing dynamics of the industry. The present times are no different, in fact even more so with the challenge of a bewilderingly fast changing landscape of technology which is often summarized as Industry 4.0. We have always owned this as our primary responsibility. In 1995, we started a program for science graduates that would enable them to study for a post-graduate degree in engineering and technology. Called the Wipro Academy of Software Excellence (WASE) program, it helps Science graduates to study for a Masters degree in Software Engineering (M.Tech). Run in partnership with the Birla Institute of Technology & Science (BITS), Pilani, India, this unique program blends rigorous academic exposure with practical professional learning at the workplace, We run a similar program called WISTA in collaboration with Vellore Institute of Technology (VIT) for science graduates without a mathematics background. Since its inception in 1995, Wipro has supported and enabled more than 28,000 students to graduate from the WASE and WISTA programs with an MS degree in Software Engineering. During 2017-18, the total number of new entrants into the two programs was 3,274 while the aggregate strength across four years was 13,636.

Working with communities everywhere

A primary tenet of our CSR strategy is that we must engage with communities proximate to wherever we have significant operational presence in the world. We choose to work with underprivileged communities in particular. Our work is channeled through Wipro Cares, a unique trust that is based on the operating model of employee contributions matched by Wipro Ltd. Our work spans primary health-care, education, ecology and disaster rehabilitation. Of these, we have already spoken about our work on community education in an earlier section above. We articulate our progress on the other dimensions

Our work is channeled through Wipro Cares, a unique trust that is based on operating model of employee contribution matched by Wipro Ltd. The work spans following areas:

- a. Education: Education is so critical that it is necessary to focus on multiple points of leverage. While systemic reforms will continue to be an important area for us, we also have a large program that is designed for more direct impact on underprivileged children. Run through Wipro Cares, the employee-supported trust of Wipro, the program reached out to nearly 70000 children across eight states. The projects address a gamut of critical issues faced by disadvantaged communities when it comes to school education – starting from enrolment in schools to nutrition for children, counseling services for parents, remedial education, just to name a few. These children are from some of the most vulnerable groups in our society – urban slums, HIV-affected families, migrant labor families, street children.
- b. Education for Children with Disability: We continue to strengthen our program which supports the educational and rehabilitative needs of children with disabilities from underprivileged backgrounds through 14 projects across six states that works with around 2,600 children. Going beyond just schooling, our approach tries to integrate enabling factors like availability of nutrition, community support, specially trained teachers, assistive technology, access to healthcare etc. Our work in this space covers multiple categories of disability and focuses on early intervention and inclusive education.
- c. Primary Health Care: Access to primary health care is a key determinant of an individual's future trajectory in life, including the ability to engage in productive livelihoods and responsible citizenship, Wipro Cares works with partners who provide good quality primary health care services to underserved communities covering more than 40,000 people belonging to extremely disadvantaged communities in Nagaland, Karnataka and Maharashtra. Our work in these states is in remote, inaccessible villages where health care access has been weak or non-existent till now. Our operating approach is driven by the primary goals of building the capacity of the local community in managing their health needs, of augmenting government infrastructure and in training health workers to address the unique needs of the communities

- d. Disaster Rehabilitation: Natural disasters like earthquakes, floods and cyclonic storms are an unfortunate fact of life, especially in a climatically and geologically diverse country like India. Whenever these happen, the disadvantaged sections get affected the most as the already fragile basis of their livelihoods gets further disrupted. Starting with the Gujarat earthquake in 2001, we have responded to several natural calamities wherein Wipro's employees have also risen to the occasion and played a sterling role. By design, we focus on the more difficult challenge of long term rehabilitation of the affected communities.

During 2017-18, 'Unnati' the rehabilitation project that we had initiated in Uttarakhand in the aftermath of the floods there in 2013 has progressed to an advanced stage with the farmers' cooperative obtaining all the regulatory and compliance requirements to manufacture and sell value added products from farm produces. Back in 2013 when we started, our broad goal was to strengthen local livelihoods of communities in 22 villages in the Uttarkashi district. While we think there is a long way to go in this regard, our assessment is that the program is at a stage now where the basic institutional scaffolding is in place and it can be built up effectively, going forward.

In 2016-17, we started a rehabilitation project in Cuddalore district for those affected by the Tamil Nadu floods of 2015. This project is focused on promoting sustainable livelihoods among the most vulnerable women from the fishing community and providing them with capital support, skill training in value added products, marketing skills and linkage to markets. Last year, it enabled the women to set up 12 Micro-Enterprise groups, and facilitated their participation in the formal markets. Women are the bulwark of any community and such efforts will enable the fisher community to respond to any future disaster in more effective ways

- e. Community Ecology: Support environmental projects that have direct benefit for underprivileged communities including but not limited to agroforestry, groundwater rejuvenation, waste management, lake restoration and so on.

Highlights of the year

Nearly 68,000 children from underprivileged communities benefit from our 22 education projects in eight states

Through 4 projects, an aggregate of over 40,000 people are getting access to primary health care

Education for Children with Disability program now supports the educational and rehabilitative needs of 2,200 underprivileged children with disabilities through 14 projects in six states

Project in urban solid waste management in Bengaluru provides social, nutritional and health security to nearly 8,000 workers in the informal sector of waste and provides a comprehensive skills upgradation program for about 100 such workers

Promoting sustainable livelihood among the most vulnerable women from the fishing community in Cuddalore, Tamil Nadu by providing skill training in value added products, marketing skills and linkage to markets

The livelihoods project in Uttarkashi post the Uttarakhand floods of 2013 has helped around 1,000 families to stay back in their villages and continue farming. A farmer's co-operative called Unnati is setup to guide farmers on farming inputs and in selling their farm products.

The power of engaged employees

Employees are integral to many of our social programs in many ways. Providing them a platform to engage develops a sense of citizenship and larger responsibility towards society. From our experience, employees also see this as a workplace differentiator, The Wipro Cares trust is built on a model of employee contribution that is matched by Wipro. More than 25,000 Wipro employees are currently engaged with Wipro Cares either through volunteering or by way of monetary contributions or both. During 2017-18, more than 11500 employees from nearly 40 chapters in India and overseas collectively spent around 32500 hours in voluntary engagement on a wide range of community and environmental initiatives. Involved and engaged employees add great value to our programs. One of our prime goals for the next two years is going to be to further increase the scale and scope of employee engagement.

International Chapters

The first major partnership for Wipro Cares North America began in 2015 with First Book, a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization based in Washington, DC that provides free books to children in need. Since then, Wipro Cares chapters in North America and First Book have been working together to donate more than 234,000 books in communities throughout the U.S.A and Canada. Employees also regularly donate to First Book, with a 1:1 matching by Wipro. More than 100 Wipro employees have also committed their time to the Million Women Mentors program, an initiative designed to engage more women in STEM careers in U.S.A.

In the year, U.S.A was hit by two devastating hurricanes – Hurricane Harvey and Hurricane Irma. Wipro employees rallied around to volunteer and contribute money towards the relief initiatives. Wipro matched the contributions and further donated $250,000 to the Rebuild Texas Fund.

In South Africa, we have been active participants in a number of programs aligned with the 'Broad Based Black Economic Empowerment (BBBEE) Act' that aims to distribute wealth across a spectrum of previously disadvantaged South African society. Our work covers computer literacy for youth, skills and entrepreneurship development and working with underprivileged schools.

Natural Capital

Managing economic development in a manner that does not compromise ecological integrity of our planet has posed one of the biggest challenges to humanity ever since the industrial revolution started. It will be even more so in the coming decades of this century. It is no surprise therefore that 7 of the 17 U.N. Sustainable Development Goals directly reflect these concerns while the remaining 10 goals have indirect intersects with ecology and environment in some way or the other. While the climate change challenge is most talked about and debated, the problems of water scarcity, biodiversity loss and the pollution and depletion of our natural commons are equally critical.

The increasing centrality of issues like climate change and water stress in the last few years has led organizations to look beyond their boundaries. While internal business drivers like resource efficiency, waste management and pollution mitigation have been the primary levers of any corporate environmental program, organizations have come to realize that in order to make a real impact at a larger, systemic level, one can no longer ignore the externalized costs of ecological damage. Natural capital thus refers broadly to the notion that nature provides immense value that is critical to human existence and therefore, any action that depletes natural capital is self-defeating for our society.

Our approach embraces the continuum of

- a. initiatives 'within the organization' that focus on reducing the energy, water, waste and biodiversity footprint of our business operations; and
- b. engaging through partners on key external programs in community ecology.

Ecological Sustainability Governance

Sustainability governance at Wipro is informed by our strategic choice to work across both dimensions – business responsibility and social responsibility. Business responsibility is about the organization fulfilling its essential duties and obligations, and running its business with integrity and ensuring that the ecological footprint of its operations is minimized. The second dimension of social responsibility is about looking beyond the boundaries of organization and contributing towards development of the larger community. The responsibility is spread across hierarchies and functions seeing themselves as key stakeholders in its success; for ecological issues the Global Operations team, the People Function, Community programs team, the Risk office and employee chapters play a major role in several of the programs. However, the oversight of sustainability programs rest at the corporate level with our Chairman, Board of Directors and Group Executive Council. The goals and objectives are jointly set with inputs from across functions. The quarterly reviews are attended by the Chairman, Chief Strategy officer, CFO and Chief HR officer. We benchmark our performance with our global peers through extensive disclosures as well as a system of rigorous audits

- both internal and external. We have started the process of incorporating key sustainability risks like climate change into our ERM framework.

All key organizational stakeholders have vested responsibilities related to planning, execution, evangelization, review, as well as advocacy of the sustainability agenda of the company. Given below is the responsibility matrix for our environment programs (energy, water, waste and biodiversity). Other sustainability programs have similar matrix pertinent to their operations.

Management Approach

The implications of environmental and climate change risks to the business as well planet necessitates the identification and prioritization of material issues. At Wipro, we have identified Energy efficiency and Green House Gases (GHG) mitigation, Water efficiency and Responsible Water management, Pollution and Waste management, and Campus Biodiversity as material issues and have developed programs around them.

The Ecological Sustainability Policy, available at wipro.com/documents/Ecological_Sustainability_Policy.pdf form the structural framework for our programs and management systems. We have been following the guidelines of the ISO 14001 framework for more than a decade now as one of the cornerstones of our Environmental Management System (EMS). 18 of our campus sites in India and 2 in Australia are certified to ISO 14001:2004 standard. We have been responding to CDP Climate Change Investor and Supply Chain for the last 10 years. In addition we have applied the Natural Capital Protocol guidelines to publish our annual Environmental Profit and Loss account. We are also members of LfN (Leaders for Nature) consortium anchored by IUCN in India and CII's India Business and Biodiversity initiative (IBBI). Partnership is key to achieve our goals across the value chain. We work with Renewable energy suppliers, energy efficient hardware manufacturers and service providers and other partners to reduce our employee commute and business travel footprint. We were one of the early adopters of Green Building Design with 18 of our current buildings certified to the international LEED standard (Silver, Gold, and Platinum)

As part of the program, a well-defined strategy with metrics and targets are in place and regular monitoring and feedback adds to the rigor.

Overseas: 191 office locations; 7 client data centers. Most locations are leased; and used as marketing/liasion offices.

Primary data of resources and environmental impacts from new infrastructure being built by our civil and construction partners is presently not included in our reporting as systems are being developed. However this is covered in our natural capital valuation.

Environmental Risks

The Enterprise Risk Management and Sustainability functions at Wipro oversee environmental and climate change related risk identification and mitigation. Impacts of extreme weather events, Urban water stress, air pollution, waste management and impacts on employee health and well being are material issues that we are engaged with. The risk assessment is conducted as part of the annual strategic planning exercise, - in which all senior leaders participate - a multi-year (3 to 5 year) planning view is incorporated and priorities are categorized as short, medium and long term.

Climate change related impacts: Risk assessment and prioritization is undertaken at both company level and asset level. A well-defined Business Continuity Policy prescribes principles to plan for Climatic disruptions which could disrupt business objectives. The Corporate Business Continuity Team (CBCMT) governs and guides the standard risk assessment methodology at every location to identify risks which could potentially impact continuity of business, financial parameters like revenue & profitability, reputational and legal parameters. This group collaborates with various support groups in the organization to assess risks for human resources, facilities & IT infrastructure with identified impacts, probability/likelihood & controls in place. A severity matrix of Low, Medium & High impacts are defined where the controls are implemented and a defined crisis management group is responsible to respond, recover, resume, return & restore from these situations.

Risk assessment also includes how climate change poses risk to human health and thereby impacts the business. The human health aspect of climate risks is material to the company given the fact that employees are at the core of a knowledge-based organization like Wipro.

A list of climate change risks material to Wipro is detailed below.

Risks	Financial Impact	Time Horizon
Fuel/energy taxes and regulations.	Increase in operational costs on account of increase in electricity and diesel costs.	Medium
Renewable energy regulations	For obligated business entities for purchase of non-solar or solar Renewable Energy Certificates by regulatory authorities.	Medium
Due to changes in precipitation extremes and droughts.	Revenue impact due to employee absence caused by disruption in city infrastructure and tropical diseases.	Short
Due to changes in temperature extremes	Impact due to (a) increased employee absence from work and (b) increased electricity costs resulting from higher cooling demand.	Medium
Tropical cyclones (hurricanes and typhoons)	This could be due to cost of repair of damages to buildings and equipment	Long

In addition to the above mentioned risks with direct impacts, there are certain other material risks like changes to resource quality or availability particularly in the organization's natural capital dependencies and variation in agricultural yield and growing seasons. These risks will impact the economy at large or specifically the supply chain of Wipro and can have an effect on the organization indirectly.

Reputation risk and the risks driven by changes in regulation are applicable organization-wide whereas risks driven by changes in physical climate parameters are specific to certain geographies where the company has operations. While all these risks have a direct impact on the organization, magnitude of impact (how serious will it be, if it does happen), urgency (how soon it will happen) and probability of occurrence (how likely is it that the risk will happen) varies from one risk to another. The impacts of these risks may range from increased operational or capital cost, reduction or disruption of service delivery, reduced stock prices to inability to do business.

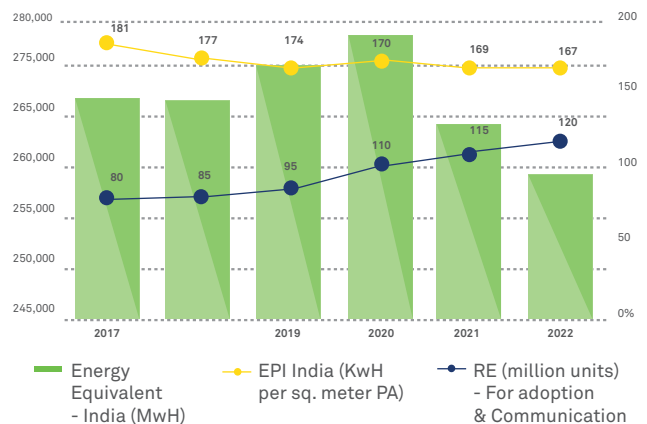

Energy efficiency & GHG mitigation

Science based target setting – Recalibration of climate goals: We have used the science based target setting framework from WRI (World Resource Institute) that tries to align with the 2015 Paris agreement which aims to limit global warming to below 2 degrees celsius from pre-industrial levels. We have undertaken a recalibration of our greenhouse gas emission targets to account for two organizational accounting changes – the first due to divestment of our overseas customer data center business to Ensono and the second based on requirements of GHG protocol standard of accounting all leased/rented office spaces emissions under Scope 3. Considering 2017 as the base year, we have set medium term targets till 2022 and 2030 and longer term targets till 2040 and 2050.

The following goals have been set for the period 2017-18 to 2021-22:

- Absolute Scope 1 and 2 GHG emissions – Absolute emissions reduction of 23,700 tonnes.
- Energy Intensity in terms of EPI (Energy Performance Index) - Cumulative reduction of 7.8% in EPI over 5 years
- GHG Emission Intensity (Scope 1 and Scope 2) on Floor Area (FAR) basis - Cumulative reduction of 16 % in GHG intensity from 117 Kg CO₂ eq./ Sq. Mt. (kgpsm) to 98 kgpsm of CO₂ –eq
- Renewable Energy (RE)- Increase renewable energy procurement by 55% to a target of 120 million units in 2021-22

Energy and Emissions targets

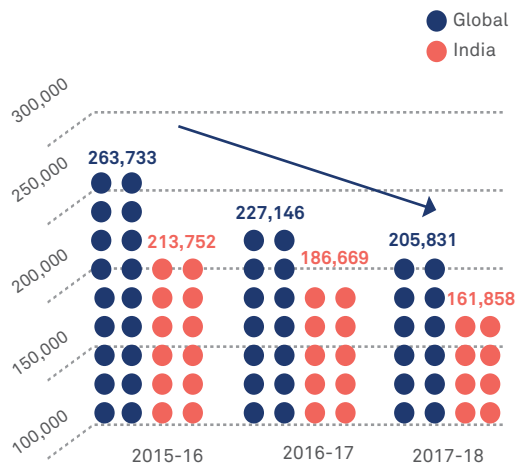

Performance against goals

Absolute Emissions: The absolute Scope 1 and 2 emissions (India) for 2017-18 have decreased by 13.3% from 1,86,669 to 1,61,858 tonnes - a reduction of over 24,000 tonnes. This is primarily due to significant drop in Scope 1 emissions by 37% due to shift from diesel generated power at one of our large locations (Chennai), energy efficiency improvement of nearly 3.7% as well as improvement in renewable energy procurement by nearly 20% .

The dashboard below provides a summary of our Global and India GHG emissions, including data centres. In accordance with the GHG protocol, from 2016-17, we have reclassified leased offices as part of Scope-3. The figures are net emissions for all years, after considering zero emissions for renewable energy procured.

GHG Scope 1 and 2

(Tons of CO₂ Equiv.)

Emissions Intensity: Our India office space emissions intensity (Scope 1 and Scope 2) is at 101 Kg CO₂ eq. per Sq. Mt. per annum, a decrease of nearly 13.5 % from last year. Concomitantly the global people based emissions intensity is down by more than 14% to 1.2 tons per person per annum.

Energy Consumption: The overall energy consumption from Scope 1 and 2 boundaries (operational and financial control) is 1344.3 million Mjoules, compared to 1440.4 million Mjoules in the previous year, a reduction of 6.7%. The total energy consumption, electricity and back-up diesel generated, for office spaces in India is 262 million units (including leased spaces globally this is 307 million units). Data centers in India and overseas (U.S.A and Germany) contribute to another 87 million units. For India operations, about 99 million units constituted renewable energy procured through PPAs (Power Purchase agreements) with private producers. Of this 92 million units is with green attributes (zero emissions).

Energy Intensity: EPI for office spaces, measured in terms of energy per unit area has decreased by around 3.75% to 174 kWh units per sq. meter per annum. The absolute energy has reduced to the same degree as we have not seen any change in area for the reporting year.

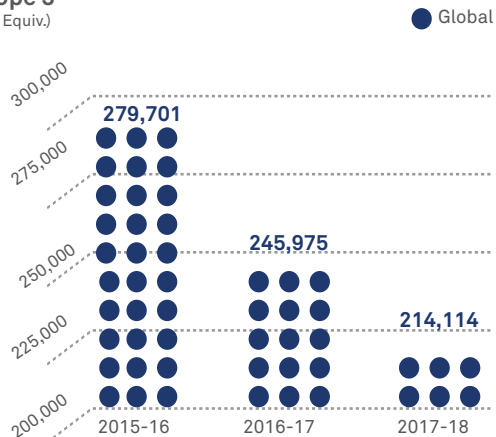

Scope 3 Emissions: A summary of our Scope 3 emissions (other indirect sources) is provided below. Out of the 15 categories of scope 3 reporting as per the new GHG corporate value chain standard, we are currently reporting on all of the 8 categories applicable to us Downstream Scope 3 emissions: We have moved some facilities to a sub-leased model towards the end of the reporting year. This will be applicable from the next year.

Scope 3 summary:

Scope 3 Emissions Category	Current Reporting, Coverage within IT business	Tons of CO ₂ eq.
Purchased goods and services	Based on purchase ledger for 2016-17 and application of econometric input-output model for different categories and business activities:	62,952
Fuel- and energy-related activities (not included in scope 1 or scope 2)	Well To Tank (WTT) and Transmission and Distribution (T&D) losses globally	101,886
Upstream transportation and distribution	Not Reported, as not material
Waste generated in operations	For India operations (85% coverage)	746
Employee commuting	For India operations, which represents nearly 85% of footprint	78,429
Business travel	Global. Includes air, bus, train, local conveyance and hotel stays	134,939
Upstream leased assets (Leased office space)	Leased offices spaces in India (14708 tons) and overseas (12624 tons CO ₂ eq)	27,332
	Total	406,284

The graph below shows the comparison for Business Travel, employee commute and Waste for last three years.

(Tons of CO₂ Equiv.)

Total Emissions: The overall emissions across all scopes is 6,12,115 tonnes. Within this, the main contributors to our GHG emissions are: Electricity – Purchased and Generated (33.5%), upstream fuel and energy emissions (16.5%), Business Travel (22%) and Employee Commute (12.8%). Leased office spaces contribute to 4.45% of emissions.

GHG Mitigation Measures

Our five year GHG mitigation plan consists of three key elements – Energy Efficiency (Reduce), Renewable Energy (RE) Purchase (Replace) and Travel Substitution (Reduce and Replace); of this, RE procurement will contribute the maximum, 80% share to GHG emission mitigation strategy for Scope 1 and 2.

Energy Efficiency: These measures include new retrofit technologies to improve Chiller and Air Handling Units (AHUs), integrated design and monitoring platforms. The Global Energy command centre, inaugurated in early 2008, applies Internet-of-things technology to monitor efficiencies of subsystems and devices at real time. Since 2007, we have been working on a server rationalization and virtualization program, through which we have decommissioned old physical servers and replaced the processing capacity with virtualization technology on fewer numbers of servers.

As of March 2018, we have 4,780 virtual servers (2,920 in March 2017) running on 353 physical servers which contributes to an energy savings of approximately 20 million units in the reporting year. The savings showed an increase of 70% over the previous year. Addition of 3000 Virtual Desktop Infrastructure (VDI) thin clients in the reporting year has helped in energy savings of around 0.36 million units.

RE procurement: For the reporting period of 2017- 18, RE purchase contributed to approximately 92 million units or 33% of our total India energy consumption. Our target for next year is 95 million units.

Rooftop Solar and Captive RE: The pilot rooftop Solar PV installations at 5 of our campuses followed by extensive use of solar water heaters in our guest blocks and cafeterias have resulted in equivalent savings of 1.52 million units of grid electricity in the reporting year.

Business Travel: The IT services outsourcing model requires frequent travel across the delivery life cycle to customer locations, mainly overseas, and contributes to around 1/5th of our overall emissions footprint. This includes travel by air, bus, train, local conveyance and hotel stays. Policies on usage of different modes of travel based on distance and time taken, need and budget-based travel and increasing focus on processes which enable remote working and collaboration are some of the cost and process optimization measures implemented over past few years. We have seen an air travel footprint reduction of around 5.5% compared to 2016-17 and nearly 24% since 2015-16.

Employee Commute: Employees have various choices for intra-city commuting. In addition to company arranged transport (36%), employees utilize public transport (~51%), with owned cars and two wheelers accounting for the balance.

Over the past few years, we have taken steps to facilitate a shift towards improved access to public transport for employees (buses, commuter trains) and carpooling. Our car pooling initiative launched through a third-party mobile app based partners in July'16 in Bengaluru has now scaled and expanded to other locations in India - Hyderabad, Pune, NCR, Chennai and Kolkata. With this, we now have 42,700 registered users across locations, cumulatively saving 916 tons of CO₂ since inception.

IT infrastructure enablers like anytime direct connectivity access to office intranet applications, secure personal device connectivity through the BYOD initiative (Bring Your Own Devices) are other key steps in enabling more flexible work place options.

Collaborative advocacy on energy and climate change: As a member of the Indo-US joint research program – the Solar Energy Research Institute for India and the United States (SERIIUS) we are supporting a long term program that does a comparative analysis of decentralized micro-grids in rural Karnataka in India vis-à-vis the regular, mainstream option of bringing grid power to remote villages. The first phase of this study has been successfully completed with the draft report being launched in late 2017.

Water efficiency and responsible use

Urban water in India is a story of paradoxes and extremities. Water related risks in cities range from supply shortages, equitable availability to all sections of the population to urban flooding driven by extreme weather events. This is symptomatic of a failure in urban planning and governance of a critical resource as water. At Wipro, we view water from the inter-related lens of efficiency, conservation, coupled with our role as a responsible citizen in engaging outside our operational boundaries; our articulated goals are therefore predicated on these three dimensions.

Water Efficiency

- Improve water efficiency (fresh water use per employee) by 5% year on year
- Reduce absolute water consumption in existing campuses by 20% between FY 2016 and FY 2021

Water Responsibility

To ensure responsible water management in proximate communities, especially in locations that are prone to water scarcity. We are also collaborating on building capacity and advocacy platforms at the city level for integrated urban water management.

Freshwater recycling and efficiency

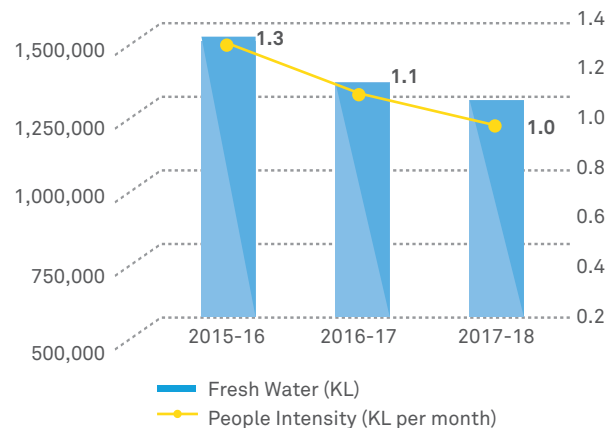

The per employee water consumption for the reporting year is 991 litres per month as compared to 1,119 litres in 2016-17, an improvement of around 11.5% with an absolute reduction of around 187 million litres of freshwater. Our total freshwater consumption is 1,514 million litres and we recycle 1,045 million litres of water in 27 of our major locations (1,050 million litres in 2016-17) using Sewage Treatment Plants (STPs) and ultra filtration units.

Recycled water represents 41% of the total water (previous year at 38%). The amount of recycled water as a percentage of freshwater extracted is around 69%, up from 61.7% in 2016-1. This improvement in efficiency is due to the adoption of ultra-filtration and RO projects for STP treated water at three our large locations. In the next year (2018-19) we will be commissioning three more locations.

Fresh water use - India Offices

Sourcing of Water: Water input is from four sources – private water (mainly ground water sourced from tanker water suppliers), municipal water supply, in-situ ground water and harvested rain water – with the first two sources accounting for nearly 85% of the sourced water. Water purchased from private sources can be traced to have been primarily extracted from ground water. Not surprisingly, ground water contributes to nearly 58% of our total freshwater consumption across cities in India – an overexploited resource which has also been largely left out of effective governance mechanisms. The water supplied by the municipal bodies is sourced primarily from river or lake systems.

Community Water Programs

Recognizing that water is a common resource and that internal operational efficiency is inadequate when it comes to water risks, Wipro has been partnering with experts organizations, citizen groups and government bodies to address issues affecting the communities in the proximity of our locations.

Participatory Ground Water Management Program

In the last three years, the program has attempted to explore the issues of ground water in a 35 sq. Km area around our corporate head-quarters in Bengaluru – an area that is completely dependent on ground water for its needs and which is largely unregulated. This is representative of many rapidly developing urban and peri-urban cities in India; in Bengaluru itself around 40% of its water needs is met by ground water. Our approach was to use a science based approach to understand the hydrogeology of the area and engage communities through various platforms (citizen science, advocacy, facilitation of interventions). The program involved extensive borewell monitoring, and detailed studies in selected clusters. The idea was to evolve a decentralized model of ground water management. Phase 1 of the three year participative ground water management program in the Sarjapur-Bellandur area has been completed. Acting on insights from the detailed aquifer map of the area, we have facilitated pilots in selected residential layouts that focus on a strategic shift from deep aquifer extraction to tapping shallow aquifers in combination with a sustainable cycle of rainwater harvesting. As part of citizen advocacy, we have developed a set of around 20+ guides, case studies and primers related to urban water management. A web portal <http://bengaluru.urbanwaters.in/> has evolved into a comprehensive repository and ready reference for matters related to urban water in Bengaluru. The program has established the feasibility of shallow aquifer as a source of water in consonance with a planned recharge cycle and its linkages with how we treat surface water systems like rivers, lakes, wetlands and wells as part of a connected hydrogeological system.

A new open well in the community

For the next phases of the program we are looking at two distinct tracks – (i) Replicating this program in another part of Bengaluru – around Devanahalli and Bengaluru Airport - an area in rapid transition and different land uses – agriculture, industrial, residential and commercial. (ii) Creating institutional capacity at the city – through advocacy, education and service provisioning. We are also considering creating an urban water network and a fellowship program centered around urban water. We also have started a similar program in the western part of the city of Pune.

Karnataka State Water Network (KSWN)

Launched in 2014, the Karnataka State Water Network (KSWN) convened by Wipro in partnership with the CII-Karnataka, serves as a multi-stakeholder platform to address water challenges in identified geographical clusters of Bengaluru. The network has conducted 10 curated programs and four annual conferences till date. This forum has served a useful space in getting industry, government and citizens together to effect some key interventions – rejuvenation of lakes in industrial areas and initial work on setting up a common industry effluent treatment plant among others.

Bengaluru Sustainability Forum

This forum set up in early 2018 and supported by Wipro, brings together civil society, academia, research institutions and government with the broad goals of fostering curated interactions between different stakeholders on issues of urban sustainability. This will be complemented by broad public outreach and specific research-based analysis and dissemination of Bengaluru's sustainability issues. During the first year, the forum will focus on the three themes of urban water, biodiversity and air pollution.

Pollution and waste management

Pollution of air and water poses one of the most serious threats to community health and welfare. Managing these 'commons' in an urban context again requires business organizations to look beyond its own boundaries and to adopt an integrated approach.

Our waste management strategy includes (i) Regular monitoring of air, water and noise levels to operate well within regulatory norms. (ii) Reducing materials impact and recycling (iii) arranging for safe disposal or treatment. To operationalize our strategy, we segregate and monitor waste processing across 15 broad categories and more than 35 sub categories.

Total waste generated was 6,652 tons. Summary of our performance on solid waste management (SWM)

Organic Waste: Our goal is to maintain or better our current in-house recycling rate of 80%. Inorganic Waste: Close to 100% of the waste is recycled through approved partners. 65% of the total mixed solid waste and scrap (7% of total waste generated) is currently recycled and the rest sent to landfills. Our target is to improve this to 80% by 2021. Biomedical and hazardous waste is incinerated as per approved methods. All our E-waste is currently recycled by approved vendors. Construction and Demolition (C&D) debris, which amounts to 24% of total waste is currently sent to approved landfills. C&D debris has shown an increase over the last 2 reporting years due to higher number of renovations in older campuses.

Others: We monitor diesel generator stack emissions (NO_x, SO_x and SPM), indoor air quality (CO, CO₂, VOC's, RSPM), treated water quality and ambient noise levels across 25 key locations every month. These meet the specified regulatory norms.

Collaborative Engagements

We started working with partners for certain categories of waste where the recycler ecosystem has not matured – thermocol, styrofoam, used oil. The revised operating procedures and recycler requirements for electronic end-of-life products enable better materials recovery, traceability and disclosure of downstream recycler practices. We will continue to work with our partners and vendors in driving better practices and behaviours keeping in mind both human and ecological impacts of any changes.

We continue to work with Electronic City Industrial Township Authority (ELCITA) in Bengaluru on SWM issues. We continue to be part of the sub-committee on 'Waste' in the CII National Environment Committee. We are associated with "Reimagine Waste" hackathon for the past two years, being conducted in association with Indian Institute of Science, Bengaluru, Waste Ventures and other partners.

Urban Biodiversity

Our urban biodiversity program addresses the twin aims of creating biodiversity in our urban campuses while also using it as a platform for wider education and advocacy. We have set the following goals:

- To convert five of our existing campuses to biodiversity zones
- All new campuses to incorporate biodiversity principles into their design

Our first flagship project in biodiversity was the unique Butterfly Park and wetland biodiversity zone that uses recycled water at the Electronic City campus in Bengaluru. Our second project in Pune focused on trebling the number of native species and includes five thematic gardens – aesthetic and palm garden, spring garden, Ficus garden, spice and fruit garden. This is a unique project in a corporate campus setting with a dense year-round flowering of more than 240 species of native plants serving multiple ecological purposes. These are long term multi-year projects and similar programs will commence at two of our other campuses. In all these programs we work closely with expert partners in biodiversity, conservation, ecological design and communications. A work environment which integrates biodiverse and natural design principles has multiple intangible benefits for employees and visitors – it builds a larger sense of connectedness and emphasizes values of sensitivity and our place in the world around us. To strengthen these connects, we regularly conduct photography, walks and plantation activities for employees and their children. One such initiative is the "Nurture Your Patch" program, an urban farming project at few of our campuses. Selected employee teams underwent a training session on urban farming from an experienced landscape architect. They were provided with gardening equipment, seeds, compost, water points and other know how. The teams are free to grow any variety of shrubs or small plants. In addition, our operations team in two locations harvests produce regularly and donate to orphanages and special schools in proximate areas.

Collaborative advocacy on biodiversity: Our participation in advocacy on biodiversity issues is through two national levels forums – the CII-India Business for Biodiversity Initiative (IBBI) and the Leaders for Nature program from the India chapter of International Union of Conservation Networks (IUCN). We chair CII-IBBI's southern chapter on biodiversity for business. We have been supporting the "World Sparrow Day" and the "Wipro-Nature Forever Society Sparrow Awards" for the past five years.

Wipro's Natural Capital Valuation Program

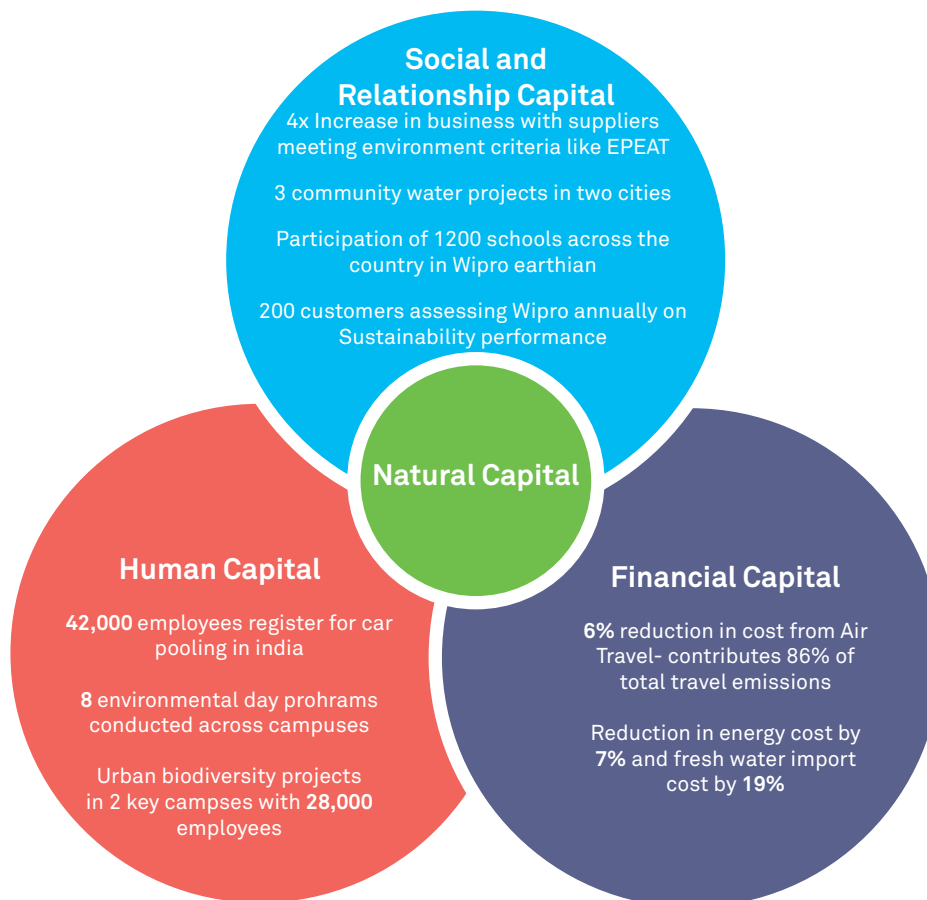

Valuation of natural capital externalities of a company serves multiple objectives : (i) For the company, it provides a useful anchoring reference of how large its externalities are when compared to the financial capital and value it has created for its shareholders. It also serves as a common lexicon for strategic conversations on natural capital within and outside the company (ii) For investors, it is an indicator of the company's risk profile when weighed against current and future environmental regulations (iii) For interested citizen groups, it helps provide a more nuanced understanding of the company's profile. We have been active and enthusiastic early adopters of natural capital valuation and it aligns very well with our larger emphasis on Integrated Reporting, This is the third year of the valuation exercise for us.

Total environmental cost relating to Wipro's operations and supply chain was equal to ₹11,476 million for 2016-17. GHG emissions (46%), water consumption (25%) and air pollution (19%) contributed the most. The operational footprint (including business travel and employee commute) accounted for 51% of Wipro's total environmental cost, a 13% decrease from previous year.

The above figures are net of our positive valuation, attributable to our environmental initiatives. Between 2015-16 and 2016-17, our environmental initiatives like emissions reduction activities, renewable energy procurement and water recycling, reduced our overall environmental costs by ₹1,153 million (₹1,086 million in 2015-16) – around 10% of the total 2016-17 environmental costs. Valuation for 2017-18 is unlikely to be significantly different and will be completed in July 2018.

Natural Capital – Relation to other Capitals

This disclosure is in conformance with the CDSB Framework. Due care has been taken to apply the guiding principles and comply with the reporting requirements laid out by CDSB Framework. While preparing the report, the recommendations set out by the Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures were also considered. The report also aligns with the requirements of NVG Guidelines issued by MCA.

Corporate Social Responsibility Report for the year 2017-18

We present below the context and broad underpinnings of Wipro's social and environmental initiatives. Our journey began seventeen years back in 2001. Since then, the core principles, values and strategic direction of our social initiatives have remained the same even as we have added new domains, and increased the scale of our programs and partnerships. Every year has been an evolution in thought and action in our collaborative journey. We start this report by reiterating the core principles, values and strategic drivers underlying all our social initiatives:

- The values encapsulated in the “Spirit of Wipro” are; Be Passionate about clients’ success’, ‘Treat each person with respect’, ‘Be Global and Responsible’ and ‘Unyielding integrity in everything we do’. These values guide all our actions and are foundational tenets of any social change for the better.
- To conduct our business on the basis of sound ethical principles and widely accepted principles of good corporate governance. While this starts with compliance in letter and spirit with laws and regulations of the countries we operate in, it goes well beyond that.
- To continually evolve and progress in our journey of making Wipro more sustainable as defined by the triple bottom-line framework. The primary areas of focus are to: (i) reduce our ecological footprint on energy, water and waste, (ii) foster a more diverse, empowered fair and safe workplace, (iii) continually enhance employees’ individual development that aligns with larger organizational goals and (iv) to actively engage with our supplier ecosystem in making them more responsible in their work practices. This goes in tandem with our policy of procurement of more sustainable products and of encouraging the expansion of women and minority based enterprises.
- To engage on systemic and long-term issues of importance in our chosen domains of Education and Ecology.
- To work with communities proximate to our operational centers in India and overseas. As a global organization, we would like to emphasize that the imperative of working on societal issues is a central plank of our approach not just in India but everywhere in the world we operate in.

You will find a detailed summary of our sustainability and social initiatives for financial year 2017-18 as part of the ‘Management Discussion and Analysis’ (MD&A) Report, that is articulated on the principle of integrated reporting, under “Communities and Social Initiatives” and “Natural Capital” from page 42. The impact of our CSR programs on the communities we operate in are largely articulated as part of the MD&A report. Further, the key outcomes and impact of various CSR programs are also disclosed to our stakeholders annually as part of our Sustainability report based on GRI principles which can be accessed at <http://www.wiprosustainabilityreport.com>. These and various other details are available at our primary website www.wipro.com and at www.wipro.org, our website focusing exclusively on our social initiatives.

An important step we took during the year was to create a separate entity, Wipro Foundation, which will serve to channelize and consolidate all our social initiatives. Wipro Foundation has a separate board of trustees drawn from Wipro's senior leadership while its governance and controllership norms continue to draw from Wipro's robust and time-tested templates. A related point on governance we would like to emphasize here is that the individual social programs of Wipro also have their own governance committees which evaluate all funding proposals and subject it to rigorous scrutiny. All of this is complemented by a system of regular quarterly reporting and reviews.

An organization's progress on social initiatives can only be as good as the partners it collaborates with. Over the years, we have taken care to invest in good partners who not only know their domains well but are committed to making a difference on the ground and whose values align with ours. We have more than 150 active partners across domains and geographies. Together with our employees, they are the bedrock of our social initiatives. We firmly believe that a company's social initiatives can be effective only when it is not driven by compliance but by its values, beliefs and the complete commitment of its leadership. We will continue to raise the standards of good governance and management of our social programs.

Summary of CSR spend for 2017-18

1. A brief outline of the Company's CSR policy, including overview of the projects or programs proposed to be undertaken is available at www.wipro.com. Details are provided as part of Board's Report from page 63 to 64.
2. The Composition of the CSR Committee: The terms of reference of the Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) broadly comprises and forms part of Board Governance, Nomination and Compensation Committee and these terms of reference are in accordance with Section 135 of the Companies Act, 2013. The Committee comprises of Dr. Ashok S Ganguly, Mr. N Vaghul and Mr. William Arthur Owens, Independent Directors.
3. Average Net Profit of the Company for the last three financial years: ₹ 91,647 million
4. Prescribed CSR Expenditure (two percent of the amount as in the point 3 above): 2% of the average PBT for the last three preceding financial years amounts to ₹ 1,833 million. Against this, our CSR spending for 2017-18 was ₹ 1,866 million
5. Details of the CSR Spent during the financial year:
 - a) Total amount to be spent for the financial year: ₹ 1,833 Million
 - b) Amount unspent: Not Applicable
 - c) Manner in which the amount is spent during the financial year is detailed below:
6. The following table provides a summary of the domain wise expenditure on CSR for 2017-18 along with the geographies. The list of partners with whom we collaborate is available right after the table.
7. In the column 'Cumulative expenditure till reporting period', we have chosen to take 2014-15 as the base year. It is however not to be interpreted that this is the first year of our CSR programs. Many of our programs go back more than 10 years and some more than 15 years. Given the practical challenges in reporting the cumulative expenditure from inception, we have chosen to start with the 2014-15 as the base year.
8. All our programs are executed and implemented through our partners. The figures under the last column therefore are entirely through our partners.

Corporate Governance Report

I. Wipro's Philosophy on Corporate Governance

Wipro's governance framework is driven by the objective of enhancing long term stakeholder value without compromising on ethical standards and corporate social responsibilities. Efficient corporate governance requires a clear understanding of the respective roles of the Board of Directors ("Board") and of senior management and their relationships with others in the corporate structure. Sincerity, fairness, good citizenship and commitment to compliance are key characteristics that drive relationships of the Board and senior management with other stakeholders.

Corporate governance philosophy of Wipro flows from the "Spirit of Wipro" which represents core values by which policies and practices of the organization are guided. The values encapsulated in the "Spirit of Wipro" are:

Be passionate about clients' success

Treat each person with respect

Be global and responsible

Upholding integrity in everything we do

Corporate governance at Wipro is implemented through robust board governance processes, internal control systems and processes, and strong audit mechanisms. These are articulated through Company's Code of Business Conduct, Corporate Governance Guidelines and charters of various sub-committees of the Board and Company's Disclosure Policy. Wipro's corporate governance practices can be described through the following four layers:

- Governance by Shareholders
- Governance by Board of Directors
- Governance by Sub-committees of Board, and
- Governance through management process

In this report, we have provided details on how the corporate governance principles are put in to practice within Wipro.

II. Shareholders

The Companies Act, 2013, Securities and Exchange Board of India (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015 ("Listing Regulations") and NYSE Listed Company Manual prescribe the governance mechanism by shareholders in terms of passing of ordinary and special resolutions, voting rights, participation in the corporate actions such as bonus, buyback of shares, declaration of dividend, etc. Your Company follows a robust process to ensure that the shareholders of the Company are well informed of Board decisions both on financial and non-financial information and adequate notice with a detailed explanation is sent to the shareholders well in advance to obtain necessary approvals.

III. Board of Directors

Composition of Board

As at March 31, 2018, our Board had seven Non-Executive Directors and three Executive Directors. Out of the three Executive Directors, the Executive Chairman and Managing Director and Executive Director and Chief Strategy Officer are Promoter Directors. The Chief Executive Officer (CEO) and Executive Director is a professional CEO who is responsible for the day to day operations of the Company. All the seven Non-Executive Directors are Independent Directors free from any business or other relationship that could materially influence their judgment. All the Independent Directors satisfy the criteria of independence as defined under the Companies Act, 2013, the Listing Regulations and the New York Stock Exchange Listed Company manual.

The Board is well diversified and consists of one Woman Independent Director and three Directors who are foreign nationals. The profiles of our Directors are available on our website at <https://www.wipro.com/leadership>.

We decide about the Board meeting dates in consultation with Board Governance, Nomination and Compensation Committee and all our Directors. Once approved by the Board Governance, Nomination and Compensation Committee, the schedule of the Board meetings and Board Committee meetings is communicated in advance to the Directors to enable them to attend the meetings. Annexure A to the Independent Auditor's Report

(Referred to in paragraph 1(f) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report to the Members of Wipro Limited of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting under Clause (i) of sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ('the Act')

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of WIPRO LIMITED ('the Company') as of March 31, 2018 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Board of Directors of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to respective company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the internal financial controls over financial reporting of the Company based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the 'Guidance Note') issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the Standards on Auditing prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2018, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

(₹ in millions, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

1. The Company overview

Wipro Limited (“Wipro” or the “Company”), is a leading global information technology (“IT”), consulting and business process services (BPS) company.

Wipro is a public limited company incorporated and domiciled in India. The address of its registered office is Wipro Limited, Doddakannelli, Sarjapur Road, Bengaluru – 560 035, Karnataka, India. Wipro has its primary listing with BSE Ltd. (Bombay Stock Exchange) and National Stock Exchange of India Ltd. The Company’s American Depository Shares representing equity shares are also listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

These financial statements were authorised for issue by the Board of Directors on June 08, 2018. Amounts as at and for the year ended March 31, 2017 were audited by B S R & Co. LLP.

2. Basis of preparation of financial statements

(i) Statement of compliance and basis of preparation

These financial statements are prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (“Ind AS”), the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 (“the Companies Act”), as applicable and guidelines issued by the Securities and Exchange Board of India (“SEBI”). The Ind AS are prescribed under Section 133 of the Act read with Rule 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 and Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2016.

Accounting policies have been applied consistently to all periods presented in these financial statements.

The financial statements correspond to the classification provisions contained in Ind AS 1, “Presentation of Financial Statements”. For clarity, various items are aggregated in the statements of profit and loss and balance sheet. These items are disaggregated separately in the notes to the financial statements, where applicable.

All amounts included in the financial statements are reported in millions of Indian rupees (₹ in millions) except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated. Due to rounding off, the numbers presented throughout the document may not add up precisely to the totals and percentages may not precisely reflect the absolute figures. Previous year figures have been regrouped/re-arranged, wherever necessary.

(ii) Basis of measurement

These financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost convention and on an accrual basis, except for the following material items which have been measured at fair value as required by relevant Ind AS:

- a) Derivative financial instruments;
- b) Financial instruments classified as fair value through other comprehensive income or fair value through profit or loss; and
- c) The defined benefit asset/(liability) is recognised as the present value of defined benefit obligation less fair value of plan assets.

(iii) Use of estimates and judgment

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future periods affected. In particular, information about significant areas of estimation, uncertainty and critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the financial statements are included in the following notes:

- a) Revenue recognition: The Company uses the percentage of completion method using the input (cost expended) method to measure progress towards completion in respect of fixed price contracts. Percentage of completion method accounting relies on estimates of total expected contract revenue and costs. This method is followed when reasonably dependable estimates of the revenues and costs applicable to various elements of the contract can be made. Key factors that are reviewed in estimating the future costs to complete include estimates of future labor costs and productivity efficiencies. Because the financial reporting of these contracts depends on estimates that are assessed continually during the term of these contracts, recognised revenue and profit are subject to revisions as the contract progresses to completion. When estimates indicate that a loss will be incurred, the loss is provided for in the period in which the loss becomes probable. Volume discounts are recorded as a reduction of revenue. When the amount of discount varies with the levels of revenue, volume discount is

- recorded based on estimate of future revenue from the customer.
- b) Impairment testing: Investments in subsidiaries, goodwill and intangible assets are tested for impairment at least annually and when events occur or changes in circumstances indicate that the recoverable amount of the asset or cash generating units to which these pertain is less than its carrying value. The recoverable amount of the asset or the cash generating units is higher of value in use and fair value less cost of disposal. The calculation of value in use of a cash generating unit involves use of significant estimates and assumptions which includes turnover, growth rates and net margins used to calculate projected future cash flows, risk-adjusted discount rate, future economic and market conditions.
- c) Income taxes: The major tax jurisdictions for the Company are India and the United States of America. Significant judgments are involved in determining the provision for income taxes including judgment on whether tax positions are probable of being sustained in tax assessments. A tax assessment can involve complex issues, which can only be resolved over extended time periods.
- d) Deferred taxes: Deferred tax is recorded on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts, at the rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable profits during the periods in which those temporary differences and tax loss carry-forwards become deductible. The Company considers the expected reversal of deferred tax liabilities and projected future taxable income in making this assessment. The amount of the deferred tax assets considered realisable, however, could be reduced in the near term if estimates of future taxable income during the carry-forward period are reduced.
- e) Business combination: In accounting for business combinations, judgment is required in identifying whether an identifiable intangible asset is to be recorded separately from goodwill. Additionally, estimating the acquisition date fair value of the identifiable assets (including useful life estimates) and liabilities acquired and contingent consideration assumed involves management judgment. These measurements are based on information available at the acquisition date and are based on expectations and assumptions that have been deemed reasonable by management. Changes in these
- judgments, estimates, and assumptions can materially affect the results of operations.
- f) Defined benefit plans and compensated absences: The cost of the defined benefit plans, compensated absences and the present value of the defined benefit obligation are based on actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases and mortality rates. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.
- g) Expected credit losses on financial assets: The impairment provisions of financial assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected timing of collection. The Company uses judgment in making these assumptions and selecting the inputs to the impairment calculation, based on the Company's history of collections, customer's creditworthiness, existing market conditions as well as forward looking estimates at the end of each reporting period.
- h) Measurement of fair value of non-marketable equity investments: These instruments are initially recorded at cost and subsequently measured at fair value. Fair value of investments is determined using the market and income approaches. The market approach includes the use of financial metrics and ratios of comparable companies, such as revenue, earnings, comparable performance multiples, recent financial rounds and the level of marketability of the investments. The selection of comparable companies requires management judgment and is based on a number of factors, including comparable company sizes, growth rates and development stages. The income approach includes the use of discounted cash flow model, which requires significant estimates regarding the investees' revenue, costs, and discount rates based on the risk profile of comparable companies. Estimates of revenue and costs are developed using available historical and forecast data.
- i) Useful lives of property, plant and equipment: The Company depreciates property, plant and equipment on a straight-line basis over estimated useful lives of the assets. The charge in respect of periodic depreciation is derived based on an estimate of an asset's expected useful life and the expected residual value at the end of its life. The lives are based on historical experience with similar assets as well as anticipation of future events, which may impact their life, such as changes in technology. The estimated useful life is reviewed at least annually.

- j) Other estimates: The share based compensation expense is determined based on the Company's estimate of equity instruments that will eventually vest. Fair valuation of derivative hedging instruments designated as cash flow hedges involves significant estimates relating to the occurrence of forecast transaction

3. Significant accounting policies

(i) Functional and presentation currency

These financial statements are presented in Indian rupees, which is the functional currency of the Company.

(ii) Foreign currency transactions and translation

Transactions in foreign currency are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the date of the transaction. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from translation at the exchange rates prevailing at the reporting date of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in the statement of profit and loss and reported within foreign exchange gains/(losses), net, within results of operating activities except when deferred in other comprehensive income as qualifying cash flow hedges and qualifying net investment hedges. Gains/(losses), net, relating to translation or settlement of borrowings denominated in foreign currency are reported within finance expense. Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency and measured at historical cost are translated at the exchange rate prevalent at the date of transaction. Translation differences on non-monetary financial assets measured at fair value at the reporting date, such as equities classified as fair value through other comprehensive income are included in other comprehensive income, net of taxes.

(iii) Financial instruments

a) Non-derivative financial instruments:

Non derivative financial instruments consist of:

- financial assets, which include cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, unbilled revenues, finance lease receivables, employee and other advances, investments in equity and debt securities and eligible current and non-current assets;

Financial assets are derecognised when substantial risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset have been transferred. In cases where substantial risks and rewards of ownership of the financial assets are neither transferred nor retained, financial assets are derecognised only when the Company has not retained control over the financial asset.

- financial liabilities, which include long and short-term loans and borrowings, bank overdrafts, trade payables, eligible current and non-current liabilities.
- Non- derivative financial instruments are recognised initially at fair value.

Subsequent to initial recognition, non-derivative financial instruments are measured as described below:

A. Cash and cash equivalents

The Company's cash and cash equivalents consist of cash on hand and in banks and demand deposits with banks, which can be withdrawn at any time, without prior notice or penalty on the principal.

For the purposes of the cash flow statement, cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, in banks and demand deposits with banks, net of outstanding bank overdrafts that are repayable on demand and are considered part of the Company's cash management system. In the balance sheet, bank overdrafts are presented under borrowings within current liabilities.

B. Investments

Financial instruments measured at amortised cost:

Debt instruments that meet the following criteria are measured at amortised cost (except for debt instruments that are designated at fair value through Profit or Loss (FVTPL) on initial recognition):

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the instrument give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payment of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI):

Debt instruments that meet the following criteria are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI) (except for debt instruments that are designated at fair value through Profit or Loss (FVTPL) on initial recognition)

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial asset; and
- the contractual terms of the instrument give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payment of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Interest income is recognised in statement of profit and loss for FVTOCI debt instruments. Other changes in fair value of FVTOCI financial assets are recognised in other comprehensive income. When the investment is disposed off, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in reserves is transferred to statement of profit and loss.

Financial instruments measured at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL):

Instruments that do not meet the amortised cost or FVTOCI criteria are measured at FVTPL. Financial assets at FVTPL are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period, with any gains or losses arising on re-measurement recognised in statement of profit and loss. The gain or loss on disposal is recognised in statement of profit and loss.

Interest income is recognised in statement of profit and loss for FVTPL debt instruments. Dividend on financial assets at FVTPL is recognised when the Company's right to receive dividend is established.

Investments in equity instruments designated to be classified as FVTOCI:

The Company carries certain equity instruments which are not held for trading. The Company has elected the FVTOCI irrevocable option for these instruments. Movements in fair value of these investments are recognised in other comprehensive income and the gain or loss is not reclassified to statement of profit and loss on disposal of these investments. Dividends from these investments are recognised in statement of profit and loss when the Company's right to receive dividends is established.

Investments in subsidiaries:

Investment in subsidiaries are measured at cost less impairment.

C. Other financial assets:

Other financial assets are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. They are presented as current assets, except for those maturing later than 12 months after the reporting date which are presented as non-current assets. These are initially recognised at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment losses. These comprise trade receivables, unbilled revenues, cash and cash equivalents and other assets.

D. Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables are initially recognised at fair value, and subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method. For these financial instruments, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the short-term maturity of these instruments.

b) Derivative financial instruments

The Company is exposed to foreign currency fluctuations on foreign currency assets, liabilities, net investment in foreign operations and forecasted cash flows denominated in foreign currency.

The Company limits the effect of foreign exchange rate fluctuations by following established risk management policies including the use of derivatives. The Company enters into derivative financial instruments where the counter party is primarily a bank.

Derivatives are recognised and measured at fair value. Attributable transaction costs are recognised in statement of profit and loss as cost.

Subsequent to initial recognition, derivative financial instruments are measured as described below:

A. Cash flow hedges

Changes in the fair value of the derivative hedging instrument designated as a cash flow hedge are recognised in other comprehensive income and held in cash flow hedging reserve, net of taxes, a component of equity, to the extent that the hedge is effective. To the extent that the hedge is ineffective, changes in fair value are recognised in the statement of profit and loss and reported within foreign exchange gains/(losses), net, within results from operating activities. If the hedging instrument no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting, then hedge accounting is discontinued prospectively. If the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated or exercised, the cumulative gain or loss on the hedging instrument recognised in cash flow hedging reserve till the period the hedge was effective remains in cash flow hedging reserve until the forecasted transaction occurs. The cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in the cash flow hedging reserve is transferred to the statement of profit and loss upon the occurrence of the related forecasted transaction. If the forecasted transaction is no longer expected to occur, such cumulative balance is immediately recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

B. Others

Changes in fair value of foreign currency derivative instruments not designated as cash flow hedges are recognised in the statement of profit and loss and reported within foreign exchange gains/(losses), net within results from operating activities.

Changes in fair value and gains/(losses), net, on settlement of foreign currency derivative instruments relating to borrowings, which have not been designated as hedges are recorded in finance expense.

c) Derecognition of financial instruments

The Company derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expires or it transfers the financial asset and the transfer qualifies for derecognition under Ind AS109. If the Company retains substantially all the risks and rewards of a transferred financial asset, the Company continues to recognise the financial asset and also recognises a borrowing for the proceeds received. A financial liability (or a part of a financial liability) is derecognised from the Company's balance sheet when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged or cancelled or expires.

(iv) Equity

a) Share capital and share premium

The authorised share capital of the Company as of March 31, 2018 is ₹11,265 divided into 5,500,000,000 equity shares of ₹ 2 each, 25,000,000 10.25% redeemable cumulative preference shares of ₹ 10 each and 150,000, 10% optionally convertible cumulative preference shares of ₹ 100 each. Par value of the equity shares is recorded as share capital and the amount received in excess of par value is classified as share premium.

Every holder of the equity shares, as reflected in the records of the Company as of the date of the shareholder meeting shall have one vote in respect of each share held for all matters submitted to vote in the shareholder meeting.

b) Capital Reserve

Capital reserve amounting to ₹1,139 (March 31, 2017: ₹1,139) is not freely available for distribution.

c) Capital Redemption Reserve

Capital redemption reserve amounting ₹781 (March 31, 2017: ₹ 94) is not freely available for distribution.

d) Retained earnings

Retained earnings comprises of the Company's undistributed earnings after taxes.

e) Share based payment reserve

The share based payment reserve is used to record the value of equity-settled share based payment transactions with employees. The amounts recorded in share based payment reserve are transferred to share premium upon exercise of stock options and restricted stock unit options by employees.

f) Special Economic Zone Re-Investment reserve

The Special Economic Zone Re-Investment Reserve has been created out of profit of eligible SEZ units as per provisions of section 10AA (1)(ii) of the Income-tax Act, 1961 for acquiring new plant and machinery. The reserve has also been utilised for other business purposes of SEZ units as per provisions of section 10AA of the Income-tax Act, 1961 till the time the said reserve is utilised completely for the purposes of purchasing new plant and machinery.

g) Other comprehensive income

Changes in the fair value of financial instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income and actuarial gains and losses on defined benefit plans are recognised in other comprehensive income (net of taxes), and presented within equity as other comprehensive income.

h) Cash flow hedging reserve

Changes in fair value of derivative hedging instruments designated and effective as a cash flow hedge are recognised in other comprehensive income (net of taxes), and presented within equity as cash flow hedging reserve.

i) Foreign currency translation reserve (FCTR)

The exchange differences arising from the translation of financial statements of foreign operations with functional currency other than Indian rupees is recognise in other comprehensive income, net of taxes and is presented within equity in the FCTR.

j) Dividend

A final dividend, including tax thereon, on equity shares is recorded as a liability on the date of approval by the shareholders. An interim dividend, including tax thereon, is recorded as a liability on the date of declaration by the board of directors.

k) Buyback of equity shares

The buyback of equity shares and related transaction costs are recorded as a reduction of free reserves. Further, capital redemption reserves is created as an apportionment from retained earnings.

(v) Property, plant and equipment

a) Recognition and measurement

Property, plant and equipment are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Cost includes expenditures directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset. General and specific borrowing costs directly attributable to the construction of a qualifying asset are capitalised as part of the cost.

b) Depreciation

The Company depreciates property, plant and equipment over the estimated useful life on a straight-line basis from the date the assets are available for use. Assets acquired under finance lease and leasehold improvements are amortised over the shorter of estimated useful life of the asset or the related lease term. Term licenses are amortised over their respective contract term. Freehold land is not depreciated. The estimated useful life of assets are reviewed and where appropriate are adjusted, annually. The estimated useful lives of assets are as follows:

Category	Useful life
Buildings	28 to 40 years
Plant and machinery	5 to 21 years
Computer equipment and software	2 to 7 years
Furniture, fixtures and equipment	3 to 10 years
Vehicles	4 to 5 years

When parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment. Subsequent expenditure relating to property, plant and equipment is capitalised only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with these will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

The cost of property, plant and equipment not available for use before such date are disclosed under capital work- in-progress.

(vi) Business combination, Goodwill and Intangible assets

a) Business combination

Business combinations are accounted for using the purchase (acquisition) method. The cost of an acquisition is measured as the fair value of the assets transferred, liabilities incurred or assumed and equity instruments issued at the date of exchange by the Company. Identifiable assets acquired and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are measured initially at fair value at the date of acquisition. Transaction costs incurred in connection with a business acquisition are expensed as incurred.

The cost of an acquisition also includes the fair value of any contingent consideration measured as at the date of acquisition. Any subsequent changes to the fair value of contingent consideration classified as liabilities, other than measurement period adjustments, are recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

b) Goodwill

The excess of the cost of an acquisition over the Company's share in the fair value of the acquiree's identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities is recognised as goodwill. If the excess is negative, a bargain purchase gain is recognised in equity as capital reserve. Goodwill is measured at cost less accumulated impairment (if any).

c) Intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured at cost of acquisition. Intangible assets acquired in a business combination are measured at fair value as at the date of acquisition. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortization and impairment losses, if any.

The amortization of an intangible asset with a finite useful life reflects the manner in which the economic benefit is expected to be generated.

The estimated useful life of amortisable intangibles is reviewed and where appropriate are adjusted, annually. The estimated useful lives of the amortisable intangible assets for the current and comparative periods are as follows:

Category	Useful life
Customer related intangibles	5 to 10 years
Marketing related intangibles	3 to 10 years

(vii) Leases

The determination of whether an arrangement is, or contains, a lease is based on the substance of the arrangement at the inception date. The arrangement is, or contains a lease if, fulfillment of the arrangement is dependent on the use of a specific asset or assets or the arrangement conveys a right to use the asset or assets, even if that right is not explicitly specified in an arrangement.

a) Arrangements where the Company is the lessee

Leases of property, plant and equipment, where the Company assumes substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. Finance leases are capitalised at lower of the fair value of the leased property and the present value of the minimum lease payments. Lease payments are apportioned between the finance charge and the outstanding liability. The finance charge is allocated to periods during the lease term at a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability.

Leases where the lessor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as operating leases. Payments made under operating leases are recognised in the statement of profit and loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

b) Arrangements where the Company is the lessor

In certain arrangements, the Company recognises revenue from the sale of products given under finance leases. The Company records gross finance receivables, unearned income and the estimated residual value of the leased equipment on consummation of such leases. Unearned income represents the excess of the gross finance lease receivable plus the estimated residual value over the sales price of the equipment. The Company recognises unearned income as finance income over the lease term using the effective interest method.

(viii) Inventories

Inventories are valued at lower of cost and net realisable value, including necessary provision for obsolescence. Cost is determined using the weighted average method.

(ix) Impairment

A) Financial assets

The Company applies the expected credit loss model for recognizing impairment loss on financial assets measured at amortised cost, debt instruments classified as FVTOCI, lease receivables, trade receivables and other financial assets. Expected credit loss is the difference between the contractual cash flows and the cash flows that the entity expects to receive discounted using effective interest rate.

Loss allowances for trade receivables and lease receivables are measured at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses. Lifetime expected credit losses are the expected credit losses that result from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. Lifetime expected credit loss is computed based on a provision matrix which takes in to the account risk profiling of customers and historical credit loss experience adjusted for forward looking information. For other financial assets, expected credit loss is measured at the amount equal to twelve months expected credit loss unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition, in which case those are measured at lifetime expected credit loss.

B) Non - financial assets

The Company assesses long-lived assets such as property, plant and equipment and acquired intangible assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset or group of assets may not be recoverable. If any such indication exists, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the asset or group of assets. The recoverable amount of an asset or cash generating unit is the higher of its fair value less cost of disposal (FVLCD) and its value-in-use (VIU). The VIU of long-lived assets is calculated using projected future cash flows. FVLCD of a cash generating unit is computed using turnover and earnings multiples. If the recoverable amount of the asset or the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit to which the asset belongs is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to its recoverable amount. The reduction is treated as an impairment loss and is recognised in the statement of profit and loss. If at the reporting date, there is an indication that a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and the impairment losses previously recognised are reversed such that the asset is recognised at its recoverable amount but not exceeding written down value which would have been reported if the impairment losses had not been recognised initially.

Goodwill is tested for impairment at least annually at the same time and when events occur or changes in circumstances indicate that the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit is less than its carrying value. The goodwill impairment test is performed at the level of cash-generating unit or groups of cash-generating units which represent the lowest level at which goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes. An impairment in respect of goodwill is not reversed.

(x) Employee benefits

a) Post-employment and pension plans

The Company participates in various employee benefit plans. Pensions and other post-employment benefits are classified as either defined contribution plans or defined benefit plans. Under a defined contribution plan, the Company's only obligation is to pay a fixed amount with no obligation to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employee benefits. The related actuarial and investment risks fall on the employee. The expenditure for defined contribution plans is recognised as an expense during the period when the employee provides service. Under a defined benefit plan, it is the Company's obligation to provide agreed benefits to the employees. The related actuarial and investment risks fall on the Company. The present value of the defined benefit obligations is calculated by an independent actuary using the projected unit credit method.

Actuarial gains or losses are immediately recognised in other comprehensive income, net of taxes and permanently excluded from profit or loss. Further, the profit or loss will no longer include an expected return on plan assets. Instead net interest recognised in profit or loss is calculated by applying the discount rate used to measure the defined benefit obligation to the net defined benefit liability or asset. The actual return on the plan assets above or below the discount rate is recognised as part of re-measurement of net defined liability or asset through other comprehensive income, net of taxes.

The Company has the following employee benefit plans:

A. Provident fund

Employees receive benefits from a provident fund, which is a defined benefit plan. The employer and employees each make periodic contributions to the plan. A portion of the contribution is made to the approved provident fund trust managed by the Company while the remainder of the contribution is made to the government administered pension fund. The contributions to the trust managed by the Company is accounted for as a defined benefit plan as the Company is liable for any shortfall in the fund assets based on the government specified minimum rates of return.

B. Superannuation

Superannuation plan, a defined contribution scheme is administered by third party fund managers. The Company makes annual contributions based on a specified percentage of each eligible employee's salary.

C. Gratuity

In accordance with the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972, applicable for Indian companies, the Company provides for a lump sum payment to eligible employees, at retirement or termination of employment based on the last drawn salary and years of employment with the Company. The gratuity fund is managed by the third-party fund managers. The Company's obligation in respect of the gratuity plan, which is a defined benefit plan, is provided for based on actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method. The Company recognises actuarial gains and losses in other comprehensive income, net of taxes.

b) Termination benefits

Termination benefits are expensed when the Company can no longer withdraw the offer of those benefits.

c) Short-term benefits

Short-term employee benefit obligations are measured on an undiscounted basis and are recorded as expense as the related service is provided. A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid under short-term cash bonus or profit-sharing plans, if the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

d) Compensated absences

The employees of the Company are entitled to compensated absences. The employees can carry forward a portion of the unutilised accumulating compensated absences and utilise it in future periods or receive cash at retirement or termination of employment. The Company records an obligation for compensated absences in the period in which the employee renders the services that increases this entitlement. The Company measures the expected cost of compensated absences as the additional amount that the Company expects to pay as a result of the unused entitlement that has accumulated at the end of the reporting period. The Company recognises accumulated compensated absences based on actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method. Non-accumulating compensated absences are recognised in the period in which the absences occur.

(xi) Share based payment transactions

Selected employees of the Company receive remuneration in the form of equity settled instruments, for rendering services over a defined vesting period. Equity instruments granted are measured by reference to the fair value of the instrument at the date of grant. In cases, where equity instruments are granted at a nominal exercise price, the intrinsic value on the date of grant approximates the fair value. The expense is recognised in the statement of profit and loss with a corresponding increase to the share based payment reserve, a component of equity.

The equity instruments generally vest in a graded manner over the vesting period. The fair value determined at the grant date is expensed over the vesting period of the respective tranches of such grants (accelerated amortization). The stock compensation expense is determined based on the Company's estimate of equity instruments that will eventually vest.

(xii) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation.

When some or all of the economic benefits required to settle a provision are expected to be recovered from a third party, the receivable is recognised as an asset, if it is virtually certain that reimbursement will be received and the amount of the receivable can be measured reliably.

Provisions for onerous contracts are recognised when the expected benefits to be derived by the Company from a contract are lower than the unavoidable costs of meeting the future obligations under the contract. Provisions for onerous contracts are measured at the present value of lower of the expected net cost of fulfilling the contract and the expected cost of terminating the contract.

(xiii) Revenue

The Company derives revenue primarily from software development, maintenance of software/hardware and related services, business process services, sale of IT and other products.

a) Services

The Company recognises revenue when the significant terms of the arrangement are enforceable, services have been delivered and the collectability is reasonably assured. The method for recognizing revenues and costs depends on the nature of the services rendered:

A. Time and materials contracts

Revenues and costs relating to time and materials contracts are recognised as the related services are rendered.

B. Fixed-price contracts

Revenues from fixed-price contracts, including systems development and integration contracts are recognised using the “percentage-of-completion” method. Percentage of completion is determined based on project costs incurred to date as a percentage of total estimated project costs required to complete the project. The cost expended (or input) method has been used to measure progress towards completion as there is a direct relationship between input and productivity. If the Company does not have a sufficient basis to measure the progress of completion or to estimate the total contract revenues and costs, revenue is recognised only to the extent of contract cost incurred for which recoverability is probable. When total cost estimates exceed revenues in an arrangement, the estimated losses are recognised in the statement of profit and loss in the period in which such losses become probable based on the current contract estimates.

‘Unbilled revenues’ represent cost and earnings in excess of billings as at the end of the reporting period. ‘Unearned revenues’ represent billing in excess of revenue recognised. Advance payments received from customers for which no services have been rendered are presented as ‘Advance from customers’.

C. Maintenance contracts

Revenue from maintenance contracts is recognised ratably over the period of the contract using the percentage of completion method. When services are performed through an indefinite number of repetitive acts over a specified period of time, revenue is recognised on a straight-line basis over the specified period unless some other method better represents the stage of completion.

In certain projects, a fixed quantum of service or output units is agreed at a fixed price for a fixed term. In such contracts, revenue is recognised with respect to the actual output achieved till date as a percentage of total contractual output. Any residual service unutilised by the customer is recognised as revenue on completion of the term.

b) Products

Revenue from products are recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the buyer, continuing managerial involvement usually associated with ownership and effective control have ceased, the amount of revenue can be measured reliably, it is probable that economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company and the costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably.

c) Multiple element arrangements

Revenue from contracts with multiple-element arrangements are recognised using the guidance in Ind AS 18, Revenue. The Company allocates the arrangement consideration to separately identifiable components based on their relative fair values or on the residual method. Fair values are determined based on sale prices for the components when it is regularly sold separately, third-party prices for similar components or cost plus an appropriate business-specific profit margin related to the relevant component.

d) Others

- The Company accounts for volume discounts and pricing incentives to customers by reducing the amount of revenue recognised at the time of sale.
- Revenues are shown net of sales tax, value added tax, service tax, goods and sales tax and applicable discounts and allowances.

- The Company accrues the estimated cost of warranties at the time when the revenue is recognised. The accruals are based on the Company's historical experience of material usage and service delivery costs.
- Costs that relate directly to a contract and incurred in securing a contract are recognised as an asset and amortised over the contract term as reduction in revenue
- Contract expenses are recognised as expenses by reference to the stage of completion of contract activity at the end of the reporting period.

(xiv) Finance cost

Finance cost comprise interest cost on borrowings, gain or losses arising on re-measurement of financial assets at FVTPL, gains/ (losses) on translation or settlement of foreign currency borrowings and changes in fair value and gains/ (losses) on settlement of related derivative instruments. Borrowing costs that are not directly attributable to a qualifying asset are recognised in the statement of profit and loss using the effective interest method.

(xv) Other income

Other income comprises interest income on deposits, dividend income and gains / (losses), net, on disposal of investments. Interest income is recognised using the effective interest method. Dividend income is recognised when the right to receive payment is established.

(xvi) Income tax

Income tax comprises current and deferred tax. Income tax expense is recognised in the statement of profit and loss except to the extent it relates to a business combination, or items directly recognised in equity or in other comprehensive income.

a) Current income tax

Current income tax for the current and prior periods are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities based on the taxable income for the period. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the current tax amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted as at the reporting date and applicable for the period. The Company offsets current tax assets and current tax liabilities, where it has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts and where it intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and liability simultaneously.

b) Deferred income tax

Deferred income tax is recognised using the balance sheet approach. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognised for deductible and taxable temporary differences arising between the tax base of assets and liabilities and their carrying amount in financial statements, except when the deferred income tax arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and affects neither accounting nor taxable profits or loss at the time of the transaction.

Deferred income tax assets are recognised to the extent it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised.

Deferred income tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences except in respect of taxable temporary differences that is expected to reverse within the tax holiday period, taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates and foreign branches where the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred income tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred income tax asset to be utilised.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

The Company offsets deferred income tax assets and liabilities, where it has a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities, and they relate to taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the same taxable entity, or on different taxable entities where there is an intention to settle the current tax liabilities and assets on a net basis or their tax assets and liabilities will be realised simultaneously.

(xvii) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is computed using the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period adjusted for treasury shares held. Diluted earnings per share is computed using the weighted-average number of equity and dilutive equivalent shares outstanding during the period, using the treasury stock method for options and warrants, except where the results would be anti-dilutive.

The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted retrospectively for all periods presented for any splits and bonus shares issues including for change effected prior to the approval of the financial statements by the Board of Directors.

(xviii) Cash flow statement

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit for the period is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past operating cash receipts or payments and item of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cash from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated.

(xix) Discontinued operations

A discontinued operation is a component of the Company's business that represents a separate line of business that has been disposed off or is held for sale, or is a subsidiary acquired exclusively with a view to resale. Classification as a discontinued operation occurs upon the earlier of disposal or when the operation meets the criteria to be classified as held for sale.

(xx) Non-current assets and disposal groups held for sale

Assets of disposal groups that is available for immediate sale and where the sale is highly probable of being completed within one year from the date of classification are considered and classified as assets held for sale. Noncurrent assets and disposal groups held for sale are measured at the lower of carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell.

New accounting standards adopted by the Company:

The accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are consistent with those followed in the preparation of the Company's annual financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2017.

Amendment to Ind AS 7- Statement of Cash Flows

The amendment requires entities to provide disclosures about changes in their liabilities arising from financing activities, including both changes arising from cash flows and non-cash changes (such as foreign exchange gains or losses). On initial application of the amendment, entities are not required to provide comparative information for preceding periods. The effect on adoption of Ind AS 7 on the financial statements is insignificant.

New accounting standards not yet adopted:

A new standard and amendment to a standard are not yet effective for annual periods beginning after April 1, 2017, and have not been applied in preparing these financial statements. New standard and amendment to standard that could have a potential impact on the financial statements of the Company are:

Ind AS 115- Revenue from Contract with Customers

In March 2018, Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") has notified the Ind AS 115, Revenue from

Contract with Customers. Ind AS 115 replaces existing revenue recognition standards Ind AS 11, Construction Contracts, Ind AS 18, Revenue and revised guidance note of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) on Accounting for Real Estate Transactions for Ind AS entities issued in 2016. According to the new standard, revenue is recognised to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to a customer in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. Ind AS 115 establishes a five-step model that will apply to revenue earned from a contract with a customer (with limited exceptions), regardless of the type of revenue transaction or the industry. Extensive disclosures will be required, including disaggregation of total revenue; information about performance obligation; changes in contract asset and liability account balances between periods and key judgments and estimates.

The standard allows for two methods of transition: the full retrospective approach, under which the standard will be applied retrospectively to each reported period presented, or the cumulative catch up approach, where the cumulative effect of applying the standard retrospectively is recognised at the date of initial application. The standard is effective for annual periods beginning on or after April 1, 2018. The Company will adopt this standard using the cumulative catch up transition method effective April 1, 2018 and accordingly, the comparative for year ended March 31, 2018, will not be retrospectively adjusted. The adoption of the new standard is expected to result in a reduction of approximately ₹1,604 in opening retained earnings, primarily relating to certain contract costs because these will not meet the criteria for recognition as contract fulfillment asset.

Appendix B to Ind AS 21, Foreign Currency Transactions and Advance Consideration

In March 2018, Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") has notified the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2018 containing Appendix B to Ind AS 21, Foreign Currency Transactions and Advance Consideration which clarifies that the date of the transaction for the purpose of determining the exchange rate to use on initial recognition of the related asset, expense or income is the date on which an entity initially recognises the non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability arising from the payment or receipt of advance consideration in a foreign currency. The effective date for adoption of the amendment is annual reporting periods beginning on or after April 1, 2018, though early adoption is permitted. The Company will apply the interpretation prospectively from the effective date and the effect on adoption of Appendix B to Ind AS 21 on the financial statements is insignificant.

Interest capitalised by the Company was ₹ 157 and ₹ 89 for the year ended March 31, 2018 and 2017 respectively. The capitalization rate used to determine the amount of borrowing cost capitalised for the year ended March 31, 2018 and 2017 are 1.9% and 2.4%, respectively.

5. Goodwill and other intangible assets

The Company is organized by two operating segments: IT Services and IT Products. Goodwill as at March 31, 2018 and 2017 has been allocated to the IT Services operating segment.

During the year ended March 31, 2017, the company realigned its CGUs. This realignment did not have any impact on allocation of goodwill to the CGUs. Below is the allocation of the goodwill to the CGUs:

CGUs	As at
	March 31, 2018	March 31, 2017
Energy, Natural Resources and Utilities (ENU)	₹ 3,782	₹ 3,782
Banking Financial Services and Insurance (BFSI)	100	100
Total	₹ 3,882	₹ 3,882

For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill is allocated to a CGU representing the lowest level within the company at which goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes, and which is not higher than the Company's operating segment. Goodwill is tested for impairment at least annually in accordance with the Company's procedure for determining the recoverable value of each CGU.

The recoverable amount of the CGU is determined on the basis of Fair Value Less Cost of Disposal (FVLCD). The FVLCD of the CGU is determined based on the market capitalization approach, using the turnover and earnings multiples derived from observable market data. The fair value measurement is categorised as a level 2 fair value based on the inputs in the valuation techniques used.

Based on the above testing, no impairment was identified as of March 31, 2018 and 2017 as the recoverable value of the CGUs exceeded the carrying value. Further, none of the CGU's tested for impairment as of March 31, 2018 and 2017 were at risk of impairment. An analysis of the calculation's sensitivity to a change in the key parameters (turnover and earnings multiples), did not identify any probable scenarios where the CGU's recoverable amount would fall below its carrying amount.

For the financial assets and liabilities subject to offsetting or similar arrangements, each agreement between the Company and the counterparty allows for net settlement of the relevant financial assets and liabilities when both elect to settle on a net basis. In the absence of such an election, financial assets and liabilities will be settled on a gross basis and hence are not offset.

Fair value

The fair value of cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, unbilled revenues, borrowings, trade payables, other current financial assets and liabilities approximate their carrying amount largely due to the short-term nature of these instruments. The Company's long-term debt has been contracted at market rates of interest. Accordingly, the carrying value of such long-term debt approximates fair value. Further, finance lease receivables that are overdue are periodically evaluated based on individual credit worthiness of customers. Based on this evaluation, the Company records allowance for estimated losses on these receivables. As of March 31, 2018, and 2017 the carrying value of such receivables, net of allowances approximates the fair value.

Investments in liquid and short-term mutual funds, which are classified as FVTPL are measured using net asset values at the reporting date multiplied by the quantity held. Fair value of investments in certificate of deposits, commercial papers and bonds classified as FVTOCI is determined based on the indicative quotes of price and yields prevailing in the market at the reporting date. Fair value of investments in equity instruments classified as FVTOCI is determined using market and income approaches.

The fair value of derivative financial instruments is determined based on observable market inputs including currency spot and forward rates, yield curves, currency volatility etc.

Fair value hierarchy

The table below analyses financial instruments carried at fair value, by valuation method. The different levels have been defined as follows:

Level 1 – Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 – Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).

Level 3 – Inputs for the assets or liabilities that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

The following table presents fair value of hierarchy of assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis:

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair value of the level 2 financial instruments included in the above table.

Derivative instruments (assets and liabilities): The Company enters into derivative financial instruments with various counter-parties, primarily banks with investment grade credit ratings. Derivatives valued using valuation techniques with market observable inputs are mainly interest rate swaps, foreign exchange forward contracts and foreign exchange option contracts. The most frequently applied valuation techniques include forward pricing, swap models and Black Scholes models (for option valuation), using present value calculations. The models incorporate various inputs including the credit quality of counterparties, foreign exchange spot and forward rates, interest rate curves and forward rate curves of the underlying. As at March 31, 2018, the changes in counterparty credit risk had no material effect on the hedge effectiveness assessment for derivatives designated in hedge relationships and other financial instruments recognised at fair value.

Investment in commercial papers, certificate of deposits and bonds: Fair value of these instruments is derived based on the indicative quotes of price and yields prevailing in the market as at reporting date.

Derivative assets and liabilities:

The Company is exposed to foreign currency fluctuations on foreign currency assets / liabilities, forecasted cash flows denominated in foreign currency and net investment in foreign operations. The Company follows established risk management policies, including the use of derivatives to hedge foreign currency assets / liabilities, foreign currency forecasted cash flows and net investment in foreign operations. The counter parties in these derivative instruments are primarily banks and the Company considers the risks of non-performance by the counterparty as non-material.

The following table presents the aggregate contracted principal amounts of the Company's derivative contracts outstanding:

The related hedge transactions for balance in cash flow hedging reserves as of March 31, 2018 are expected to occur and be reclassified to the statement of profit and loss over a period of two years.

As at March 31, 2018 and 2017, there were no significant gains or losses on derivative transactions or portions thereof that have become ineffective as hedges, or associated with an underlying exposure that did not occur.

Sale of financial assets

From time to time, in the normal course of business, the Company transfers accounts receivables, unbilled revenues, net investment in finance lease receivables (financial assets) to banks. Under the terms of the arrangements, the Company surrenders control over the financial assets and transfer is without recourse. Accordingly, such transfers are recorded as sale of financial assets. Gains and losses on sale of financial assets without recourse are recorded at the time of sale based on the carrying value of the financial assets and fair value of servicing liability. The incremental impact of such transactions on our cash flow and liquidity for the year ended March 31, 2018 and March 31, 2017 is not material.

In certain cases, transfer of financial assets may be with recourse. Under arrangements with recourse, the Company is obligated to repurchase the uncollected financial assets, subject to limits specified in the agreement with the banks. These are reflected as part of borrowings in the balance sheet.

Financial risk management

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk of loss of future earnings, to fair values or to future cash flows that may result from a change in the price of a financial instrument. The value of a financial instrument may change as a result of changes in the interest rates, foreign currency exchange rates and other market changes that affect market risk sensitive instruments. Market risk is attributable to all market risk sensitive financial instruments including investments, foreign currency receivables, payables and loans and borrowings.

The Company's exposure to market risk is a function of investment and borrowing activities and revenue generating activities in foreign currency. The objective of market risk management is to avoid excessive exposure of the Company's earnings and equity to losses.

Risk Management Procedures

The Company manages market risk through a corporate treasury department, which evaluates and exercises independent control over the entire process of market risk management. The corporate treasury department recommends risk management objectives and policies, which are approved by senior management and Audit Committee. The activities of this department include management of cash resources, implementing hedging strategies for foreign currency exposures, borrowing strategies, and ensuring compliance with market risk limits and policies.

Foreign currency risk

The Company operates internationally and a major portion of its business is transacted in several currencies. Consequently, the Company is exposed to foreign exchange risk through receiving payment for sales and services in the United States and elsewhere, and making purchases from overseas suppliers in various foreign currencies. The exchange rate risk primarily arises from foreign exchange revenue, receivables, cash balances, forecasted cash flows, payables and foreign currency loans and borrowings. A significant portion of the Company's revenue is in the U.S. Dollar, the United Kingdom Pound Sterling, the Euro, the Canadian Dollar and the Australian Dollar, while a large portion of costs are in Indian rupees. The exchange rate between the rupee and these currencies has fluctuated significantly in recent years and may continue to fluctuate in the future. Appreciation of the rupee against these currencies can adversely affect the Company's results of operations.

The Company evaluates exchange rate exposure arising from these transactions and enters into foreign currency derivative instruments to mitigate such exposure. The Company follows established risk management policies, including the use of derivatives like foreign exchange forward/option contracts to hedge forecasted cash flows denominated in foreign currency.

The Company has designated certain derivative instruments as cash flow hedges to mitigate the foreign exchange exposure of forecasted highly probable cash flows. The Company has also designated foreign currency borrowings as hedge against respective net investments in foreign operations.

As of March 31, 2018 and 2017 respectively, a ₹ 1 increase/decrease in the spot exchange rate of the Indian rupee with the U.S. dollar would result in approximately ₹ 1,500 (Statement of profit and loss ₹414 and other comprehensive income ₹ 1,086) and ₹ 1,155 (Statement of profit and loss ₹139 and other comprehensive income ₹ 1,016) respectively decrease/increase in the fair value of foreign currency dollar denominated derivative instruments.

The below table presents foreign currency risk from non-derivative financial instruments as of March 31, 2018 and 2017:

As at March 31, 2018 and 2017, respectively, every 1% increase/decrease of the respective foreign currencies compared to functional currency of the Company would impact results by approximately ₹ 318 and ₹ 21 respectively.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk primarily arises from floating rate borrowing, including various revolving and other lines of credit. The Company's investments are primarily in short-term investments, which do not expose it to significant interest rate risk. The Company manages its net exposure to interest rate risk relating to borrowings by entering into interest rate swap agreements, which allows it to exchange periodic payments based on a notional amount and agreed upon fixed and floating interest rates. Certain borrowings are also transacted at fixed interest rates. If interest rates were to increase by 100 bps from March 31, 2018, additional net annual interest expense on floating rate borrowing would amount to approximately ₹ 415.

Credit risk

Credit risk arises from the possibility that customers may not be able to settle their obligations as agreed. To manage this, the Company periodically assesses the financial reliability of customers, taking into account the financial condition, current economic trends, analysis of historical bad debts and ageing of accounts receivable. Individual risk limits are set accordingly. No single customer accounted for more than 10% of the accounts receivable as of March 31, 2018 and 2017, respectively and revenues for the year ended March 31, 2018 and 2017, respectively. There is no significant concentration of credit risk.

Counterparty risk

Counterparty risk encompasses issuer risk on marketable securities, settlement risk on derivative and money market contracts and credit risk on cash and time deposits. Issuer risk is minimized by only buying securities which are at least AA rated in India based on Indian rating agencies. Settlement and credit risk is reduced by the policy of entering into transactions with counterparties that are usually banks or financial institutions with acceptable credit ratings. Exposure to these risks are closely monitored and maintained within predetermined parameters. There are limits on credit exposure to any financial institution. The limits are regularly assessed and determined based upon credit analysis including financial statements and capital adequacy ratio reviews.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is defined as the risk that the Company will not be able to settle or meet its obligations on time or at a reasonable price. The Company's corporate treasury department is responsible for liquidity and funding as well as settlement management. In addition, processes and policies related to such risks are overseen by senior management. Management monitors the Company's net liquidity position through rolling forecasts on the basis of expected cash flows. As of March 31, 2018, cash and cash equivalents are held with major banks and financial institutions.

Deferred taxes on unrealised foreign exchange gain / loss relating to cash flow hedges, fair value movements in investments and actuarial gains/losses on defined benefit plans are recognised in other comprehensive income and presented within equity. Other than these, the change in deferred tax assets and liabilities is primarily recorded in the statement of profit and loss.

In assessing the realisability of deferred tax assets, the Company considers the extent to which it is probable that the deferred tax asset will be realised. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable profits during the periods in which those temporary differences and tax loss carry-forwards become deductible. The Company considers the expected reversal of deferred tax liabilities, projected future taxable income and tax planning strategies in making this assessment. Based on this, the Company believes that it is probable that the Company will realise the benefits of these deductible differences. The amount of deferred tax asset considered realisable, however, could be reduced in the near term if the estimates of future taxable income during the carry-forward period are reduced.

The Company has recognised deferred tax assets of ₹ 407 and ₹ Nil as at March 31, 2018 and 2017 in respect of capital loss incurred on account of liquidation of a subsidiary. Management's projections of future taxable capital gain support the assumption that it is probable that sufficient taxable income will be available to utilise this deferred tax asset.

Pursuant to the changes in the Indian income tax laws in the past years, Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) has been extended to income in respect of which deduction is claimed under Section 10A, 10B and 10AA of the Income Tax Act, 1961; consequently, the Company has calculated its tax liability for current domestic taxes after considering MAT. The excess tax paid under MAT provisions over and above normal tax liability can be carried forward and set-off against future tax liabilities computed under normal tax provisions. The Company was required to pay MAT in the past years and accordingly, a deferred tax asset of ₹ Nil and ₹ 1,469 has been recognised in the balance sheet as of March 31, 2018 and 2017, respectively, which can be carried forward for a period of fifteen assessment years immediately succeeding the assessment year in which it becomes allowable.

A substantial portion of the profits of the Company's India operations are exempt from Indian income taxes being profits attributable to export operations and profits from units established under Special Economic Zone, 2005 scheme. Units in designated special economic zones providing service on or after April 1, 2005 will be eligible for a deduction of 100 percent of profits or gains derived from the export of services for the first five years from commencement of provision of services and 50 percent of such profits and gains for a further five years. Certain tax benefits are also available for a further five years subject to the unit meeting defined conditions. Profits from certain other undertakings are also eligible for preferential tax treatment. The tax holiday period being currently available to the Company expires in various years through fiscal 2030-31. The expiration period of tax holiday for each unit within a SEZ is determined based on the number of years that have lapsed following year of commencement of production by that unit. The impact of tax holidays has resulted in a decrease of current tax expense of ₹11,598 and ₹11,927 for the year ended March 31, 2018 and 2017, respectively, compared to the effective tax amounts that we estimate we would have been required to pay if these incentives had not been available. The effect of these tax incentives on earnings per share for the year ended March 31, 2018 and 2017 was ₹2.44 and ₹2.46, respectively.

33. Commitments and contingencies

Capital commitments: As at March 31, 2018 and 2017 the Company had committed to spend approximately ₹ 12,545 and ₹ 11,340 respectively, under agreements to purchase/ construct property and equipment. These amounts are net of capital advances paid in respect of these purchases.

Contingent liabilities to the extent not provided for:

	As at
	March 31, 2018	March 31, 2017
Performance and financial guarantees given by the banks on behalf of the company	₹ 16,817	₹ 17,375
Guarantees given by the Company on behalf of subsidiaries	1,400	6,237

Contingencies and lawsuits:

The Company is subject to legal proceedings and claims (including tax assessment orders/ penalty notices) which have arisen in the ordinary course of its business. Some of the claims involve complex issues and it is not possible to make a reasonable estimate of the expected financial effect, if any, that will result from ultimate resolution of such proceedings.

However, the resolution of these legal proceedings is not likely to have a material and adverse effect on the results of operations or the balance sheet of the Company. The significant matters are discussed below.

In March 2004, the Company received a tax demand for year ended March 31, 2001 arising primarily on account of denial of deduction under section 10A of the Income Tax Act, 1961 (Act) in respect of profit earned by the Company's undertaking in Software Technology Park at Bengaluru. The same issue was repeated in the successive assessments for the years ended March 31, 2002 to March 31, 2011 and the aggregate demand is ₹ 47,583 (including interest of ₹ 13,832). The appeals filed against the said demand before the Appellate authorities have been allowed in favor of the Company by the second appellate authority for the years up to March 31, 2008. Further appeals have been filed by the Income tax authorities before the Hon'ble High Court. The Hon'ble High Court has heard and disposed-off majority of the issues in favor of the Company up to years ended March 31, 2004. Department has filed a Special Leave Petition (SLP) before the Supreme Court of India for the year ended March 31, 2001 to March 31, 2004.

On similar issues for years up to March 31, 2000, the Hon'ble High Court of Karnataka has upheld the claim of the Company under section 10A of the Act. For the year ended March 31, 2009, the appeals are pending before Income Tax Appellate Tribunal (Tribunal). For years ended March 31, 2010 and March 31, 2011, the Dispute Resolution Panel (DRP) allowed the claim of the Company under section 10A of the Act. The Income tax authorities have filed an appeal before the Tribunal.

The Company received the draft assessment order for the year ended March 31, 2012 in March 2016 with a proposed demand of ₹ 4,241 (including interest of ₹ 1,376). Based on the DRP's direction, allowing majority of the issues in favor of the Company, the assessing officer has passed the final order with Nil demand. However, on similar issue for earlier years, the Income Tax authorities have appealed before the Tribunal.

For year ended March 31, 2013 the Company received the final assessment order in November 2017 with a proposed demand of ₹ 3,286 (including interest of ₹ 1,166), arising primarily on account of section 10AA issues with respect to exclusion from Export Turnover. The Company has filed an appeal before Honorable ITAT, Bengaluru within the prescribed timelines.

For year ended March 31, 2014 the Company received the draft assessment order in January 2018 with a proposed demand of ₹ 8,701 (including interest of ₹ 2,700), arising primarily on account of section 10AA issues with respect to exclusion from Export Turnover. The Company has filed the appeal before DRP.

Considering the facts and nature of disallowance and the order of the appellate authority / Hon'ble High Court of Karnataka upholding the claims of the Company for earlier years, the Company believes that the final outcome of the above disputes should be in favor of the Company and there should not be any material adverse impact on the financial statements.

Income tax claims against the Company (excluding interest) amounting to ₹ 64,643 and ₹ 55,942 have not been acknowledged as debt as at March 31, 2018 and 2017, respectively. Interest, if these claims sustain on ultimate resolution, amounted to ₹ 36,797 as at March 31, 2018. These matters are pending before various Appellate Authorities and the management expects its position will likely be upheld on ultimate resolution and will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position and results of operations.

The contingent liability in respect of disputed demands for excise duty, custom duty, sales tax and other matters against the Company (excluding interest) amounting to ₹ 5,826 and ₹ 2,585 are not acknowledged as debt as at March 31, 2018 and March 31, 2017, respectively. Interest, if these claims sustain on ultimate resolution amounted to ₹ 1,919 as at March 31, 2018. However, the resolution of these legal proceedings is not likely to have a material and adverse effect on the results of operations or the financial position of the Company.

In December 2017, National Grid filed a legal claim against the Company in U.S. District Court of the Eastern District of New York seeking damages amounting to $ 140 million (₹9,124) plus additional costs related to an ERP implementation project that was completed in 2014. The Company expects to defend itself against the claim and believes that the claim will not sustain.

Annexure “A” To The Independent Auditor’s Report

(Referred to in paragraph (f) under ‘Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements’ section of our report to the Members of Wipro Limited of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 (“the Act”)

In conjunction with our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the Company as of and for the year ended March 31, 2018, we have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of WIPRO LIMITED (hereinafter referred to as “Company”) and its subsidiary companies, which are companies incorporated in India, as of that date.

Management’s Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Board of Directors of the company and its subsidiary companies, which are companies incorporated in India, are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the respective Companies considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (“the ICAI”). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the respective company’s policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditor’s Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the internal financial controls over financial reporting of the Company and its subsidiary companies, which are companies incorporated in India, based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the “Guidance Note”) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the Standards on Auditing, prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the internal financial controls system over financial reporting of the Company and its subsidiary companies, which are companies incorporated in India.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

A Company’s internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A Company’s internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company’s assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the Company and its subsidiary companies, which are companies incorporated in India, have, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2018, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the respective companies considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

(₹ in millions, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

1. The Company overview

Wipro Limited (“Wipro” or the “Parent Company”), together with its subsidiaries and controlled Trusts (collectively, “the Company” or the “Group”) is a global information technology (IT), consulting and business process services (BPS) Company.

Wipro is a public limited company incorporated and domiciled in India. The address of its registered office is Wipro Limited, Doddakannelli, Sarjapur Road, Bengaluru – 560 035, Karnataka, India. Wipro has its primary listing with BSE Ltd. (Bombay Stock Exchange) and National Stock Exchange of India Ltd. The Company’s American Depository Shares representing equity shares are also listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

These consolidated financial statements were authorised for issue by the Board of Directors on June 8, 2018. Amounts as at and for the year ended March 31, 2017, were audited by B S R & Co. LLP

2. Basis of preparation of consolidated financial statements

(i) Statement of compliance and basis of preparation

The consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (“Ind AS”), the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 (“the Companies Act”), as applicable and guidelines issued by the Securities and Exchange Board of India (“SEBI”). The Ind AS are prescribed under Section 133 of the Act read with Rule 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 and Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2016.

Accounting policies have been applied consistently to all periods presented in these financial statements.

The consolidated financial statements correspond to the classification provisions contained in Ind AS 1, “Presentation of Financial Statements”. For clarity, various items are aggregated in the statements of profit and loss and balance sheet. These items are disaggregated separately in the notes to the consolidated financial statements, where applicable.

All amounts included in the consolidated financial statements are reported in Indian rupees (₹ in millions) except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated. Due to rounding off, the numbers presented throughout the document may not add up precisely to the totals and percentages may not precisely reflect the absolute figures. Previous year figures have been regrouped/re-arranged, wherever necessary.

(ii) Basis of measurement

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost convention and on an accrual basis, except for the following material items which have been measured at fair value as required by relevant Ind AS:-

- a. Derivative financial instruments;
- b. Financial instruments classified as fair value through other comprehensive income or fair value through profit or loss;
- c. The defined benefit asset/ (liability) is recognised as the present value of defined benefit obligation less fair value of plan assets; and
- d. Contingent consideration.

(iii) Use of estimates and judgment

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future periods affected. In particular, information about significant areas of estimation, uncertainty and critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements are included in the following notes:

- a) Revenue recognition: The Company uses the percentage of completion method using the input (cost expended) method to measure progress towards completion in respect of fixed price contracts. Percentage of completion method accounting relies on estimates of total expected contract revenue and costs. This method is followed when reasonably dependable estimates of the revenues and costs applicable to various elements of the - contract can be made. Key factors that are reviewed in estimating the future costs to complete include estimates of future labor costs and productivity efficiencies. Because the financial reporting of these contracts depends on estimates that are assessed continually during the term of these contracts, recognised revenue and profit are subject to revisions as the contract progresses to completion. When estimates indicate that a loss will be incurred, the loss is provided for in the period in which the loss becomes probable. Volume discounts are recorded as a reduction of revenue. When the amount of discount varies with the levels of revenue, volume discount is recorded based on estimate of future revenue from the customer.

- b) Impairment testing: Goodwill and intangible assets with infinite useful life recognised on business combination are tested for impairment at least annually and when events occur or changes in circumstances indicate that the recoverable amount of the asset or the cash generating unit to which these pertain is less than the carrying value. The recoverable amount of the asset or the cash generating units is higher of value-in-use and fair value less cost of disposal. The calculation of value in use of a cash generating unit involves use of significant estimates and assumptions which includes turnover, growth rates and net margins used to calculate projected future cash flows, risk-adjusted discount rate, future economic and market conditions.
- c) Income taxes: The major tax jurisdictions for the Company are India and the United States of America. Significant judgments are involved in determining the provision for income taxes including judgment on whether tax positions are probable of being sustained in tax assessments. A tax assessment can involve complex issues, which can only be resolved over extended time periods.
- d) Deferred taxes: Deferred tax is recorded on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts, at the rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. The ultimate realisation of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable profits during the periods in which those temporary differences and tax loss carry-forwards become deductible. The Company considers the expected reversal of deferred tax liabilities and projected future taxable income in making this assessment. The amount of
- the deferred tax assets considered realisable, however, could be reduced in the near term if estimates of future taxable income during the carry-forward period are reduced.
- e) Business combination: In accounting for business combinations, judgment is required in identifying whether an identifiable intangible asset is to be recorded separately from goodwill. Additionally, estimating the acquisition date fair value of the identifiable assets (including useful life estimates) and liabilities acquired, and contingent consideration assumed involves management judgment. These measurements are based on information available at the acquisition date and are based on expectations and assumptions that have been deemed reasonable by management. Changes in these judgments, estimates, and assumptions can materially affect the results of operations.
- f) Defined benefit plans and compensated absences: The cost of the defined benefit plans, compensated absences and the present value of the defined benefit obligations are based on actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases and mortality rates. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.
- g) Expected credit losses on financial assets: The impairment provisions of financial assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected timing of collection. The Company uses judgment in making these assumptions and selecting the inputs to the impairment calculation, based on the Company's past history of collections, customer's credit-worthiness, existing market conditions as well as forward looking estimates at the end of each reporting period.
- h) Measurement of fair value of non-marketable equity investments: These instruments are initially recorded at cost and subsequently measured at fair value. Fair value of investments is determined using the market and income approaches. The market approach includes the use of financial metrics and ratios of comparable companies, such as revenue, earnings, comparable performance multiples, recent financial rounds and the level of marketability of the investments. The selection of comparable companies requires management judgment and is based on a number of factors, including comparable company sizes, growth rates, and development stages. The income approach includes the use of discounted cash flow model, which requires significant estimates regarding the investees' revenue, costs, and discount rates based on the risk profile of comparable companies. Estimates of revenue and costs are developed using available historical and forecast data.

- i) Useful lives of property, plant and equipment: The Company depreciates property, plant and equipment on a straight-line basis over estimated useful lives of the assets. The charge in respect of periodic depreciation is derived based on an estimate of an asset's expected useful life and the expected residual value at the end of its life. The lives are based on historical experience with similar assets as well as anticipation of future events, which may impact their life, such as changes in technology. The estimated useful life is reviewed at least annually.
- j) Other estimates: The share based compensation expense is determined based on the Company's estimate of equity instruments that will eventually vest. Fair valuation of derivative hedging instruments designated as cash flow hedges involves significant estimates relating to the occurrence of forecast transaction.

3. Significant accounting policies

(i) Basis of consolidation

Subsidiaries and controlled Trusts

The Company determines the basis of control in line with the requirements of Ind AS 110, Consolidated Financial Statements. Subsidiaries and controlled Trusts are entities controlled by the Group. The Group controls an entity when the parent has power over the entity, it is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. The financial statements of subsidiaries and controlled Trusts are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date on which control commences until the date on which control ceases.

All intra-Group balances, transactions, income and expenses are eliminated in full on consolidation.

Non-controlling interest

Non-controlling interests in the net assets (excluding goodwill) of consolidated subsidiaries are identified separately from the Company's equity. The interest of non-controlling shareholders may be initially measured either at fair value or at the non-controlling interest's proportionate share of the fair value of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. The choice of measurement basis is made on an acquisition to acquisition basis. Subsequent to acquisition, the carrying amount of non-controlling interest is the amount of those interests at initial recognition plus the non-controlling interest's share of subsequent changes in equity. Total comprehensive income is attributed to non-controlling interests even if it results in the non-controlling interest having a deficit balance.

Associates

Associates are entities in respect of which, the Company has significant influence, but not control, over the financial and operating policies. Generally, a Company has a significant influence if it holds between 20 and 50 percent of the voting power of another entity. Investments in such entities are accounted for using the equity method (associates) and are initially recognised at cost. The carrying amount of investment is increased / decreased to recognised investors share of profit or loss of the investee after the acquisition date.

Non-current assets and disposal groups held for sale

Assets of disposal groups that is available for immediate sale and where the sale is highly probable of being completed within one year from the date of classification are considered and classified as assets held for sale. Non-current assets and disposal groups held for sale are measured at the lower of carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell.

(ii) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements of each of the Company's entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which these entities operate (i.e. the "functional currency"). These consolidated financial statements are presented in Indian rupees, which is the functional currency of the Company.

(iii) Foreign currency transactions and translation

a) Transactions and balances

Transactions in foreign currency are translated into the respective functional currencies using the exchange rates prevailing at the date of the transaction. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from translation at the exchange rates prevailing at the reporting date of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss and reported within foreign exchange gains/(losses), net, within results of operating activities except when deferred in other comprehensive income as qualifying cash flow hedges and qualifying net investment hedges. Gains/(losses), net, relating to translation or settlement of borrowings denominated in foreign currency are reported within finance costs. Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency and measured at historical cost are translated at the exchange rate prevalent at the date of transaction. Translation differences on non-monetary financial assets measured at fair value at the reporting date, such as equities classified as financial instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income are included in other comprehensive income, net of taxes.

b) Foreign operations

For the purpose of presenting consolidated financial statements, the assets and liabilities of the Company's foreign operations that have a functional currency other than Indian rupees are translated into Indian rupees using exchange rates prevailing at the reporting date. Income and expense items are translated at the average exchange rates for the period. Exchange differences arising, if any, are recognised in other comprehensive income and held in foreign currency translation reserve (FCTR), a component of equity, except to the extent that the translation difference is allocated to non-controlling interest. When a foreign operation is disposed of, the relevant amount recognised in FCTR is transferred to the consolidated statement of profit and loss as part of the profit or loss on disposal. Goodwill and fair value adjustments arising on the acquisition of a foreign operation are treated as assets and liabilities of the foreign operation and translated at the exchange rate prevailing at the reporting date.

c) Others

Foreign currency differences arising on the translation or settlement of a financial liability designated as a hedge of a net investment in a foreign operation are recognised in other comprehensive income and presented within equity in the FCTR to the extent the hedge is effective. To the extent the hedge is ineffective, such differences are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss.

When the hedged part of a net investment is disposed of, the relevant amount recognised in FCTR is transferred to the consolidated statement of profit and loss as part of the profit or loss on disposal. Foreign currency differences arising from translation of intercompany receivables or payables relating to foreign operations, the settlement of which is neither planned nor likely in the foreseeable future, are considered to form part of net investment in foreign operation and are recognised in FCTR.

(iv) Financial instruments

A) Non-derivative financial instruments:

Non derivative financial instruments consist of:

- financial assets, which include cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, unbilled revenues, finance lease receivables, employee and other advances, investments in equity and debt securities and eligible current and non-current assets; Financial assets are derecognised when substantial risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset have been transferred. In cases where substantial risks and rewards of ownership of the financial assets are neither transferred nor retained, financial assets are derecognised only when the Company has not retained control over the financial asset.
- financial liabilities, which include long and short-term loans and borrowings, bank overdrafts, trade payables, eligible current and non-current liabilities.

Non-derivative financial instruments are recognised initially at fair value. Subsequent to initial recognition, non-derivative financial instruments are measured as described below:

a. Cash and cash equivalents

The Company's cash and cash equivalents consist of cash on hand and in banks and demand deposits with banks, which can be withdrawn at any time, without prior notice or penalty on the principal.

For the purposes of the cash flow statement, cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, in banks and demand deposits with banks, net of outstanding bank overdrafts that are repayable on demand and are considered part of the Company's cash management system. In the consolidated balance sheet, bank overdrafts are presented under borrowings within current liabilities.

b. Investments

Financial instruments measured at amortised cost:

Debt instruments that meet the following criteria are measured at amortised cost (except for debt instruments that are designated at fair value through Profit or Loss (FVTPL) on initial recognition):

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the instrument give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payment of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI):

Debt instruments that meet the following criteria are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI) (except for debt instruments that are designated at fair value through Profit or Loss (FVTPL) on initial recognition):

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial asset; and
- the contractual terms of the instrument give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payment of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Interest income is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss for FVTOCI debt instruments. Other changes in fair value of FVTOCI financial assets are recognised in other comprehensive income. When the investment is disposed of, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in reserves is transferred to the consolidated statement of profit and loss.

Financial instruments measured at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL):

Instruments that do not meet the amortised cost or FVTOCI criteria are measured at FVTPL. Financial assets at FVTPL are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period, with any gains or losses arising on re-measurement recognised in consolidated statement of profit and loss. The gain or loss on disposal is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss.

Interest income is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss for FVTPL debt instruments. Dividend on financial assets at FVTPL is recognised when the Group's right to receive dividend is established.

Investments in equity instruments designated to be classified as FVTOCI:

The Company carries certain equity instruments which are not held for trading. The Company has elected the FVTOCI irrevocable option for these instruments. Movements in fair value of these investments are recognised in other comprehensive income and the gain or loss is not transferred to consolidated statement of profit and loss on disposal of these investments. Dividends from these investments are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss when the Company's right to receive dividends is established.

c. Other financial assets:

Other financial assets are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. They are presented as current assets, except for those maturing later than 12 months after the reporting date which are presented as non-current assets. These are initially recognised at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment losses. These comprise trade receivables, unbilled revenues and other assets.

d. Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables are initially recognised at fair value, and subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method. For these financial instruments, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the short term maturity of these instruments. Contingent consideration recognised in the business combination is subsequently measured at fair value through profit or loss.

B) Derivative financial instruments

The Company is exposed to foreign currency fluctuations on foreign currency assets, liabilities, net investment in foreign operations and forecasted cash flows denominated in foreign currency.

The Company limits the effect of foreign exchange rate fluctuations by following established risk management policies including the use of derivatives. The Company enters into derivative financial instruments where the counterparty is primarily a bank.

Derivatives are recognised and measured at fair value. Attributable transaction costs are recognised in consolidated statement of profit and loss as cost.

Subsequent to initial recognition, derivative financial instruments are measured as described below:

a. Cash flow hedges

Changes in the fair value of the derivative hedging instrument designated as a cash flow hedge are recognised in other comprehensive income and held in cash flow hedging reserve, net of taxes, a component of equity, to the extent that the hedge is effective. To the extent that the hedge is ineffective, changes in fair value are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss and reported within foreign exchange gains/(losses), net within results from operating activities. If the hedging instrument no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting, then hedge accounting is discontinued prospectively. If the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated or exercised, the cumulative gain or loss on the hedging instrument recognised in cash flow hedging reserve till the period the hedge was effective remains in cash flow hedging reserve until the forecasted transaction occurs. The cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in the cash flow hedging reserve is transferred to the consolidated statement of profit and loss upon the occurrence of the related forecasted transaction. If the forecasted transaction is no longer expected to occur, such cumulative balance is immediately recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss.

b. Hedges of net investment in foreign operations

The Company designates derivative financial instruments as hedges of net investments in foreign operations. The Company has also designated a foreign currency denominated borrowing as a hedge of net investment in foreign operations. Changes in the fair value of the derivative hedging instruments and gains/losses on translation or settlement of foreign currency denominated borrowings designated as a hedge of net investment in foreign operations are recognised in other comprehensive income and presented within equity in the FCTR to the extent that the hedge is effective. To the extent that the hedge is ineffective, changes in fair value are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss and reported within foreign exchange gains/(losses), net within results from operating activities.

c. Others

Changes in fair value of foreign currency derivative instruments neither designated as cash flow hedges nor hedges of net investment in foreign operations are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss and reported within foreign exchange gains/(losses), net within results from operating activities. Changes in fair value and gains/(losses), net, on settlement of foreign currency derivative instruments relating to borrowings, which have not been designated as hedges are recorded in finance costs.

C) Derecognition of financial instruments

The Company derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or it transfers the financial asset and the transfer qualifies for derecognition under Ind AS 109. If the Company retains substantially all the risks and rewards of a transferred financial asset, the Company continues to recognise the financial asset and also recognises a borrowing for the proceeds received. A financial liability (or a part of a financial liability) is derecognised from the group's balance sheet when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged or cancelled or expires.

(v) Equity and share capital

a) Share capital and share premium

The authorised share capital of the Company as at March 31, 2018 is ₹ 11,265 divided into 5,500,000,000 equity shares of ₹ 2 each, 25,000,000 10.25% redeemable cumulative preference shares of ₹ 10 each and 150,000 10% optionally convertible cumulative preference shares of ₹ 100 each. Par value of the equity shares is recorded as share capital and the amount received in excess of par value is classified as share premium.

Every holder of the equity shares, as reflected in the records of the Company as of the date of the shareholder meeting shall have one vote in respect of each share held for all matters submitted to vote in the shareholder meeting.

b) Shares held by controlled Trust (Treasury shares)

The Company's equity shares held by the controlled Trust, which is consolidated as a part of the Group are classified as Treasury shares. The Company has 23,097,216 and 13,728,607 treasury shares as at March 31, 2018 and 2017, respectively. Treasury shares are recorded at acquisition cost.

c) Retained earnings

Retained earnings comprises of the Company's undistributed earnings after taxes. A portion of these earnings amounting to ₹ 1,139, represents capital reserve which is not freely available for distribution.

d) Share based payment reserve

The share based payment reserve is used to record the value of equity-settled share based payment transactions with employees. The amounts recorded in share based payment reserve are transferred to share premium upon exercise of stock options and restricted stock unit options by employees.

e) Foreign currency translation reserve

The exchange differences arising from the translation of financial statements of foreign subsidiaries, differences arising from translation of long-term inter-company receivables or payables relating to foreign operations settlement of which is neither planned nor likely in the foreseeable future, changes in fair value of the derivative hedging instruments and gains/losses on translation or settlement of foreign currency denominated borrowings designated as hedge of net investment in foreign operations are recognised in other comprehensive income, net of taxes and presented within equity in the FCTR.

f) Cash flow hedging reserve

Changes in fair value of derivative hedging instruments designated and effective as a cash flow hedge are recognised in other comprehensive income (net of taxes), and presented within equity as cash flow hedging reserve.

g) Other reserves

Changes in the fair value of financial instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income and actuarial gains and losses on defined benefit plans are recognised in other comprehensive income (net of taxes), and presented within equity in other reserves.

Other reserves also includes Capital redemption reserve amounting to ₹ 781 which is not freely available for distribution.

h) Dividend

A final dividend, including tax thereon, on common stock is recorded as a liability on the date of approval by the shareholders. An interim dividend, including tax thereon, is recorded as a liability on the date of declaration by the board of directors.

i) Buyback of equity shares

The buyback of equity shares and related transaction costs are recorded as a reduction of free reserves. Further, capital redemption reserve is created as an apportionment from retained earnings.

(vi) Property, plant and equipment

a) Recognition and measurement

Property, plant and equipment are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Cost includes expenditures directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset. General and specific borrowing costs directly attributable to the construction of a qualifying asset are capitalised as part of the cost.

b) Depreciation

The Company depreciates property, plant and equipment over the estimated useful life on a straight-line basis from the date the assets are available for use. Assets acquired under finance lease and leasehold improvements are amortised over the shorter of estimated useful life of the asset or the related lease term. Term licenses are amortised over their respective contract term. Freehold land is not depreciated. The estimated useful life of assets are reviewed and where appropriate are adjusted, annually. The estimated useful lives of assets are as follows:

Category	Useful life
Buildings	28 to 40 years
Plant and machinery	5 to 21 years
Computer equipment and software	2 to 7 years
Furniture, fixtures and equipment	3 to 10 years
Vehicles	4 to 5 years

When parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment. Subsequent expenditure relating to property, plant and equipment is capitalised only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with these will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

The cost of property, plant and equipment not available for use before such date are disclosed under capital work-in-progress.

(vii) Business combination, Goodwill and Intangible assetsa) Business combination

Business combinations are accounted for using the purchase (acquisition) method. The cost of an acquisition is measured as the fair value of the assets transferred, liabilities incurred or assumed and equity instruments issued at the date of exchange by the Company. Identifiable assets acquired and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are measured initially at fair value at the date of acquisition. Transaction costs incurred in connection with a business acquisition are expensed as incurred.

The cost of an acquisition also includes the fair value of any contingent consideration measured as at the date of acquisition. Any subsequent changes to the fair value of contingent consideration classified as liabilities, other than measurement period adjustments, are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss.

b) Goodwill

The excess of the cost of an acquisition over the Company's share in the fair value of the acquiree's identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities is recognised as goodwill. If the excess is negative, a bargain purchase gain is recognised in equity as capital reserve. Goodwill is measured at cost less accumulated impairment (if any).

c) Intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured at cost of acquisition. Intangible assets acquired in a business combination are measured at fair value as at the date of acquisition. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment losses, if any.

The amortisation of an intangible asset with a finite useful life reflects the manner in which the economic benefit is expected to be generated and is included in selling and marketing expenses in the consolidated statement of profit and loss.

The estimated useful life of amortisable intangibles are reviewed and where appropriate are adjusted, annually. The estimated useful lives of the amortisable intangible assets for the current and comparative periods are as follows:

Category	Useful life
Customer-related intangibles	5 to 15 years
Marketing related intangibles	3 to 10 years

(viii) Leases

The determination of whether an arrangement is, or contains, a lease is based on the substance of the arrangement at the inception date. The arrangement is, or contains a lease if, fulfillment of the arrangement is dependent on the use of a specific asset or assets or the arrangement conveys a right to use the asset or assets, even if that right is not explicitly specified in an arrangement.

a) Arrangements where the Company is the lessee

Leases of property, plant and equipment, where the Company assumes substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. Finance leases are capitalised at lower of the fair value of the leased property and the present value of the minimum lease payments. Lease payments are apportioned between the finance charge and the outstanding liability. The finance charge is allocated to periods during the lease term at a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability.

Leases where the lessor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as operating leases. Payments made under operating leases are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

b) Arrangements where the Company is the lessor

In certain arrangements, the Company recognizes revenue from the sale of products given under finance leases. The Company records gross finance lease receivables, unearned income and the estimated residual value of the leased equipment on consummation of such leases. Unearned income represents the excess of the gross finance lease receivable plus the estimated residual value over the sales price of the equipment. The Company recognizes unearned income as finance income over the lease term using the effective interest method.

(ix) Inventories

Inventories are valued at lower of cost and net realisable value, including necessary provision for obsolescence. Cost is determined using the weighted average method.

(x) ImpairmentA) Financial assets

The Company applies the expected credit loss model for recognizing impairment loss on financial assets measured at amortised cost, debt instruments at FVTOCI, lease receivables, trade receivables and other financial assets. Expected credit loss is the difference between the contractual cash flows and the cash flows that the entity expects to receive, discounted using the effective interest rate.

Loss allowances for trade receivables and lease receivables are measured at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit loss. Lifetime expected credit losses are the expected credit losses that result from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. Lifetime expected credit loss is computed based on a provision matrix which takes in to account risk profiling of customers and historical credit loss experience adjusted for forward looking information. For other financial assets, expected credit loss is measured at the amount equal to twelve months expected credit loss unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition, in which case those are measured at lifetime expected credit loss.

B) Non-financial assets

The Company assesses long-lived assets such as property, plant and equipment and acquired intangible assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset or group of assets may not be recoverable. If any such indication exists, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the asset or group of assets. The recoverable amount of an asset or cash generating unit is the higher of its fair value less cost of disposal (FVLCD) and its value-in-use (VIU). The VIU of long-lived assets is calculated using projected future cash flows. FVLCD of a cash generating unit is computed using turnover and earnings multiples. If the recoverable amount of the asset or the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit to which the asset belongs is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to its recoverable amount. The reduction is treated as an impairment loss and is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss. If at the reporting date, there is an indication that a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and the impairment losses previously recognised are reversed such that the asset is recognised at its recoverable amount but not exceeding written down value which would have been reported if the impairment losses had not been recognised initially.

Goodwill is tested for impairment at least annually at the same time and when events occur or changes in circumstances indicate that the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit is less than its carrying value. The goodwill impairment test is performed at the level of cash-generating unit or groups of cash-generating units which represents the lowest level at which goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes. An impairment in respect of goodwill is not reversed.

(xi) Employee benefits

Post-employment and pension plans

The Group participates in various employee benefit plans. Pensions and other post-employment benefits are classified as either defined contribution plans or defined benefit plans. Under a defined contribution plan, the Company's only obligation is to pay a fixed amount with no obligation to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employee benefits. The related actuarial and investment risks are borne by the employee. The expenditure for defined contribution plans is recognised as an expense during the period when the employee provides service. Under a defined benefit plan, it is the Company's obligation to provide agreed benefits to the employees. The related actuarial and investment risks are borne by the Company. The present value of the defined benefit obligations is calculated by an independent actuary using the projected unit credit method.

Actuarial gains or losses are immediately recognised in other comprehensive income, net of taxes and permanently excluded from profit or loss. Further, the profit or loss will no longer include an expected return on plan assets. Instead net interest recognised in profit or loss is calculated by applying the discount rate used to measure the defined benefit obligation to the net defined benefit liability or asset. The actual return on the plan assets above or below the discount rate is recognised as part of re-measurement of net defined liability or asset through other comprehensive income, net of taxes.

The Company has the following employee benefit plans:

a. Provident fund

Employees receive benefits from a provident fund, which is a defined benefit plan. The employer and employees each make periodic contributions to the plan. A portion of the contribution is made to the approved provident fund trust managed by the Company while the remainder of the contribution is made to the government administered pension fund. The contributions to the trust managed by the Company is accounted for as a defined benefit plan as the Company is liable for any shortfall in the fund assets based on the government specified minimum rates of return.

b. Superannuation

Superannuation plan, a defined contribution scheme is administered by third party fund managers. The Company makes annual contributions based on a specified percentage of each eligible employee's salary.

c. Gratuity

In accordance with the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972, applicable for Indian companies, the Company provides for a lump sum payment to eligible employees, at retirement or termination of employment based on the last drawn salary and years of employment with the Company. The gratuity fund is managed by third party fund managers. The Company's obligation in respect of the gratuity plan, which is a defined benefit plan, is provided for based on actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method. The Company recognises actuarial gains and losses in other comprehensive income, net of taxes.

d. Termination benefits

Termination benefits are expensed when the Company can no longer withdraw the offer of those benefits.

e. Short-term benefits

Short-term employee benefit obligations are measured on an undiscounted basis and are recorded as expense as the related service is provided. A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid under short-term cash bonus or profit-sharing plans, if the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

f. Compensated absences

The employees of the Company are entitled to compensated absences. The employees can carry forward a portion of the unutilised accumulating compensated absences and utilise it in future periods or receive cash at retirement or termination of employment. The Company records an obligation for compensated absences in the period in which the employee renders the services that increases this entitlement. The Company measures the expected cost of compensated absences as the additional amount that the Company expects to pay as a result of the unused entitlement that has accumulated at the end of the reporting period. The Company recognises accumulated compensated absences based on actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method. Non-accumulating compensated absences are recognised in the period in which the absences occur.

(xii) Share based payment transactions

Selected employees of the Company receive remuneration in the form of equity settled instruments, for rendering services over a defined vesting period. Equity instruments granted are measured by reference to the fair value of the instrument at the date of grant. In cases, where equity instruments are granted at a nominal exercise price, the intrinsic value on the date of grant approximates the fair value. The expense is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss with a corresponding increase to the share based payment reserve, a component of equity.

The equity instruments generally vest in a graded manner over the vesting period. The fair value determined at the grant date is expensed over the vesting period of the respective tranches of such grants (accelerated amortisation). The stock compensation expense is determined based on the Company's estimate of equity instruments that will eventually vest.

(xiii) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation.

When some or all of the economic benefits required to settle a provision are expected to be recovered from a third party, the receivable is recognised as an asset, if it is virtually certain that reimbursement will be received and the amount of the receivable can be measured reliably.

Provisions for onerous contracts are recognised when the expected benefits to be derived by the Company from a contract are lower than the unavoidable costs of meeting the future obligations under the contract. Provisions for onerous contracts are measured at the present value of lower of the expected net cost of fulfilling the contract and the expected cost of terminating the contract.

(xiv) Revenue

The Company derives revenue primarily from software development, maintenance of software/hardware and related services, business process services, sale of IT and other products.

a) Services

The Company recognizes revenue when the significant terms of the arrangement are enforceable, services have been delivered and the collectability is reasonably assured. The method for recognising revenues and costs depends on the nature of the services rendered:

A. Time and materials contracts

Revenues and costs relating to time and materials contracts are recognised as the related services are rendered.

B. Fixed-price contracts

Revenues from fixed-price contracts, including systems development and integration contracts are recognised using the “percentage-of-completion” method. Percentage of completion is determined based on project costs incurred to date as a percentage of total estimated project costs required to complete the project. The cost expended (or input) method has been used to measure progress towards completion as there is a direct relationship between input and productivity. If the Company does not have a sufficient basis to measure the progress of completion or to estimate the total contract revenues and costs, revenue is recognised only to the extent of contract cost incurred for which recoverability is probable. When total cost estimates exceed revenues in an arrangement, the estimated losses are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss in the period in which such losses become probable based on the current contract estimates.

‘Unbilled revenues’ represent cost and earnings in excess of billings as at the end of the reporting period. ‘Unearned revenues’ represent billing in excess of revenue recognised. Advance payments received from customers for which no services have been rendered are presented as ‘Advance from customers’.

C. Maintenance contracts

Revenue from maintenance contracts is recognised ratably over the period of the contract using the percentage of completion method. When services are performed through an indefinite number of repetitive acts over a specified period of time, revenue is recognised on a straight-line basis over the specified period unless some other method better represents the stage of completion.

In certain projects, a fixed quantum of service or output units is agreed at a fixed price for a fixed term. In such contracts, revenue is recognised with respect to the actual output achieved till date as a percentage of total contractual output. Any residual service unutilised by the customer is recognised as revenue on completion of the term.

b) Products

Revenue from products are recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the buyer, continuing managerial involvement usually associated with ownership and effective control have ceased, the amount of revenue can be measured reliably, it is probable that economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company and the costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably.

c) Multiple element arrangements

Revenue from contracts with multiple-element arrangements are recognised using the guidance in Ind AS 18, Revenue. The Company allocates the arrangement consideration to separately identifiable components based on their relative fair values or on the residual method. Fair values are determined based on sale prices for the components when it is regularly sold separately, third-party prices for similar components or cost plus an appropriate business-specific profit margin related to the relevant component.

d) Others

- The Company accounts for volume discounts and pricing incentives to customers by reducing the amount of revenue recognised at the time of sale.
- Revenues are shown net of sales tax, value added tax, service tax, goods and sales tax and applicable discounts and allowances. Revenue includes excise duty.
- The Company accrues the estimated cost of warranties at the time when the revenue is recognised. The accruals are based on the Company’s historical experience of material usage and service delivery costs.
- Costs that relate directly to a contract and incurred in securing a contract are recognised as an asset and amortised over the contract term as reduction of revenue.
- Contract expenses are recognised as expenses by reference to the stage of completion of contract activity at the end of the reporting period.

(xv) Finance costs

Finance costs comprises interest cost on borrowings, gains or losses arising on re-measurement of financial assets measured at FVTPL, gains/ (losses), net, on translation or settlement of foreign currency borrowings and changes in fair value and gains/ (losses), net, on settlement of related derivative instruments. Borrowing costs that are not directly attributable to a qualifying asset are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss using the effective interest method.

(xvi) Finance and other income

Finance and other income comprises interest income on deposits, dividend income and gains / (losses) on disposal of investments. Interest income is recognised using the effective interest method. Dividend income is recognised when the right to receive payment is established.

(xvii) Income tax

Income tax comprises current and deferred tax. Income tax expense is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss except to the extent it relates to a business combination, or items directly recognised in equity or in other comprehensive income.

a) Current income tax

Current income tax for the current and prior periods are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities based on the taxable income for the period. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the current tax amounts are those that are enacted or substantively enacted as at the reporting date and applicable for the period. The Company offsets current tax assets and current tax liabilities, where it has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts and where it intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and liability simultaneously.

b) Deferred income tax

Deferred income tax is recognised using the balance sheet approach. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognised for deductible and taxable temporary differences arising between the tax base of assets and liabilities and their carrying amount in financial statements, except when the deferred income tax arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and affects neither accounting nor taxable profits or loss at the time of the transaction.

Deferred income tax assets are recognised to the extent it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised.

Deferred income tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences except in respect of taxable temporary differences that is expected to reverse within the tax holiday period, taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates and foreign branches where the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred income tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred income tax asset to be utilised.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

The Company offsets deferred income tax assets and liabilities, where it has a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities, and they relate to taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the same taxable entity, or on different taxable entities where there is an intention to settle the current tax liabilities and assets on a net basis or their tax assets and liabilities will be realised simultaneously.

(xviii) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is computed using the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period adjusted for treasury shares held. Diluted earnings per share is computed using the weighted-average number of equity and dilutive equivalent shares outstanding during the period, using the treasury stock method for options and warrants, except where the results would be anti-dilutive.

The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted retrospectively for all periods presented for any splits and bonus shares issues including for change effected prior to the approval of the consolidated financial statements by the Board of Directors.

(xix) Cash flow statement

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit for the period is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past operating cash receipts or payments and item of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cash from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated.

(xx) Discontinued operations

A discontinued operation is a component of the Company's business that represents a separate line of business that has been disposed of or is held for sale, or is a subsidiary acquired exclusively with a view to resale. Classification as a discontinued operation occurs upon the earlier of disposal or when the operation meets the criteria to be classified as held for sale.

New Accounting standards adopted by the Company:

The accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements are consistent with those followed in the preparation of the Company's annual consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2017.

Ind AS 7- Statement of Cash flows

The amendments require entities to provide disclosures about changes in their liabilities arising from financing activities, including both changes arising from cash flows and non-cash changes (such as foreign exchange gains or losses). On initial application of the amendment, entities are not required to provide comparative information for preceding periods. The effect on adoption of Ind AS 7 on the consolidated financial statements is insignificant.

New accounting standards not yet adopted:

A new standard and amendment to a standard are not yet effective for annual periods beginning after April 1, 2017, and have not been applied in preparing these consolidated financial statements. New standard and amendment to standard that could have a potential impact on the consolidated financial statements of the Company are:

Ind AS 115- Revenue from Contract with Customers

In March 2018, Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") has notified the Ind AS 115, Revenue from Contract with Customers. Ind AS 115 replaces existing revenue recognition standards Ind AS 11, Construction Contracts, Ind AS 18, Revenue and revised guidance note of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) on Accounting for Real Estate Transactions for Ind AS entities issued in 2016. According to the new standard, revenue is recognised to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to a customer in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. Ind AS 115 establishes a five-step model that will apply to revenue earned from a contract with a customer (with limited exceptions), regardless of the type of revenue transaction or the industry. Extensive disclosures will be required, including disaggregation of total revenue; information about performance obligation; changes in contract asset and liability account balances between periods and key judgments and estimates.

The standard allows for two methods of transition: the full retrospective approach, under which the standard will be applied retrospectively to each reported period presented, or the cumulative catch up approach, where the cumulative effect of applying the standard retrospectively is recognised at the date of initial application. The standard is effective for annual periods beginning on or after April 1, 2018. The Company will adopt this standard using the cumulative catch up transition method effective April 1, 2018 and accordingly, the comparative for year ended March 31, 2018, will not be retrospectively adjusted. The adoption of the new standard is expected to result in a reduction of approximately ₹ 2,239 in opening retained earnings, primarily relating to certain contract costs because these will not meet the criteria for recognition as contract fulfillment asset.

Appendix B to Ind AS 21, Foreign Currency Transactions and Advance Consideration

In March 2018, Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") has notified the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2018 containing Appendix B to Ind AS 21, Foreign Currency Transactions and Advance Consideration which clarifies that the date of the transaction for the purpose of determining the exchange rate to use on initial recognition of the related asset, expense or income is the date on which an entity initially recognises the non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability arising from the payment or receipt of advance consideration in a foreign currency. The effective date for adoption of the amendment is annual reporting periods beginning on or after April 1, 2018, though, early adoption is permitted. The Company will apply the amendment prospectively from the effective date and the effect on adoption of the amendment on the consolidated financial statements is insignificant.

5. Goodwill and Other intangible assets

The movement in goodwill balance is given below:

	As at
	March 31, 2018	March 31, 2017
Balance at the beginning of the year	₹ 122,276	₹ 98,394
Translation adjustment	2,952	(4,242)

Assets reclassified as held for sale	(12,354)	-
Balance at the end of the year	₹ 114,046	₹ 122,276

Acquisition through business combinations for the year ended March 31, 2018, includes goodwill recognised on four acquisitions. Also refer note 6 to the consolidated financial statements.

The Company is organised by two operating segments: IT Services and IT Products. Goodwill as at March 31, 2018 and 2017 has been allocated to the IT Services operating segment.

Goodwill recognised on business combinations is allocated to Cash Generating Units (CGUs), within the IT Services operating segment, which are expected to benefit from the synergies of the acquisitions.

Goodwill has been allocated to the CGUs as at March 31, 2018 and 2017 as follows:

CGUs	March 31, 2018	March 31, 2017
Banking Financial Services and Insurance (BFSI)	₹ 17,475	₹ 19,912
Healthcare and Life Sciences (HLS)	49,085	48,144
Consumer (CBU)	14,776	17,442

Manufacturing and Technology (MNT)	16,868	19,480
Communication (COMM)	979	905
	₹ 114,046	₹ 122,276

For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill is allocated to a CGU representing the lowest level within the Group at which goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes, and which is not higher than the Company's operating segment. Goodwill is tested for impairment at least annually in accordance with the Company's procedure for determining the recoverable value of each CGU.

The recoverable amount of the CGU is determined on the basis of Fair Value Less Cost of Disposal (FVLCD). The FVLCD of the CGU is determined based on the market capitalisation approach, using the turnover and earnings multiples derived from observable market data. The fair value measurement is categorised as a level 2 fair value based on the inputs in the valuation techniques used.

Based on the above testing, no impairment was identified as at March 31, 2018 and 2017, as the recoverable value of the CGUs exceeded the carrying value. Further, none of the CGUs tested for impairment as at March 31, 2018 and 2017 were at risk of impairment. An analysis of the calculation's sensitivity to a change in the key parameters (turnover and earnings multiples), did not identify any probable scenarios where the CGUs recoverable amount would fall below its carrying amount.

For the financial assets and liabilities subject to offsetting or similar arrangements, each agreement between the Company and the counterparty allows for net settlement of the relevant financial assets and liabilities when both elect to settle on a net basis. In the absence of such an election, financial assets and liabilities will be settled on a gross basis and hence are not offset.

Fair value

Financial assets and liabilities include cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, unbilled revenues, finance lease receivables, employee and other advances and eligible current and non-current assets, long and short-term loans and borrowings, finance lease payables, bank overdrafts, trade payable, eligible current liabilities and non-current liabilities.

The fair value of cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, unbilled revenues, borrowings, trade payables, other current financial assets and liabilities approximate their carrying amount largely due to the short-term nature of these instruments. The Company's long-term debt has been contracted at market rates of interest. Accordingly, the carrying value of such long-term debt approximates fair value. Further, finance lease receivables that are overdue are periodically evaluated based on individual credit worthiness of customers. Based on this evaluation, the Company records allowance for estimated losses on these receivables. As at March 31, 2018 and 2017, the carrying value of such receivables, net of allowances approximates the fair value.

Investments in liquid and short-term mutual funds, which are classified as FVTPL are measured using net asset values at the reporting date multiplied by the quantity held. Fair value of investments in commercial papers, certificate of deposits and bonds classified as FVTOCI is determined based on the indicative quotes of price and yields prevailing in the market at the reporting date. Fair value of investments in equity instruments classified as FVTOCI is determined using market and income approaches.

The fair value of derivative financial instruments is determined based on observable market inputs including currency spot and forward rates, yield curves, currency volatility etc.

Fair value hierarchy

The table below analyses financial instruments carried at fair value, by valuation method. The different levels have been defined as follows:

Level 1 – Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 – Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).

Level 3 – Inputs for the assets or liabilities that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

The following table presents fair value of hierarchy of assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis:

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair value of the level 2 financial instruments included in the above table.

Derivative instruments (assets and liabilities): The Company enters into derivative financial instruments with various counter-parties, primarily, banks with investment grade credit ratings. Derivatives valued using valuation techniques with market observable inputs are mainly interest rate swaps, foreign exchange forward contracts and foreign exchange option contracts. The most frequently applied valuation techniques include forward pricing, swap models and Black Scholes models (for option valuation), using present value calculations. The models incorporate various inputs including the credit quality of counterparties, foreign exchange spot and forward rates, interest rate curves and forward rate curves of the underlying. As at March 31, 2018, the changes in counterparty credit risk had no material effect on the hedge effectiveness assessment for derivatives designated in hedge relationships and other financial instruments recognised at fair value.

Investment in commercial papers, certificate of deposits and bonds: Fair value of these instruments is derived based on the indicative quotes of price and yields prevailing in the market as at reporting date.

Derivative assets and liabilities:

The Company is exposed to foreign currency fluctuations on foreign currency assets / liabilities, forecasted cash flows denominated in foreign currency and net investment in foreign operations. The Company follows established risk management policies, including the use of derivatives to hedge foreign currency assets / liabilities, foreign currency forecasted cash flows and net investment in foreign operations. The counter parties in these derivative instruments are primarily banks and the Company considers the risks of non-performance by the counterparty as non-material.

Sale of financial assets

From time to time, in the normal course of business, the Company transfers accounts receivables, unbilled revenues, net investment in finance lease receivables (financial assets) to banks. Under the terms of the arrangements, the Company surrenders control over the financial assets and transfer is without recourse. Accordingly, such transfers are recorded as sale of financial assets. Gains and losses on sale of financial assets without recourse are recorded at the time of sale based on the carrying value of the financial assets and fair value of servicing liability. The incremental impact of such transactions on our cash flow and liquidity for the year ended March 31, 2018 and March 31, 2017 is not material.

In certain cases, transfer of financial assets may be with recourse. Under arrangements with recourse, the Company is obligated to repurchase the uncollected financial assets, subject to limits specified in the agreement with the banks. These are reflected as part of loans and borrowings in the statement of consolidated balance sheet.

Financial risk management

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk of loss of future earnings, to fair values or to future cash flows that may result from a change in the price of a financial instrument. The value of a financial instrument may change as a result of changes in the interest rates, foreign currency exchange rates and other market changes that affect market risk sensitive instruments. Market risk is attributable to all market risk sensitive financial instruments including investments, foreign currency receivables, payables and borrowings.

The Company's exposure to market risk is a function of investment and borrowing activities and revenue generating activities in foreign currency. The objective of market risk management is to avoid excessive exposure of the Company's earnings and equity to losses.

Risk Management Procedures

The Company manages market risk through a corporate treasury department, which evaluates and exercises independent control over the entire process of market risk management. The corporate treasury department recommends risk management objectives and policies, which are approved by senior management and Audit Committee. The activities of this department include management of cash resources, implementing hedging strategies for foreign currency exposures, borrowing strategies, and ensuring compliance with market risk limits and policies.

Foreign currency risk

The Company operates internationally and a major portion of its business is transacted in several currencies. Consequently, the Company is exposed to foreign exchange risk through receiving payment for sales and services in the United States and elsewhere, and making purchases from overseas suppliers in various foreign currencies. The exchange rate risk primarily arises from foreign exchange revenue, receivables, cash balances, forecasted cash flows, payables and foreign currency loans and borrowings. A significant portion of the Company's revenue is in the U.S. Dollar, the United Kingdom Pound Sterling, the Euro, the Canadian Dollar and the Australian Dollar, while a large portion of costs are in Indian rupees. The exchange rate between the rupee and these currencies has fluctuated significantly in recent years and may continue to fluctuate in the future. Appreciation of the rupee against these currencies can adversely affect the Company's results of operations.

The Company evaluates exchange rate exposure arising from these transactions and enters into foreign currency derivative instruments to mitigate such exposure. The Company follows established risk management policies, including the use of derivatives like foreign exchange forward/option contracts to hedge forecasted cash flows denominated in foreign currency.

The Company has designated certain derivative instruments as cash flow hedges to mitigate the foreign exchange exposure of forecasted highly probable cash flows. The Company has also designated foreign currency borrowings as hedge against respective net investments in foreign operations.

As at March 31, 2018 and 2017 respectively, a ₹ 1 increase/decrease in the spot exchange rate of the Indian rupee with the U.S. dollar would result in approximately ₹ 1,500 (consolidated statement of profit and loss ₹ 414 and other comprehensive income ₹ 1,086) and ₹ 1,155 (consolidated statement of profit and loss ₹ 139 and other comprehensive income ₹ 1,016) decrease/increase in the fair value of foreign currency dollar denominated derivative instruments.

The below table presents foreign currency risk from non-derivative financial instruments as at March 31, 2018 and 2017:

As at March 31, 2018 and 2017, respectively, every 1% increase/decrease of the respective foreign currencies compared to functional currency of the Company would impact results by approximately ₹ 162 and ₹ 69 respectively.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk primarily arises from floating rate borrowing, including various revolving and other lines of credit. The Company's investments are primarily in short-term investments, which do not expose it to significant interest rate risk. The Company manages its net exposure to interest rate risk relating to borrowings by entering into interest rate swap agreements, which allows it to exchange periodic payments based on a notional amount and agreed upon fixed and floating interest rates. Certain borrowings are also transacted at fixed interest rates. If interest rates were to increase by 100 bps from March 31, 2018, additional net annual interest expense on floating rate borrowing would amount to approximately ₹ 1,186.

Credit risk

Credit risk arises from the possibility that customers may not be able to settle their obligations as agreed. To manage this, the Company periodically assesses the financial reliability of customers, taking into account the financial condition, current economic trends, analysis of historical bad debts and aging of accounts receivable. Individual risk limits are set accordingly. No single customer accounted for more than 10% of the accounts receivable as of March 31, 2018 and 2017, respectively and revenues for the year ended March 31, 2018 and 2017, respectively. There is no significant concentration of credit risk.

Counterparty risk

Counterparty risk encompasses issuer risk on marketable securities, settlement risk on derivative and money market contracts and credit risk on cash and time deposits. Issuer risk is minimised by only buying securities which are at least AA rated in India based on Indian rating agencies. Settlement and credit risk is reduced by the policy of entering into transactions with counterparties that are usually banks or financial institutions with acceptable credit ratings. Exposure to these risks are closely monitored and maintained within predetermined parameters. There are limits on credit exposure to any financial institution. The limits are regularly assessed and determined based upon credit analysis including financial statements and capital adequacy ratio reviews.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is defined as the risk that the Company will not be able to settle or meet its obligations on time or at a reasonable price. The Company's corporate treasury department is responsible for liquidity and funding as well as settlement management. In addition, processes and policies related to such risks are overseen by senior management. Management monitors the Company's net liquidity position through rolling forecasts on the basis of expected cash flows. As of March 31, 2018, cash and cash equivalents are held with major banks and financial institutions.

As at March 31, 2018 and 2017, plan assets were primarily invested in insurer managed funds.

The Company has established an income tax approved irrevocable trust fund to which it regularly contributes to finance the liabilities of the gratuity plan. The fund's investments are managed by certain insurance companies as per the mandate provided to them by the trustees and the asset allocation is within the permissible limits prescribed in the insurance regulations.

The principal assumptions used for the purpose of actuarial valuation of these defined benefit plans are as follows:

	As at
	March 31, 2018	March 31, 2017
Discount rate	6.30%	5.91%
Expected return on plan assets	6.30%	5.91%
Expected rate of salary increase	6.89%	6.90%
Duration of defined benefit obligations	8 years	8 years

The expected return on plan assets is based on expectation of the average long term rate of return expected on investments of the fund during the estimated term of the obligations.

The discount rate is primarily based on the prevailing market yields of government securities for the estimated term of the obligations. The estimates of future salary increases considered takes into account the inflation, seniority, promotion and other relevant factors. Attrition rate considered is the management's estimate, based on previous years' employee turnover of the Company.

The expected future contribution and estimated future benefit payments from the fund are as follows:

Expected contribution to the fund during the year ending March 31, 2019	₹ 1,162
Estimated benefit payments from the fund for the year ending March 31:
2019	1,338
2020	1,062
2021	1,059
2022	1,065
2023	1,053
Thereafter	5,454
Total	₹ 11,031

The expected benefits are based on the same assumptions used to measure the Company's benefit obligations as of March 31, 2018.

Sensitivity for significant actuarial assumptions is computed to show the movement in defined benefit obligation by 0.5 percentage.

As of March 31, 2018, every 0.5 percentage point increase/(decrease) in discount rate will result in (decrease)/increase of defined benefit obligation by approximately ₹ (320) and ₹ 341 respectively (March 31, 2017: ₹ (187) and ₹ 207 respectively).

As of March 31, 2018, every 0.5 percentage point increase/ (decrease) in expected rate of salary will result in increase/(decrease) of defined benefit obligation by approximately ₹ 184 and ₹ (173) respectively (March 31, 2017: ₹ 176 and ₹ (169) respectively).

Deferred taxes on unrealised foreign exchange gain/loss relating to cash flow hedges, fair value movements in investments and actuarial gains/losses on defined benefit plans are recognised in other comprehensive income. Deferred tax liability on the other intangible assets identified and carry forward losses on acquisitions is recorded by an adjustment to goodwill. Other than these, the change in deferred tax assets and liabilities is primarily recorded in the consolidated statement of profit and loss.

In assessing the realisability of deferred tax assets, the Company considers the extent to which it is probable that the deferred tax asset will be realised. The ultimate realisation of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable profits during the periods in which those temporary differences and tax loss carry-forwards become deductible. The Company considers the expected reversal of deferred tax liabilities, projected future taxable income and tax planning strategies in making this assessment. Based on this, the Company believes that it is probable that the Company will realize the benefits of these deductible differences. The amount of deferred tax asset considered realizable, however, could be reduced in the near term if the estimates of future taxable income during the carry-forward period are reduced.

Deferred tax asset amounting to ₹ 3,756 and ₹ 4,238 as at March 31, 2018 and 2017, respectively in respect of unused tax losses have not been recognised by the Company. The tax loss carry-forwards of ₹ 14,510 and ₹ 13,581 as at March 31, 2018 and 2017, respectively, relates to certain subsidiaries on which deferred tax asset has not been recognised by the Company, because there is a lack of reasonable certainty that these subsidiaries may generate future taxable profits. Approximately, ₹ 6,223 and ₹ 5,371 as at March 31, 2018 and 2017, respectively, of these tax loss carry-forwards is not currently subject to expiration dates. The remaining tax loss carry-forwards of approximately, ₹ 8,287 and ₹ 8,210 as at March 31, 2018 and 2017, respectively, expires in various years through fiscal 2037.

The Company has recognised deferred tax assets of ₹ 5,287 and ₹ 5,513 in respect of carry forward losses of its various subsidiaries as at March 31, 2018 and 2017, respectively. Management's projections of future taxable income and tax planning strategies support the assumption that it is probable that sufficient taxable income will be available to utilize these deferred tax assets.

Pursuant to the changes in the Indian income tax laws in the past year, Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) has been extended to income in respect of which deduction is claimed under Section 10A, 10B and 10AA of the Income Tax Act, 1961; consequently, the Company has calculated its tax liability for current domestic taxes after considering MAT. The excess tax paid under MAT provisions over and above normal tax liability can be carried forward and set-off against future tax liabilities computed under normal tax provisions. The Company was required to pay MAT and accordingly, a deferred tax asset of ₹ 74 and ₹ 1,520 has been recognised in the statement of consolidated balance sheet as of March 31, 2018 and 2017 respectively, which can be carried forward for a period of fifteen years from the year of recognition.

A substantial portion of the profits of the Company's India operations are exempt from Indian income taxes being profits attributable to export operations and profits from units established under the Special Economic Zone Act, 2005 scheme. Units designated in special economic zones providing service on or after April 1, 2005 will be eligible for a deduction of 100 percent of profits or gains derived from the export of services for the first five years from commencement of provision of services and 50 percent of such profits and gains for a further five years. Certain tax benefits are also available for a further five years subject to the unit meeting defined conditions. Profits from certain other undertakings are also eligible for preferential tax treatment. The tax holiday period being currently available to the Company expires in various years through fiscal 2030-31. The expiration period of tax holiday for each unit within a SEZ is determined based on the number of years that have lapsed following year of commencement of production by that unit. The impact of tax holidays has resulted in a decrease of current tax expense of ₹ 11,635 and ₹ 11,958 for the years ended March 31, 2018 and 2017, respectively, compared to the effective tax amounts that we estimate we would have been required to pay if these incentives had not been available. The per share effect of these tax incentives for the years ended March 31, 2018 and 2017 was ₹ 2.45 and ₹ 2.46, respectively.

Deferred income tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences except in respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries where the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Accordingly, deferred income tax liabilities on cumulative earnings of subsidiaries amounting to ₹ 51,432 and ₹ 46,905 as of March 31, 2018 and 2017, respectively and branch profit tax @ 15% of the US branch profit have not been recognised. Further, it is not practicable to estimate the amount of the unrecognised deferred tax liabilities for these undistributed earnings.

36. Segment information

The Company is organised by the following operating segments: IT Services and IT Products.

IT Services: The IT Services segment primarily consists of IT Service offerings to customers organised by industry verticals. Effective April 1, 2016, The Company realigned its industry verticals. The Communication Service Provider business unit was regrouped from the former Global Media and Telecom (GMT) industry vertical into a new industry vertical named “Communications”. The Media business unit from the former GMT industry vertical has been realigned with the former Retail, Consumer, Transport and Government (RCTG) industry vertical which has been renamed as “Consumer Business Unit” industry vertical. Further, the Network Equipment Provider business unit of the former GMT industry vertical has been realigned with the Manufacturing industry vertical to form the “Manufacturing and Technology” industry vertical.

The revised industry verticals are as follows: Banking, Financial Services and Insurance (BFSI), Healthcare and Lifesciences (HLS), Consumer Business unit (CBU), Energy, Natural Resources & Utilities (ENU), Manufacturing & Technology (MNT) and Communications (COMM). IT Services segment also includes Others which comprises dividend income relating to strategic investments, which are presented within “finance and other income” in the statement of profit and loss. Key service offerings to customers includes software application development and maintenance, research and development services for hardware and software design, business application services, analytics, consulting, infrastructure outsourcing services and business process services.

Revenue relating to the above items is reported as revenue from the sale of IT Products.

The Chairman and Managing Director of the Company has been identified as the Chief Operating Decision Maker (CODM) as defined by Ind AS 108, “Operating Segments.” The Chairman of the Company evaluates the segments based on their revenue growth and operating income.

Assets and liabilities used in the Company’s business are not identified to any of the operating segments, as these are used interchangeably between segments. NOTES TO THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(₹ in millions, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

1. The Company overview

Wipro is a public limited company incorporated and domiciled in India. The address of its registered office is Wipro Limited, Doddakannelli, Sarjapur Road, Bengaluru – 560 035, Karnataka, India. Wipro has its primary listing with BSE Ltd. (Bombay Stock Exchange) and National Stock Exchange of India Ltd. The Company’s American Depository Shares representing equity shares are also listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

These consolidated financial statements were authorized for issue by the Board of Directors on June 8, 2018. Amounts as at March 31, 2017 and for the year ended March 31, 2017 and 2016 were audited by KPMG.

2. Basis of preparation of consolidated financial statements(i) Statement of compliance and basis of preparation

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards and its interpretations (“IFRS”), as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”). All accounting policies have been applied consistently to all periods presented in these consolidated financial statements.

The consolidated financial statements correspond to the classification provisions contained in IAS 1 (revised), “Presentation of Financial Statements”. For clarity, various items are aggregated in the statement of income and statement of financial position. These items are disaggregated separately in the notes to the consolidated financial statements, where applicable.

All amounts included in the consolidated financial statements are reported in millions of Indian rupees (₹ in millions) except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated. Due to rounding off, the numbers presented throughout the document may not add up precisely to the totals and percentages may not precisely reflect the absolute figures.

(ii) Basis of measurement

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost convention and on an accrual basis, except for the following material items which have been measured at fair value as required by relevant IFRS:

- a. Derivative financial instruments;
- b. Financial instruments classified as fair value through other comprehensive income or fair value through profit or loss;

- c. The defined benefit asset/(liability) is recognized as the present value of defined benefit obligation less fair value of plan assets; and

- d. Contingent consideration.

(iii) Convenience translation (unaudited)

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared and reported in Indian rupees, the functional currency of the Parent Company. Solely for the convenience of the readers, the consolidated financial statements as of and for the year ended March 31, 2018, have been translated into United States dollars at the certified foreign exchange rate of US$1 = ₹ 65.11 as published by Federal Reserve Board of Governors on March 31, 2018. No representation is made that the Indian rupee amounts have been, could have been or could be converted into United States dollars at such a rate or any other rate. Due to rounding off, the translated numbers presented throughout the document may not add up precisely to the totals.

(iv) Use of estimates and judgment

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future periods affected. In particular, information about significant areas of estimation, uncertainty and critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the consolidated financial statements are included in the following notes:

- a) Revenue recognition: The Company uses the percentage of completion method using the input (cost expended) method to measure progress towards completion in respect of fixed price contracts. Percentage of completion method accounting relies on estimates of total expected contract revenue and costs. This method is followed when reasonably dependable estimates of the revenues and costs applicable to various elements of the contract can be made. Key factors that are reviewed in estimating the future costs to complete include estimates of future labor costs and productivity efficiencies. Because the financial reporting of these contracts depends on estimates that are assessed continually during the term of these contracts, recognized revenue and profit are subject to revisions as the contract progresses to completion. When estimates indicate that a loss will be incurred, the loss is provided for in the period in which the loss becomes probable. Volume discounts are recorded as a reduction of revenue. When the amount of discount varies with the levels of revenue, volume discount is recorded based on estimate of future revenue from the customer.

b) Impairment testing: Goodwill and intangible assets with infinite useful life recognized on business combination are tested for impairment at least annually and when events occur or changes in circumstances indicate that the recoverable amount of the asset or the cash generating unit to which these pertain is less than the carrying value. The recoverable amount of the asset or the cash generating units is higher of value-in-use and fair value less cost of disposal. The calculation of value in use of a cash generating unit involves use of significant estimates and assumptions which includes turnover, growth rates and net margins used to calculate projected future cash flows, risk-adjusted discount rate, future economic and market conditions.

c) Income taxes: The major tax jurisdictions for the Company are India and the United States of America. Significant judgments are involved in determining the provision for income taxes including judgment on whether tax positions are probable of being sustained in tax assessments. A tax assessment can involve complex issues, which can only be resolved over extended time periods.

d) Deferred taxes: Deferred tax is recorded on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts, at the rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable profits during the periods in which those temporary differences and tax loss carry-forwards become deductible. The Company considers the expected reversal of deferred tax liabilities and projected future taxable income in making this assessment. The amount of the deferred tax assets considered realizable, however, could be reduced in the near term if estimates of future taxable income during the carry-forward period are reduced.

e) Business combination: In accounting for business combinations, judgment is required in identifying whether an identifiable intangible asset is to be recorded separately from goodwill. Additionally, estimating the acquisition date fair value of the identifiable assets (including useful life estimates) and liabilities acquired, and contingent consideration assumed involves management judgment. These measurements are based on information available at the acquisition date and are based on expectations and assumptions that have been deemed reasonable by management. Changes in these judgments, estimates, and assumptions can materially affect the results of operations.

f) Defined benefit plans and compensated absences: The cost of the defined benefit plans, compensated absences and the present value of the defined benefit obligations are based on actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases and mortality rates. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

g) Expected credit losses on financial assets: The impairment provisions of financial assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected timing of collection. The Company uses judgment in making these assumptions and selecting the inputs to the impairment calculation, based on the Company's past history of collections, customer's credit-worthiness, existing market conditions as well as forward looking estimates at the end of each reporting period.

h) Measurement of fair value of non-marketable equity investments: These instruments are initially recorded at cost and subsequently measured at fair value. Fair value of investments is determined using the market and income approaches. The market approach includes the use of financial metrics and ratios of comparable companies, such as revenue, earnings, comparable performance multiples, recent financial rounds and the level of marketability of the investments. The selection of comparable companies requires management judgment and is based on a number of factors, including comparable company sizes, growth rates, and development stages. The income approach includes the use of discounted cash flow model, which requires significant estimates regarding the investees' revenue, costs, and discount rates based on the risk profile of comparable companies. Estimates of revenue and costs are developed using available historical and forecast data.

i) Useful lives of property, plant and equipment: The Company depreciates property, plant and equipment on a straight-line basis over estimated useful lives of the assets. The charge in respect of periodic depreciation is derived based on an estimate of an asset's expected useful life and the expected residual value at the end of its life. The lives are based on historical experience with similar assets as well as anticipation of future events, which may impact their life, such as changes in technology. The estimated useful life is reviewed at least annually.

j) Other estimates: The share based compensation expense is determined based on the Company's estimate of equity instruments that will eventually vest. Fair valuation of derivative hedging instruments designated as cash flow hedges involves significant estimates relating to the occurrence of forecast transaction.

3. Significant accounting policies

(i) Basis of consolidation

Subsidiaries and controlled trusts

The Company determines the basis of control in line with the requirements of IFRS 10, Consolidated Financial Statements. Subsidiaries and controlled trusts are entities controlled by the Group. The Group controls an entity when the parent has power over the entity, it is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. The financial statements of subsidiaries and controlled trusts are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date on which control commences until the date on which control ceases.

All intra-Group balances, transactions, income and expenses are eliminated in full on consolidation.

Non-controlling interest

Non-controlling interests in the net assets (excluding goodwill) of consolidated subsidiaries are identified separately from the Company's equity. The interest of non-controlling shareholders may be initially measured either at fair value or at the non-controlling interest's proportionate share of the fair value of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. The choice of measurement basis is made on an acquisition to acquisition basis. Subsequent to acquisition, the carrying amount of non-controlling interest is the amount of those interests at initial recognition plus the non-controlling interest's share of subsequent changes in equity. Total comprehensive income is attributed to non-controlling interests even if it results in the non-controlling interest having a deficit balance.

Equity accounted investees

Equity accounted investees are entities in respect of which, the Company has significant influence, but not control, over the financial and operating policies. Generally, a Company has a significant influence if it holds between 20 and 50 percent of the voting power of another entity. Investments in such entities are accounted for using the equity method (equity accounted investees) and are initially recognized at cost. The carrying amount of investment is increased/ decreased to recognized investors share of profit or loss of the investee after the acquisition date.

Non current assets and disposal groups held for sale

Assets of disposal groups that is available for immediate sale and where the sale is highly probable of being completed within one year from the date of classification are considered and classified as assets held for sale. Non current assets and disposal groups held for sale are measured at the lower of carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell.

(ii) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements of each of the Company's entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which these entities operate (i.e., the "functional currency"). These consolidated financial statements are presented in Indian rupees, which is the functional currency of the Parent Company.

(iii) Foreign currency transactions and translation

a) Transactions and balances

Transactions in foreign currency are translated into the respective functional currencies using the exchange rates prevailing at the date of the transaction. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from translation at the exchange rates prevailing at the reporting date of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognized in the consolidated statement of income and reported within foreign exchange gains/(losses), net, within results of operating activities except when deferred in other comprehensive income as qualifying cash flow hedges and qualifying net investment hedges. Gains/(losses), net, relating to translation or settlement of borrowings denominated in foreign currency are reported within finance expense. Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency and measured at historical cost are translated at the exchange rate prevalent at the date of transaction. Translation differences on non-monetary financial assets measured at fair value at the reporting date, such as equities classified as financial instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income are included in other comprehensive income, net of taxes.

b) Foreign operations

For the purpose of presenting consolidated financial statements, the assets and liabilities of the Company's foreign operations that have a functional currency other than Indian rupees are translated into Indian rupees using exchange rates prevailing at the reporting date. Income and expense items are translated at the average exchange rates for the period. Exchange differences arising, if any, are recognized in other comprehensive income and held in foreign currency translation reserve (FCTR), a component of equity, except to the extent that the translation difference is allocated to non-controlling interest. When a foreign operation is disposed of, the relevant amount recognized in FCTR is transferred to the consolidated statement of income as part of the profit or loss on disposal. Goodwill and fair value adjustments arising on the acquisition of a foreign operation are treated as assets and liabilities of the foreign operation and translated at the exchange rate prevailing at the reporting date.

Foreign currency differences arising on the translation or settlement of a financial liability designated as a hedge of a net investment in a foreign operation are recognized in other comprehensive income and presented within equity in the FCTR to the extent the hedge is effective. To the extent the hedge is ineffective, such differences are recognized in the consolidated statement of income.

When the hedged part of a net investment is disposed of, the relevant amount recognized in FCTR is transferred to the consolidated statement of income as part of the profit or loss on disposal. Foreign currency differences arising from translation of intercompany receivables or payables relating to foreign operations, the settlement of which is neither planned nor likely in the foreseeable future, are considered to form part of net investment in foreign operation and are recognized in FCTR.

(iv) Financial instrumentsA) Non-derivative financial instruments:

Non derivative financial instruments consist of:

- financial assets, which include cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, unbilled revenues, finance lease receivables, employee and other advances, investments in equity and debt securities and eligible current and non-current assets. Financial assets are derecognized when substantial risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset have been transferred. In cases where substantial risks and rewards of ownership of the financial assets are neither transferred nor retained, financial assets are derecognized only when the Company has not retained control over the financial asset.
- financial liabilities, which include long and short-term loans and borrowings, bank overdrafts, trade payables, eligible current and non-current liabilities.

Non-derivative financial instruments are recognized initially at fair value. Subsequent to initial recognition, non-derivative financial instruments are measured as described below:

a. Cash and cash equivalents

The Company's cash and cash equivalents consist of cash on hand and in banks and demand deposits with banks, which can be withdrawn at any time, without prior notice or penalty on the principal.

For the purposes of the cash flow statement, cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, in banks and demand deposits with banks, net of outstanding bank overdrafts that are repayable on demand and are considered part of the Company's cash management system. In the consolidated statement of financial position, bank overdrafts are presented under borrowings within current liabilities.

b. Investments

Financial instruments measured at amortized cost:

Debt instruments that meet the following criteria are measured at amortized cost (except for debt instruments that are designated at fair value through Profit or Loss (FVTPL) on initial recognition):

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the instrument give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payment of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI):

Debt instruments that meet the following criteria are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI) (except for debt instruments that are designated at fair value through Profit or Loss (FVTPL) on initial recognition):

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial asset; and
- the contractual terms of the instrument give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payment of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Interest income is recognized in the consolidated statement of income for FVTOCI debt instruments. Other changes in fair value of FVTOCI financial assets are recognized in other comprehensive income. When the investment is disposed of, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in reserves is transferred to the consolidated statement of income.

Financial instruments measured at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL):

Instruments that do not meet the amortized cost or FVTOCI criteria are measured at FVTPL. Financial assets at FVTPL are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period, with any gains or losses arising on re-measurement recognized in consolidated statement of income. The gain or loss on disposal is recognized in the consolidated statement of income.

Interest income is recognized in the consolidated statement of income for FVTPL debt instruments. Dividend on financial assets at FVTPL is recognized when the Group's right to receive dividend is established.

Investments in equity instruments designated to be classified as FVTOCI:

The Company carries certain equity instruments which are not held for trading. The Company has elected the FVTOCI irrevocable option for these instruments. Movements in fair value of these investments are recognized in other comprehensive income and the gain or loss is not transferred to consolidated statement of income on disposal of these investments. Dividends from these investments are recognized in the consolidated statement of income when the Company's right to receive dividends is established.

c. Other financial assets:

Other financial assets are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. They are presented as current assets, except for those maturing later than 12 months after the reporting date which are presented as non-current assets. These are initially recognized at fair value and subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment losses. These comprise trade receivables, unbilled revenues and other assets.

d. Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables are initially recognized at fair value, and subsequently carried at amortized cost using the effective interest method. For these financial instruments, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the short term maturity of these instruments. Contingent consideration recognized in the business combination is subsequently measured at fair value through profit or loss.

B) Derivative financial instruments

The Company is exposed to foreign currency fluctuations on foreign currency assets, liabilities, net investment in foreign operations and forecasted cash flows denominated in foreign currency.

The Company limits the effect of foreign exchange rate fluctuations by following established risk management policies including the use of derivatives. The Company enters into derivative financial instruments where the counterparty is primarily a bank.

Derivatives are recognized and measured at fair value. Attributable transaction costs are recognized in consolidated statement of income as cost.

Subsequent to initial recognition, derivative financial instruments are measured as described below:

a. Cash flow hedges

Changes in the fair value of the derivative hedging instrument designated as a cash flow hedge are recognized in other comprehensive income and held in cash flow hedging reserve, net of taxes, a component of equity, to the extent that the hedge is effective. To the extent that the hedge is ineffective, changes in fair value are recognized in the consolidated statement of income and reported within foreign exchange gains/(losses), net within results from operating activities. If the hedging instrument no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting, then hedge accounting is discontinued prospectively. If the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated or exercised, the cumulative gain or loss on the hedging instrument recognized in cash flow hedging reserve till the period the hedge was effective remains in cash flow hedging reserve until the forecasted transaction occurs. The cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in the cash flow hedging reserve is transferred to the consolidated statement of income (gross revenues) upon the occurrence of the related forecasted transaction. If the forecasted transaction is no longer expected to occur, such cumulative balance is immediately recognized in the consolidated statement of income.

b. Hedges of net investment in foreign operations

The Company designates derivative financial instruments as hedges of net investments in foreign operations. The Company has also designated a foreign currency denominated borrowing as a hedge of net investment in foreign operations. Changes in the fair value of the derivative hedging instruments and gains/losses on translation or settlement of foreign currency denominated borrowings designated as a hedge of net investment in foreign operations are recognized in other comprehensive income and presented within equity in the FCTR to the extent that the hedge is effective. To the extent that the hedge is ineffective, changes in fair value are recognized in the consolidated statement of income and reported within foreign exchange gains/(losses), net within results from operating activities.

c. Others

Changes in fair value of foreign currency derivative instruments neither designated as cash flow hedges nor hedges of net investment in foreign operations are recognized in the consolidated statement of income and reported within foreign exchange gains/(losses), net within results from operating activities. Changes in fair value and gains/(losses), net on settlement of foreign currency derivative instruments relating to borrowings, which have not been designated as hedges are recorded in finance expense.

C) Derecognition of financial instruments

The Company derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or it transfers the financial asset and the transfer qualifies for derecognition under IFRS 9. If the Company retains substantially all the risks and rewards of a transferred financial asset, the Company continues to recognize the financial asset and also recognizes a borrowing for the proceeds received. A financial liability (or a part of a financial liability) is derecognized from the group's balance sheet when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged or cancelled or expires.

(v) Equity and share capital

a) Share capital and share premium

The authorized share capital of the Company as at March 31, 2018 is ₹ 11,265 divided into 5,500,000,000 equity shares of ₹ 2 each, 25,000,000 10.25% redeemable cumulative preference shares of ₹ 10 each and 150,000 10% optionally convertible cumulative preference shares of ₹ 100 each. Par value of the equity shares is recorded as share capital and the amount received in excess of par value is classified as share premium.

Every holder of the equity shares, as reflected in the records of the Company as of the date of the shareholder meeting shall have one vote in respect of each share held for all matters submitted to vote in the shareholder meeting.

b) Shares held by controlled trust (Treasury shares)

The Company has 14,829,824, 13,728,607 and 23,097,216 treasury shares as at March 31, 2016, 2017 and 2018, respectively. Treasury shares are recorded at acquisition cost.

c) Retained earnings

Retained earnings comprises of the Company's undistributed earnings after taxes. A portion of these earnings amounting as at March 31, 2016, 2017 and 2018 to ₹1,139, ₹ 1,139 and ₹ 1,139 respectively, represents capital reserve which is not freely available for distribution.

d) Share based payment reserve

The share based payment reserve is used to record the value of equity-settled share based payment transactions with employees. The amounts recorded in share based payment reserve are transferred to share premium upon exercise of stock options and restricted stock unit options by employees.

e) Foreign currency translation reserve

The exchange differences arising from the translation of financial statements of foreign subsidiaries, differences arising from translation of long-term inter-company receivables or payables relating to foreign operations settlement of which is neither planned nor likely in the foreseeable future, changes in fair value of the derivative hedging instruments and gains/losses on translation or settlement of foreign currency denominated borrowings designated as hedge of net investment in foreign operations are recognized in other comprehensive income, net of taxes and presented within equity in the FCTR.

f) Cash flow hedging reserve

Changes in fair value of derivative hedging instruments designated and effective as a cash flow hedge are recognized in other comprehensive income (net of taxes), and presented within equity as cash flow hedging reserve.

g) Other reserves

Changes in the fair value of financial instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income and actuarial gains and losses on defined benefit plans are recognized in other comprehensive income (net of taxes), and presented within equity in other reserves.

Other reserves also includes Capital redemption reserve as at March 31, 2016, 2017 and 2018 amounting to ₹ Nil, ₹ 80 and ₹ 767, respectively, which is not freely available for distribution.

h) Dividend

A final dividend, including tax thereon, on common stock is recorded as a liability on the date of approval by the shareholders. An interim dividend, including tax thereon, is recorded as a liability on the date of declaration by the board of directors.

i) Buyback of equity shares

The buyback of equity shares and related transaction costs are recorded as a reduction of free reserves. Further, capital redemption reserves is created as an apportionment from retained earnings.

(vi) Property, plant and equipment

a) Recognition and measurement

Property, plant and equipment are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Cost includes expenditures directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset. General and specific borrowing costs directly attributable to the construction of a qualifying asset are capitalized as part of the cost.

b) Depreciation

The Company depreciates property, plant and equipment over the estimated useful life on a straight-line basis from the date the assets are available for use. Assets acquired under finance lease and leasehold improvements are amortized over the shorter of estimated useful life of the asset or the related lease term. Term licenses are amortized over their respective contract term. Freehold land is not depreciated. The estimated useful life of assets are reviewed and where appropriate are adjusted, annually. The estimated useful lives of assets are as follows:

Category	Useful life
Buildings	28 to 40 years
Plant and machinery	5 to 21 years
Computer equipment and software	2 to 7 years
Furniture, fixtures and equipment	3 to 10 years
Vehicles	4 to 5 years

When parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment. Subsequent expenditure relating to property, plant and equipment is capitalized only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with these will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

Deposits and advances paid towards the acquisition of property, plant and equipment outstanding as of each reporting date and the cost of property, plant and equipment not available for use before such date are disclosed under capital work- in-progress.

(vii) Business combination, Goodwill and Intangible assets

a) Business combination

Business combinations are accounted for using the purchase (acquisition) method. The cost of an acquisition is measured as the fair value of the assets transferred, liabilities incurred or assumed and equity instruments issued at the date of exchange by the Company. Identifiable assets acquired and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are measured initially at fair value at the date of acquisition. Transaction costs incurred in connection with a business acquisition are expensed as incurred.

The cost of an acquisition also includes the fair value of any contingent consideration measured as at the date of acquisition. Any subsequent changes to the fair value of contingent consideration classified as liabilities, other than measurement period adjustments, are recognized in the consolidated statement of income.

b) Goodwill

The excess of the cost of an acquisition over the Company's share in the fair value of the acquiree's identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities is recognized as goodwill. If the excess is negative, a bargain purchase gain is recognized immediately in the consolidated statement of income. Goodwill is measured at cost less accumulated impairment (if any).

c) Intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured at cost of acquisition. Intangible assets acquired in a business combination are measured at fair value as at the date of acquisition. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortization and impairment losses, if any.

The amortization of an intangible asset with a finite useful life reflects the manner in which the economic benefit is expected to be generated and is included in selling and marketing expenses in the consolidated statements of income.

The estimated useful life of amortizable intangibles are reviewed and where appropriate are adjusted, annually. The estimated useful lives of the amortizable intangible assets for the current and comparative periods are as follows:

Category	Useful life
Customer-related intangibles	5 to 15 years
Marketing related intangibles	3 to 10 years

(viii) Leases

The determination of whether an arrangement is, or contains, a lease is based on the substance of the arrangement at the inception date. The arrangement is, or contains a lease if, fulfillment of the arrangement is dependent on the use of a specific asset or assets or the arrangement conveys a right to use the asset or assets, even if that right is not explicitly specified in an arrangement.

a) Arrangements where the Company is the lessee

Leases of property, plant and equipment, where the Company assumes substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. Finance leases are capitalized at lower of the fair value of the leased property and the present value of the minimum lease payments. Lease payments are apportioned between the finance charge and the outstanding liability. The finance charge is allocated to periods during the lease term at a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability.

Leases where the lessor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as operating leases. Payments made under operating leases are recognized in the consolidated statement of income on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

b) Arrangements where the Company is the lessor

In certain arrangements, the Company recognizes revenue from the sale of products given under finance leases. The Company records gross finance lease receivables, unearned income and the estimated residual value of the leased equipment on consummation of such leases. Unearned income represents the excess of the gross finance lease receivable plus the estimated residual value over the sales price of the equipment. The Company recognizes unearned income as finance income over the lease term using the effective interest method.

(ix) Inventories

Inventories are valued at lower of cost and net realizable value, including necessary provision for obsolescence. Cost is determined using the weighted average method.

(x) Impairment

A) Financial assets

The Company applies the expected credit loss model for recognizing impairment loss on financial assets measured at amortized cost, debt instruments classified as FVTOCI, lease receivables, trade receivables and other financial assets. Expected credit loss is the difference between the contractual cash flows and the cash flows that the entity expects to receive, discounted using the effective interest rate.

Loss allowances for trade receivables and lease receivables are measured at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit loss. Lifetime expected credit losses are the expected credit losses that result from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. Lifetime expected credit loss is computed based on a provision matrix which takes in to account risk profiling of customers and historical credit loss experience adjusted for forward looking information. For other financial assets, expected credit loss is measured at the amount equal to twelve months expected credit loss unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition, in which case those are measured at lifetime expected credit loss.

B) Non-financial assets

The Company assesses long-lived assets such as property, plant and equipment and acquired intangible assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset or group of assets may not be recoverable. If any such indication exists, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the asset or group of assets. The recoverable amount of an asset or cash generating unit is the higher of its fair value less cost of disposal (FVLCD) and its value-in-use (VIU). The VIU of long-lived assets is calculated using projected future cash flows. FVLCD of a cash generating unit is computed using turnover and earnings multiples. If the recoverable amount of the asset or the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit to which the asset belongs is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to its recoverable amount. The reduction is treated as an impairment loss and is recognized in the consolidated statement of income. If at the reporting date, there is an indication that a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and the impairment losses previously recognized are reversed such that the asset is recognized at its recoverable amount but not exceeding written down value which would have been reported if the impairment losses had not been recognized initially.

Goodwill is tested for impairment at least annually at the same time and when events occur or changes in circumstances indicate that the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit is less than its carrying value. The goodwill impairment test is performed at the level of cash-generating unit or groups of cash-generating units which represents the lowest level at which goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes. An impairment in respect of goodwill is not reversed.

(xi) Employee benefits

Post-employment and pension plans

The Group participates in various employee benefit plans. Pensions and other post-employment benefits are classified as either defined contribution plans or defined benefit plans. Under a defined contribution plan, the Company's only obligation is to pay a fixed amount with no obligation to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employee benefits. The related actuarial and investment risks are borne by the employee. The expenditure for defined contribution plans is recognized as an expense during the period when the employee provides service. Under a defined benefit plan, it is the Company's obligation to provide agreed benefits to the employees. The related actuarial and investment risks are borne by the Company. The present value of the defined benefit obligations is calculated by an independent actuary using the projected unit credit method.

Actuarial gains or losses are immediately recognized in other comprehensive income, net of taxes and permanently excluded from profit or loss. Further, the profit or loss will no longer include an expected return on plan assets. Instead net interest recognized in profit or loss is calculated by applying the discount rate used to measure the defined benefit obligation to the net defined benefit liability or asset. The actual return on the plan assets above or below the discount rate is recognized as part of re-measurement of net defined liability or asset through other comprehensive income, net of taxes.

The Company has the following employee benefit plans:

a. Provident fund

Employees receive benefits from a provident fund, which is a defined benefit plan. The employer and employees each make periodic contributions to the plan. A portion of the contribution is made to the approved provident fund trust managed by the Company while the remainder of the contribution is made to the government administered pension fund. The contributions to the trust managed by the Company is accounted for as a defined benefit plan as the Company is liable for any shortfall in the fund assets based on the government specified minimum rates of return.

b. Superannuation

Superannuation plan, a defined contribution scheme is administered by third party fund managers. The Company makes annual contributions based on a specified percentage of each eligible employee's salary.

c. Gratuity

In accordance with the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972, applicable for Indian companies, the Company provides for a lump sum payment to eligible employees, at retirement or termination of employment based on the last drawn salary and years of employment with the Company. The gratuity fund is managed by third party fund managers. The Company's obligation in respect of the gratuity plan, which is a defined benefit plan, is provided for based on actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method. The Company recognizes actuarial gains and losses in other comprehensive income, net of taxes.

d. Termination benefits

Termination benefits are expensed when the Company can no longer withdraw the offer of those benefits.

e. Short-term benefits

Short-term employee benefit obligations are measured on an undiscounted basis and are recorded as expense as the related service is provided. A liability is recognized for the amount expected to be paid under short-term cash bonus or profit-sharing plans, if the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

f. Compensated absences

The employees of the Company are entitled to compensated absences. The employees can carry forward a portion of the unutilized accumulating compensated absences and utilize it in future periods or receive cash at retirement or termination of employment. The Company records an obligation for compensated absences in the period in which the employee renders the services that increases this entitlement. The Company measures the expected cost of compensated absences as the additional amount that the Company expects to pay as a result of the unused entitlement that has accumulated at the end of the reporting period. The Company recognizes accumulated compensated absences based on actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method. Non-accumulating compensated absences are recognized in the period in which the absences occur.

(xii) Share based payment transactions

Selected employees of the Company receive remuneration in the form of equity settled instruments, for rendering services over a defined vesting period. Equity instruments granted are measured by reference to the fair value of the instrument at the date of grant. In cases, where equity instruments are granted at a nominal exercise price, the intrinsic value on the date of grant approximates the fair value. The expense is recognized in the consolidated statement of income with a corresponding increase to the share based payment reserve, a component of equity.

The equity instruments generally vest in a graded manner over the vesting period. The fair value determined at the grant date is expensed over the vesting period of the respective tranches of such grants (accelerated amortization). The stock compensation expense is determined based on the Company's estimate of equity instruments that will eventually vest.

(xiii) Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation.

When some or all of the economic benefits required to settle a provision are expected to be recovered from a third party, the receivable is recognized as an asset, if it is virtually certain that reimbursement will be received and the amount of the receivable can be measured reliably.

Provisions for onerous contracts are recognized when the expected benefits to be derived by the Company from a contract are lower than the unavoidable costs of meeting the future obligations under the contract. Provisions for onerous contracts are measured at the present value of lower of the expected net cost of fulfilling the contract and the expected cost of terminating the contract.

(xiv) Revenue

The Company derives revenue primarily from software development, maintenance of software/hardware and related services, business process services, sale of IT and other products.

a) Services

The Company recognizes revenue when the significant terms of the arrangement are enforceable, services have been delivered and the collectability is reasonably assured. The method for recognizing revenues and costs depends on the nature of the services rendered:

A. Time and materials contracts

Revenues and costs relating to time and materials contracts are recognized as the related services are rendered.

B. Fixed-price contracts

Revenues from fixed-price contracts, including systems development and integration contracts are recognized using the "percentage-of-completion" method. Percentage of completion is determined based on project costs incurred to date as a percentage of total estimated project costs required to complete the project. The cost expended (or input) method has been used to measure progress towards completion as there is a direct relationship between input and productivity. If the Company does not have a sufficient basis to measure the progress of completion or to estimate the total contract revenues and costs, revenue is recognized only to the extent of contract cost incurred for which recoverability is probable. When total cost estimates exceed revenues in an arrangement, the estimated losses are recognized in the consolidated statement of income in the period in which such losses become probable based on the current contract estimates.

'Unbilled revenues' represent cost and earnings in excess of billings as at the end of the reporting period. 'Unearned revenues' represent billing in excess of revenue recognized. Advance payments received from customers for which no services have been rendered are presented as 'Advance from customers'.

C. Maintenance contracts

Revenue from maintenance contracts is recognized ratably over the period of the contract using the percentage of completion method. When services are performed through an indefinite number of repetitive acts over a specified period of time, revenue is recognized on a straight-line basis over the specified period unless some other method better represents the stage of completion.

In certain projects, a fixed quantum of service or output units is agreed at a fixed price for a fixed term. In such contracts, revenue is recognized with respect to the actual output achieved till date as a percentage of total contractual output. Any residual service unutilized by the customer is recognized as revenue on completion of the term.

b) Products

Revenue from products are recognized when the significant risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the buyer, continuing managerial involvement usually associated with ownership and effective control have ceased, the amount of revenue can be measured reliably, it is probable that economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company and the costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably.

c) Multiple element arrangements

Revenue from contracts with multiple-element arrangements are recognized using the guidance in IAS 18, Revenue. The Company allocates the arrangement consideration to separately identifiable components based on their relative fair values or on the residual method. Fair values are determined based on sale prices for the components when it is regularly sold separately, third-party prices for similar components or cost plus an appropriate business-specific profit margin related to the relevant component.

d) Others

- The Company accounts for volume discounts and pricing incentives to customers by reducing the amount of revenue recognized at the time of sale.
- Revenues are shown net of sales tax, value added tax, service tax, goods and sales tax and applicable discounts and allowances. Revenue includes excise duty.
- The Company accrues the estimated cost of warranties at the time when the revenue is recognized.

The accruals are based on the Company's historical experience of material usage and service delivery costs.

- Costs that relate directly to a contract and incurred in securing a contract are recognized as an asset and amortized over the contract term as reduction of revenue.
- Contract expenses are recognized as expenses by reference to the stage of completion of contract activity at the end of the reporting period.

(xv) Finance expenses

Finance expenses comprises interest cost on borrowings, gains or losses arising on re-measurement of financial assets measured at FVTPL, gains/(losses) on translation or settlement of foreign currency borrowings and changes in fair value and gains/(losses) on settlement of related derivative instruments. Borrowing costs that are not directly attributable to a qualifying asset are recognized in the consolidated statement of income using the effective interest method.

(xvi) Finance and other income

Finance and other income comprises interest income on deposits, dividend income and gains/(losses), net on disposal of investments. Interest income is recognized using the effective interest method. Dividend income is recognized when the right to receive payment is established.

(xvii) Income tax

Income tax comprises current and deferred tax. Income tax expense is recognized in the consolidated statement of income except to the extent it relates to a business combination, or items directly recognized in equity or in other comprehensive income.

a) Current income tax

Current income tax for the current and prior periods are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities based on the taxable income for the period. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the current tax amounts are those that are enacted or substantively enacted as at the reporting date and applicable for the period. The Company offsets current tax assets and current tax liabilities, where it has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts and where it intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and liability simultaneously.

b) Deferred income tax

Deferred income tax is recognized using the balance sheet approach. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for deductible and taxable temporary differences arising between the tax base of assets and liabilities and their carrying amount in financial statements, except when the deferred income tax arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and affects neither accounting nor taxable profits or loss at the time of the transaction.

Deferred income tax assets are recognized to the extent it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilized.

Deferred income tax liabilities are recognized for all taxable temporary differences except in respect of taxable temporary differences that is expected to reverse within the tax holiday period, taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates and foreign branches where the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred income tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred income tax asset to be utilized.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

The Company offsets deferred income tax assets and liabilities, where it has a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities, and they relate to taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the same taxable entity, or on different taxable entities where there is an intention to settle the current tax liabilities and assets on a net basis or their tax assets and liabilities will be realized simultaneously.

(xviii) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is computed using the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period adjusted for treasury shares held. Diluted earnings per share is computed using the weighted-average number of equity and dilutive equivalent shares outstanding during the period, using the treasury stock method for options and warrants, except where the results would be anti-dilutive.

The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted retrospectively for all periods presented for any splits and bonus shares issues including for change effected prior to the approval of the consolidated financial statements by the Board of Directors.

(xix) Cash flow statement

Cash flow are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit for the period is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past operating cash receipts or payments and item of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cash from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated.

(xx) Discontinued operations

A discontinued operation is a component of the Company's business that represents a separate line of business that has been disposed of or is held for sale, or is a subsidiary acquired exclusively with a view to resale. Classification as a discontinued operation occurs upon the earlier of disposal or when the operation meets the criteria to be classified as held for sale.

New Accounting standards adopted by the Company:

The accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements are consistent with those followed in the preparation of the Company's annual consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2017.

IAS 7- Statement of Cash flows

The amendments require entities to provide disclosures about changes in their liabilities arising from financing activities, including both changes arising from cash flows and non-cash changes (such as foreign exchange gains or losses). On initial application of the amendment, entities are not required to provide comparative information for preceding periods. The effect on adoption of IAS 7 on the consolidated financial statements is insignificant.

New accounting standards not yet adopted:

Certain new standards, amendments to standards and interpretations are not yet effective for annual periods beginning after 1 April 2017, and have not been applied in preparing these consolidated financial statements. New standards, amendments to standards and interpretations that could have potential impact on the consolidated financial statements of the Company are:

IFRS 15 – Revenue from Contracts with Customers

IFRS 15 supersedes all existing revenue requirements in IFRS (IAS 11 Construction Contracts, IAS 18 Revenue and related interpretations). According to the new standard, revenue is recognized to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to a customer in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. IFRS 15 establishes a five step model that will apply to revenue earned from a contract with a customer (with limited exceptions), regardless of the type of revenue transaction or the industry. Extensive disclosures will be required, including disaggregation of total revenue; information about performance obligation; changes in contract asset and liability account balances between periods and key judgments and estimates.

The standard allows for two methods of transition: the full retrospective approach, under which the standard will be applied retrospectively to each reported period presented, or the cumulative catch up approach, where the cumulative effect of applying the standard retrospectively is recognized at the date of initial application. The standard is effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2018. Early adoption is permitted. The Company will adopt this standard using the cumulative catch up transition method effective April 1, 2018 and accordingly, the comparative for year ended March 31, 2017 and 2018, will not be retrospectively adjusted. The adoption of the new standard is expected to result in a reduction of approximately ₹ 2,239 in opening retained earnings, primarily relating to certain contract costs because these will not meet the criteria for recognition as contract fulfillment asset.

IFRIC 22 – Foreign Currency Transactions and Advance Consideration

On December 8, 2016, the IFRS interpretations committee of the International Accounting Standards Board issued IFRIC 22, Foreign Currency Transactions and Advance Consideration, which clarifies that the date of the transaction for the purpose of determining the exchange rate to use on initial recognition of the related asset, expense or income is the date on which an entity initially recognizes the non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability arising from the payment or receipt of advance consideration in a foreign currency. The effective date for adoption of IFRIC 22 is annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2018, though early adoption is permitted. The Company will apply the interpretation prospectively from the effective date and the effect on adoption of IFRIC 22 on the consolidated financial statements is insignificant.

IFRS 16 – Leases

On January 13, 2016, the International Accounting Standards Board issued IFRS 16, Leases. IFRS 16 will replace the existing leases Standard, IAS 17 Leases, and related interpretations. The standard sets out the principles for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of leases. IFRS 16 introduces a single lessee accounting model and requires a lessee to recognize assets and liabilities for all leases with a term of more than 12 months, unless the underlying asset is of low value. The Standard also contains enhanced disclosure requirements for lessees. The effective date for adoption of IFRS 16 is annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2019, though early adoption is permitted for companies applying IFRS 15 - Revenue from Contracts with Customers. The Company does not plan to early adopt IFRS 16 and is currently assessing the impact of adopting IFRS 16 on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

IFRIC 23 – Uncertainty over Income Tax treatments

On June 7, 2017, the International Accounting Standards Board issued IFRIC 23 which clarifies the accounting for uncertainties in income taxes. The interpretation is to be applied to the determination of taxable profit (tax loss), tax bases, unused tax losses, unused tax credits and tax rates, when there is uncertainty over income tax treatments under IAS 12. It outlines the following: (1) the entity has to use judgement, to determine whether each tax treatment should be considered separately or whether some can be considered together. The decision should be based on the approach which provides better predictions of the resolution of the uncertainty (2) entity has to consider the probability of the relevant taxation authority accepting the tax treatment and the determination of taxable profit (tax loss), tax bases, unused tax losses, unused tax credits and tax rates would depend upon the probability. The effective date for adoption of IFRIC 23 for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2019, though early adoption is permitted. The Company does not plan to early adopt IFRIC 23 and is currently assessing the impact of adopting IFRIC 23 on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Amendment to IAS 19 – Plan Amendment, Curtailment or Settlement

On 7 February 2018, the International Accounting Standard Board has issued amendments to IAS 19, 'Employee Benefits', in connection with accounting for plan amendments, curtailments and settlements requiring an entity to determine the current service costs and the net interest for the period after the remeasurement using the assumptions used for the remeasurement; and determine the net interest for the remaining period based on the remeasured net defined benefit liability or asset.

These amendments are effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2019, with early application permitted. The Company does not plan to early adopt and is currently assessing the impact of adopting amendment to IAS 19 on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Amendment to IAS 12 – Income Taxes

In December 2017, the International Accounting Standard Board had issued amendments to IAS 12 – Income Taxes. The amendments clarify that an entity shall recognize the income tax consequences of dividends on financial instruments classified as equity should be recognized according to where the entity originally recognized those past transactions or events that generated distributable profits were recognized. The effective date of these amendments is annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2019, though earlier adoption is permitted. The Company does not plan to early adopt this amendment and is currently assessing the impact of these amendment on the consolidated financial statements.

The Company is organized by two operating segments: IT Services and IT Products. Goodwill as at March 31, 2017 and 2018 has been allocated to the IT Services operating segment.

Goodwill recognized on business combinations is allocated to Cash Generating Units (CGUs), within the IT Services operating segment, which are expected to benefit from the synergies of the acquisitions.

Goodwill has been allocated to the CGUs as at March 31, 2017 and 2018 as follows:

CGUs	As at March 31,
	2017	2018
Banking Financial Services and Insurance (BFSI)	₹ 19,826	₹ 17,475

For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill is allocated to a CGU representing the lowest level within the Group at which goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes, and which is not higher than the Company's operating segment. Goodwill is tested for impairment at least annually in accordance with the Company's procedure for determining the recoverable value of each CGU.

The recoverable amount of the CGU is determined on the basis of Fair Value Less Cost of Disposal (FVLCD). The FVLCD of the CGU is determined based on the market capitalization approach, using the turnover and earnings multiples derived from observable market data. The fair value measurement is categorized as a level 2 fair value based on the inputs in the valuation techniques used.

Based on the above testing, no impairment was identified as at March 31, 2017 and 2018, as the recoverable value of the CGUs exceeded the carrying value. Further, none of the CGU's tested for impairment as at March 31, 2017 and 2018, were at risk of impairment. An analysis of the calculation's sensitivity to a change in the key parameters (turnover and earnings multiples), did not identify any probable scenarios where the CGU's recoverable amount would fall below its carrying amount.

Offsetting financial assets and liabilities

The following table contains information on other financial assets and trade payables and other liabilities subject to offsetting:

	Financial assets
	Gross amounts of recognized financial assets	Gross amounts of recognized financial liabilities set off in the balance sheet	Net amounts of recognized other financial assets presented in the balance sheet
As at March 31, 2017	162,252	(4,899)	157,353
As at March 31, 2018	165,985	(6,448)	159,537

	Financial liabilities

As at March 31, 2018	75,634	(6,448)	69,186

For the financial assets and liabilities subject to offsetting or similar arrangements, each agreement between the Company and the counterparty allows for net settlement of the relevant financial assets and liabilities when both elect to settle on a net basis. In the absence of such an election, financial assets and liabilities will be settled on a gross basis and hence are not offset.

Fair value

Financial assets and liabilities include cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, unbilled revenues, finance lease receivables, employee and other advances and eligible current and non-current assets, long and short-term loans and borrowings, finance lease payables, bank overdrafts, trade payable, eligible current liabilities and non-current liabilities.

The fair value of cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, unbilled revenues, borrowings, trade payables, other current financial assets and liabilities approximate their carrying amount largely due to the short-term nature of these instruments. The Company's long-term debt has been contracted at market rates of interest. Accordingly, the carrying value of such long-term debt approximates fair value. Further, finance lease receivables that are overdue are periodically evaluated based on individual credit worthiness of customers. Based on this evaluation, the Company records allowance for estimated losses on these receivables. As at March 31, 2018 and 2017, the carrying value of such receivables, net of allowances approximates the fair value.

Investments in liquid and short-term mutual funds, which are classified as FVTPL are measured using net asset values at the reporting date multiplied by the quantity held. Fair value of investments in commercial papers, certificate of deposits and bonds classified as FVTOCI is determined based on the indicative quotes of price and yields prevailing in the market at the reporting date. Fair value of investments in equity instruments classified as FVTOCI is determined using market and income approaches.

The fair value of derivative financial instruments is determined based on observable market inputs including currency spot and forward rates, yield curves, currency volatility etc.

Fair value hierarchy

The table below analyses financial instruments carried at fair value, by valuation method. The different levels have been defined as follows:

Level 1 – Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 – Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).

Level 3 – Inputs for the assets or liabilities that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

The following table presents fair value of hierarchy of assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis:

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair value of the level 2 financial instruments included in the above table.

Derivative instruments (assets and liabilities): The Company enters into derivative financial instruments with various counter-parties, primarily banks with investment grade credit ratings. Derivatives valued using valuation techniques with market observable inputs are mainly interest rate swaps, foreign exchange forward contracts and foreign exchange option contracts. The most frequently applied valuation techniques include forward pricing, swap models and Black Scholes models (for option valuation), using present value calculations. The models incorporate various inputs including the credit quality of counterparties, foreign exchange spot and forward rates, interest rate curves and forward rate curves of the underlying. As at March 31, 2018, the changes in counterparty credit risk had no material effect on the hedge effectiveness assessment for derivatives designated in hedge relationships and other financial instruments recognized at fair value.

Investment in commercial papers, certificate of deposits and bonds: Fair value of these instruments is derived based on the indicative quotes of price and yields prevailing in the market as at the reporting date.

Derivative assets and liabilities:

The Company is exposed to foreign currency fluctuations on foreign currency assets / liabilities, forecasted cash flows denominated in foreign currency and net investment in foreign operations. The Company follows established risk management policies, including the use of derivatives to hedge foreign currency assets / liabilities, foreign currency forecasted cash flows and net investment in foreign operations. The counter parties in these derivative instruments are primarily banks and the Company considers the risks of non-performance by the counterparty as non-material.

Sale of financial assets

From time to time, in the normal course of business, the Company transfers accounts receivables, unbilled revenues, net investment in finance lease receivables (financials assets) to banks. Under the terms of the arrangements, the Company surrenders control over the financial assets and transfer is without recourse. Accordingly, such transfers are recorded as sale of financial assets. Gains and losses on sale of financial assets without recourse are recorded at the time of sale based on the carrying value of the financial assets and fair value of servicing liability. The incremental impact of such transactions on our cash flow and liquidity for the year ended March 31, 2017 and March 31, 2018 is not material.

In certain cases, transfer of financial assets may be with recourse. Under arrangements with recourse, the Company is obligated to repurchase the uncollected financial assets, subject to limits specified in the agreement with the banks. These are reflected as part of loans and borrowings in the consolidated statement of financial position.

Financial risk management

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk of loss of future earnings, to fair values or to future cash flows that may result from a change in the price of a financial instrument. The value of a financial instrument may change as a result of changes in the interest rates, foreign currency exchange rates and other market changes that affect market risk sensitive instruments. Market risk is attributable to all market risk sensitive financial instruments including investments, foreign currency receivables, payables and loans and borrowings.

The Company's exposure to market risk is a function of investment and borrowing activities and revenue generating activities in foreign currency. The objective of market risk management is to avoid excessive exposure of the Company's earnings and equity to losses.

Risk Management Procedures

The Company manages market risk through a corporate treasury department, which evaluates and exercises independent control over the entire process of market risk management. The corporate treasury department recommends risk management objectives and policies, which are approved by senior management and Audit Committee. The activities of this department include management of cash resources, implementing hedging strategies for foreign currency exposures, borrowing strategies, and ensuring compliance with market risk limits and policies.

Foreign currency risk

The Company operates internationally and a major portion of its business is transacted in several currencies.

Consequently, the Company is exposed to foreign exchange risk through receiving payment for sales and services in the United States and elsewhere, and making purchases from overseas suppliers in various foreign currencies. The exchange rate risk primarily arises from foreign exchange revenue, receivables, cash balances, forecasted cash flows, payables and foreign currency loans and borrowings. A significant portion of the Company's revenue is in the U.S. Dollar, the United Kingdom Pound Sterling, the Euro, the Canadian Dollar and the Australian Dollar, while a large portion of costs are in Indian rupees. The exchange rate between the rupee and these currencies has fluctuated significantly in recent years and may continue to fluctuate in the future. Appreciation of the rupee against these currencies can adversely affect the Company's results of operations.

The Company evaluates exchange rate exposure arising from these transactions and enters into foreign currency derivative instruments to mitigate such exposure. The Company follows established risk management policies, including the use of derivatives like foreign exchange forward/option contracts to hedge forecasted cash flows denominated in foreign currency.

The Company has designated certain derivative instruments as cash flow hedges to mitigate the foreign exchange exposure of forecasted highly probable cash flows. The Company has also designated foreign currency borrowings as hedge against respective net investments in foreign operations.

As of March 31, 2017 and 2018, respectively, a ₹ 1 increase/decrease in the spot exchange rate of the Indian rupee with the U.S. dollar would result in approximately ₹ 1,155 (consolidated statement of income ₹ 139 and other comprehensive income ₹ 1,016) and ₹ 1,500 (consolidated statement of income ₹ 414 and other comprehensive income ₹ 1,086) respectively, decrease/increase in the fair value of foreign currency dollar denominated derivative instruments.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk primarily arises from floating rate borrowing, including various revolving and other lines of credit. The Company's investments are primarily in short-term investments, which do not expose it to significant interest rate risk. The Company manages its net exposure to interest rate risk relating to borrowings by entering into interest rate swap agreements, which allows it to exchange periodic payments based on a notional amount and agreed upon fixed and floating interest rates. Certain borrowings are also transacted at fixed interest rates. If interest rates were to increase by 100 bps from March 31, 2018, additional net annual interest expense on floating rate borrowing would amount to approximately ₹ 1,186.

Credit risk

Credit risk arises from the possibility that customers may not be able to settle their obligations as agreed. To manage this, the Company periodically assesses the financial reliability of customers, taking into account the financial condition, current economic trends, analysis of historical bad debts and aging of accounts receivable. Individual risk limits are set accordingly. No single customer accounted for more than 10% of the accounts receivable as of March 31, 2017 and 2018 or for revenues for the year ended

March 31, 2016, 2017 and 2018. There is no significant concentration of credit risk.

Counterparty risk

Counterparty risk encompasses issuer risk on marketable securities, settlement risk on derivative and money market contracts and credit risk on cash and time deposits. Issuer risk is minimized by only buying securities which are at least AA rated in India based on Indian rating agencies. Settlement and credit risk is reduced by the policy of entering into transactions with counterparties that are usually banks or financial institutions with acceptable credit ratings. Exposure to these risks are closely monitored and maintained within predetermined parameters. There are limits on credit exposure to any financial institution. The limits are regularly assessed and determined based upon credit analysis including financial statements and capital adequacy ratio reviews.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is defined as the risk that the Company will not be able to settle or meet its obligations on time or at a reasonable price. The Company's corporate treasury department is responsible for liquidity and funding as well as settlement management. In addition, processes and policies related to such risks are overseen by senior management. Management monitors the Company's net liquidity position through rolling forecasts on the basis of expected cash flows. As of March 31, 2018, cash and cash equivalents are held with major banks and financial institutions.

Deferred taxes on unrealized foreign exchange gain / loss relating to cash flow hedges, fair value movements in investments and actuarial gains/losses on defined benefit plans are recognized in other comprehensive income. Deferred tax liability on the intangible assets identified and carry forward losses on acquisitions is recorded by an adjustment to goodwill. Other than these, the change in deferred tax assets and liabilities is primarily recorded in the consolidated statement of income.

In assessing the realizability of deferred tax assets, the Company considers the extent to which it is probable that the deferred tax asset will be realized. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable profits during the periods in which those temporary differences and tax loss carry-forwards become deductible. The Company considers the expected reversal of deferred tax liabilities, projected future taxable income and tax planning strategies in making this assessment. Based on this, the Company believes that it is probable that the Company will realize the benefits of these deductible differences. The amount of deferred tax asset considered realizable, however, could be reduced in the near term if the estimates of future taxable income during the carry-forward period are reduced.

Deferred tax asset amounting to ₹ 4,238 and ₹ 3,756 as at March 31, 2017 and 2018, respectively in respect of unused tax losses have not been recognized by the Company. The tax loss carry-forwards of ₹ 13,581 and ₹ 14,510 as at March 31, 2017 and 2018, respectively, relates to certain subsidiaries on which deferred tax asset has not been recognized by the Company, because there is a lack of reasonable certainty that these subsidiaries may generate future taxable profits. Approximately, ₹ 5,371 and ₹ 6,223 as at March 31, 2017 and 2018, respectively, of these tax loss carry-forwards is not currently subject to expiration dates. The remaining tax loss carry-forwards of approximately, ₹ 8,210 and ₹ 8,287 as at March 31, 2017 and 2018, respectively, expires in various years through fiscal 2037.

The Company has recognized deferred tax assets of ₹ 5,513 and ₹ 5,287 in respect of carry forward losses of its various subsidiaries as at March 31, 2017 and 2018. Management's projections of future taxable income and tax planning strategies support the assumption that it is probable that sufficient taxable income will be available to utilize these deferred tax assets.

Pursuant to the changes in the Indian income tax laws in the past year, Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) has been extended to income in respect of which deduction is claimed under Section 10A, 10B and 10AA of the Income Tax Act, 1961; consequently, the Company has calculated its tax liability for current domestic taxes after considering MAT. The excess tax paid under MAT provisions over and above normal tax liability can be carried forward and set-off against future tax liabilities computed under normal tax provisions. The Company was required to pay MAT and accordingly, a deferred tax asset of ₹ 1,520 and ₹ 74 has been recognized in the statement of consolidated financial position as of March 31, 2017 and 2018, respectively, which can be carried forward for a period of fifteen years from the year of recognition.

A substantial portion of the profits of the Company's India operations are exempt from Indian income taxes being profits attributable to export operations and profits from units established under the Special Economic Zone Act, 2005 scheme. Units designated in special economic zones providing service on or after April 1, 2005 will be eligible for a deduction of 100 percent of profits or gains derived from the export of services for the first five years from commencement of provision of services and 50 percent of such profits and gains for a further five years. Certain tax benefits are also available for a further five years subject to the unit meeting defined conditions. Profits from certain other undertakings are also eligible for preferential tax treatment. The tax holiday period being currently available to the Company expires in various years through fiscal 2030-31. The expiration period of tax holiday for each unit within a SEZ is determined based on the number of years that have lapsed following year of commencement of production by that unit. The impact of tax holidays has resulted in a decrease of current tax expense of ₹ 12,754, ₹ 11,958 and ₹ 11,635 for the years ended March 31, 2016, 2017 and 2018, respectively, compared to the effective tax amounts that we estimate we would have been required to pay if these incentives had not been available. The per share effect of these tax incentives for the years ended March 31, 2016, 2017 and 2018 was ₹ 2.60, ₹ 2.46 and ₹ 2.45, respectively.

Deferred income tax liabilities are recognized for all taxable temporary differences except in respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries where the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Accordingly, deferred income tax liabilities on cumulative earnings of subsidiaries amounting to ₹ 46,905 and ₹ 51,432 as of March 31, 2017 and 2018, respectively and branch profit tax @ 15% of the US branch profit have not been recognized. Further, it is not practicable to estimate the amount of the unrecognized deferred tax liabilities for these undistributed earnings.

25. Earnings per equity share

A reconciliation of profit for the year and equity shares used in the computation of basic and diluted earnings per equity share is set out below:

Basic: Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the profit attributable to equity shareholders of the Company by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year, excluding equity shares purchased by the Company and held as treasury shares.

	Year ended March 31,
	2016	2017	2018
Profit attributable to equity holders of the Company	₹ 89,075	₹ 84,895	₹ 80,081
Weighted average number of equity shares outstanding	4,913,118,800	4,857,081,010	4,750,043,400
Basic earnings per share	₹ 18.13	₹ 17.48	₹ 16.86

Diluted: Diluted earnings per share is calculated by adjusting the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year for assumed conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Employee share options are dilutive potential equity shares for the Company.

The calculation is performed in respect of share options to determine the number of shares that could have been acquired at fair value (determined as the average market price of the Company's shares during the year). The number of shares calculated as above is compared with the number of shares that would have been issued assuming the exercise of the share options.

	Year ended March 31,

Profit attributable to equity holders of the Company	₹ 89,075	₹ 84,895	₹ 80,081

The Company has established an income tax approved irrevocable trust fund to which it regularly contributes to finance the liabilities of the gratuity plan. The fund's investments are managed by certain insurance companies as per the mandate provided to them by the trustees and the asset allocation is within the permissible limits prescribed in the insurance regulations.

The principal assumptions used for the purpose of actuarial valuation of these defined benefit plans are as follows:

	As at March 31,

Duration of defined benefit obligations	8 years	8 years

The expected return on plan assets is based on expectation of the average long-term rate of return expected on investments of the fund during the estimated term of the obligations.

The discount rate is primarily based on the prevailing market yields of government securities for the estimated term of the obligations. The estimates of future salary increases considered takes into account the inflation, seniority, promotion and other relevant factors. Attrition rate considered is the management's estimate, based on previous years' employee turnover of the Company.

The expected future contribution and estimated future benefit payments from the fund are as follows:

Estimated benefit payments from the fund for the year ending March 31:

2023	1,053
Thereafter	5,454
Total	₹ 11,031

The expected benefits are based on the same assumptions used to measure the Company's benefit obligations as of March 31, 2018.

Sensitivity for significant actuarial assumptions is computed to show the movement in defined benefit obligation by 0.5 percentage.

As of March 31, 2018, every 0.5 percentage point increase/ (decrease) in discount rate will result in (decrease)/ increase of defined benefit obligation by approximately ₹ (320) and ₹ 341, respectively (March 31, 2017: ₹ (187) and ₹ 207, respectively).

As of March 31, 2018 every 0.5 percentage point increase/ (decrease) in expected rate of salary will result in increase/ (decrease) of defined benefit obligation by approximately ₹ 184 and ₹ (173), respectively (March 31, 2017: ₹ 176 and ₹ (169), respectively).

The sustainability performance is presented based on an internal materiality determination exercise carried out by the Company covering Wipro's operations in India and other geo locations, and considering the key requirements of:

- The International Integrated Reporting Council's (IIRC's) <IR> Framework;
- The Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) Sustainability Reporting Standards 2016 ('GRI Standards')
- the principles of the National Voluntary Guidelines (NVG) and Securities and Exchange Board of India's (SEBI's) requirements with respect to Business Responsibility Reporting (BRR) vide circular No. CIR/CFD/DIL/8/2012 dated August 13, 2012.

The Report brings out the scope and boundaries of sustainability performance disclosures in the Section 'Overview of Integrated Report' for the identified capitals i.e. Financial, Intellectual, Human, Social and Relationship, and Natural - hereafter referred to as 'Capitals'.

We performed a limited level of assurance based on our assurance methodology VeriSustain^{TM(1)}, which is based on our professional experience, international assurance best practices including International Standard on Assurance Engagements 3000 (ISAE 3000) Revised* and GRI Guidelines. Our assurance engagement was planned and carried out during April 2018 – June 2018.

* Assurance Engagements other than Audits or Reviews of Historical Financial Information.

The intended user of this Assurance Statement is the Management of Wipro. We disclaim any liability or responsibility to a third party for decisions, whether investment or otherwise, based on this Assurance Statement.

Responsibilities of the Management of Wipro and of the Assurance Providers

The Management of Wipro has the sole responsibility for the preparation of the Report and are responsible for all information disclosed in the Report as well as the processes for collecting, analysing and reporting the information presented in both the printed and web-based versions of the Report. Wipro is also responsible for the maintenance and integrity of its website. In performing this assurance work, our responsibility is to the Management; however, this statement represents our independent opinion and is intended to inform the outcome of the assurance to the stakeholders of the Company.

We provide a range of other services to Wipro, none of which in our opinion, constitute a conflict of interest with this assurance work. Basis of our Opinion

We planned and performed our work to obtain the evidence considered necessary to provide a basis for our assurance opinion, and as part of the assurance, a multi-disciplinary team of sustainability and assurance specialists performed work at Wipro's Corporate Office and sample operations and supply chain partners in India.

We undertook the following activities:

- Review of Wipro's approach to identification of key capitals, the processes of stakeholder engagement and materiality determination, and its outcome as brought out in this Report. We did not have any direct engagement with external stakeholders;
- Interviews with selected senior managers responsible for management of sustainability issues and review of selected evidence to support issues disclosed in the Report. We were free to choose interviewees and interviewed those with overall responsibility to deliver the Company's sustainability objectives;
- Site visits to sample locations of the Company: (i) Electronic City (EC) -1, -2, and -3, Bengaluru; (ii) Chennai Development Centre (CDC) -2 and -5; (iii) Wipro - Airoli, Mumbai, and Pune Development Centre (PDC) -2, to review processes and systems for preparing site level sustainability data and implementation of sustainability strategy. We were free to choose sites for conducting assessments;
- Review of supporting evidence for key claims and data in the Report;
- Review of the processes for gathering and consolidating the performance data related to the chosen GRI Standards;
- Verification of the data consolidation of reported performance disclosures in context to the Principle of Completeness as per VeriSustain for a limited level of verification; An independent review of Wipro's reporting against its Business Responsibility Report for the year 2017-18 covering requirements under Section 'a' to 'e'.

During the assurance process, we did not come across limitations to the scope of the agreed assurance engagement. The reported data on economic performance, expenditure towards Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) and other financial data are based on audited financial statements issued by the Company's statutory auditors.

On the basis of the verification undertaken, nothing has come to our attention to suggest that the Report does not properly describe the following sustainability disclosures, i.e. disclosure requirements as set out by SEBI for Business Responsibility Reporting and the <IR> framework including the following GRI Standards:

Observations

Without affecting our assurance opinion, we provide the following observations against the principles of Verisustain:

Materiality

The process of determining the issues that is most relevant to an organization and its stakeholders.

The Report brings out identified material topics on the basis of an internal materiality determination exercise, as well as through benchmarking with peers, sustainability rating agencies and applicable sustainability reporting frameworks. The Company also considers key concerns arising from its stakeholder engagement processes to be key inputs for its materiality determination exercise. Nothing has come to our attention to suggest that the Report does not meet the requirements related to the Principle of Materiality.

Stakeholder Inclusiveness

The participation of stakeholders in developing and achieving an accountable and strategic response to Sustainability.

Wipro has formal and informal processes in place for stakeholder engagement, and responses to key concerns are brought out in the Report through descriptions of appropriate strategies. Nothing has come to our attention to suggest that the Report does not meet the requirements related to the Principle of Stakeholder Inclusiveness.

Responsiveness

The extent to which an organization responds to stakeholder issues.

The Report brings out Wipro's feedback and responses on key concerns, expectations and issues raised by its key stakeholders through its policies, strategies, management systems and governance mechanisms that the Company has established. Further, the Report brings out responses to issues and topics identified as material, including plans towards value creation across identified Capitals in a coherent manner. On the basis of review of the Report, nothing has come to our attention to suggest that the responses related to identified material topics are not adequately represented in the Report.

Reliability

The accuracy and comparability of information presented in the report, as well as the quality of underlying data management systems.

The majority of data and information verified at Corporate Office and at sample locations visited by us were found to be fairly accurate and reliable. Some of the data inaccuracies identified during the verification process were found to be attributable to transcription, interpretation and aggregation errors and the errors have been corrected. It is suggested that Wipro may implement appropriate tools for sustainability data management with a process of change management and internal reviews and validation to further strengthen the reliability of its performance disclosures.

Completeness

How much of all the information that has been identified as material to the organisation and its stakeholders is reported?

The Report brings out Wipro's Economic, Environmental and Social performance through topics it has identified as material, and uses appropriate GRI Standards to disclose its performance on these topics. Further the business models and value creation strategies across Wipro's identified Capitals are adequately brought out within the Report in line with key requirements of the <IR> framework. On the basis of review of the Report, nothing has come to our attention to suggest that the Report does not meet the Principle of Completeness with respect to scope, boundary and time.

Neutrality

The extent to which a report provides a balanced account of an organization's performance, delivered in a neutral tone.

The disclosures related to sustainability performance and issues are presented in a neutral tone, in terms of content and presentation, along with key concerns and challenges faced during the period.
