

Wipro's Rig Scheduler solution

The oil and gas business is being continuously challenged to do more with less. They are expected to solve diverse problems with vast volumes of data and increasingly complex systems. Technology is helping companies tap the full potential of their people and assets.

Over 40% improvement in your rig utilization

Prepare optimized schedules in minutes instead of days

Minimize project cost

Utilize the full potential of people and assets. Meet production and revenue targets.

The solution

Does your development drilling program often face challenges of poor rig scheduling and well allocation, leading to :

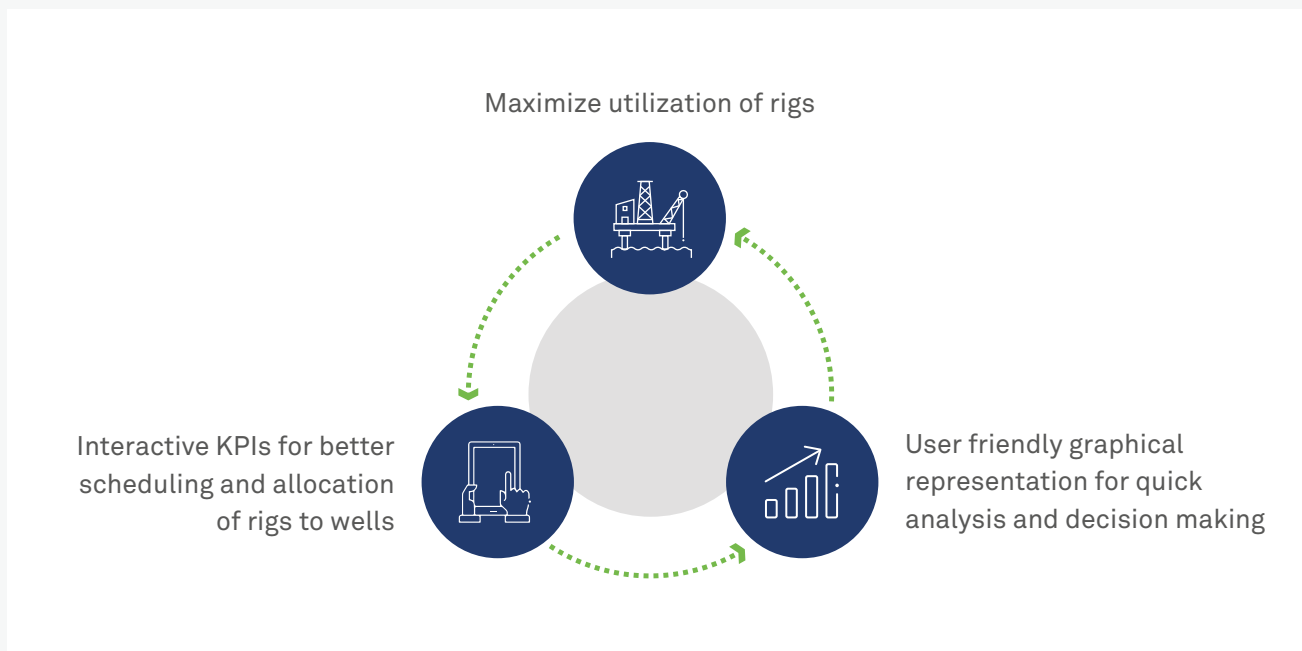

- Underutilization of hired rigs
- Idle time of rigs
- Project cost over-runs
- Unmet targets for the number of wells planned for drilling
- Deferred production targets
- Deferred revenue targets by considerable time

Wipro's rig scheduling and optimization solution helps our customers simulate and plan optimum utilization of rig fleet for a minimum project cost to meet development drilling, production and revenue targets in a development field.

Benefits

- Improved decision making related to choice of rigs based on rig specification, rentals and specs, number and types of wells to be drilled
- Enhanced efficiency in production planning
- Higher probability of meeting revenue targets after drilling and completion of development field
