Wipro Limited's ("Wipro") commitment to human rights prohibits any act of human trafficking, slavery, servitude, and forced or compulsory labour throughout the organization, its business and its supply chain. Wipro has taken appropriate steps to mitigate the risk of human trafficking and slavery in any part of its business. In 2016, we have updated our internal policies (Code of Business Conduct and Supplier Code of Conduct) to specify our commitment to respecting human rights and prohibiting slavery, servitude, forced labour, child labour and human trafficking. We have also implemented controls in place to ensure commitment to our policies. In the past year we have conducted group wide risk assessment of various functions and also have implemented programs like improved responsible sourcing process by clarifying requirements from suppliers and launched a new risk assessment process to include advanced screening and audits.

SUPPLY CHAIN OVERVIEW

Wipro's supply chain is integrally linked to its successful growth and works end-to-end to bring specific industry experience as well as a cross-industry perspective to help seed innovation. At an aggregate level, majority of our suppliers are based in India and most of the procurement for the year was from India based suppliers. Wipro's Central Procurement Organization has automated its supply chain management through a portal that covers all stages of procurement. This portal is a strategic web-based solution used by Wipro for end to end supplier onboarding across all business categories. This e-Business application allows incumbent suppliers to create their profile with Wipro in order to provide goods/services in future course of time and conduct activities like new registration, supplier code modification, extension, blocking/unblocking etc. As the first step in this program, it is now mandatory for the suppliers to accept and sign the Supplier Code of Conduct (SCOC), which is in line with Wipro's Code of Business Conduct.

POLICIES

Wipro is committed to ensure that there is no modern slavery or human trafficking in any part of our business including our supply chains. Wipro has internal policies and practices that focus on slavery and human trafficking and is part of a larger effort of supply chain transparency, accountability and respect for human rights. These internal policies are available on Wipro intranet and policies such as Code of Business Conduct, Ombudsprocess, Supplier Code of Conduct, and Human Rights Policy are available in www.wipro.com.

Wipro has taken multiple actions to verify the absence of forced labor, slavery and human trafficking in and part of our business and our supply chain.

DUE DILIGENCE PROCESSES FOR SLAVERY AND HUMAN TRAFFICKING

As part of Wipro's initiative to identify and mitigate risk –

1. Wipro runs licensed premises as managed houses to ensure optimum control of the work environment;
2. Wipro limits the geographical scope of its licensed premises to ensure optimum supervision of the use of its properties;
3. Where possible Wipro builds long standing relationships with local suppliers and tenancy customers and make clear Wipro's expectations of business behavior;
4. Wipro has in place systems to encourage the reporting of concerns and the protection of whistle blowers.
5. Independent assessments are conducted with the help of third party tools prior to the onboarding of any vendor/partner. Wipro also has a vendor compliance committee that reviews and asses the reports before onboarding of the vendors.

Wipro's supplier engagement program integrates a program of continuing evaluation, capacity building and risk management with a focus on human rights and labour practices and regulatory compliance through ongoing periodic assessments done by both external consultants and review by Internal Audit team. Wipro's expect that these steps will encourage responsible behavior from our partners.

EFFECTIVENESS AND REPORTING

Wipro encourages and has in place a whistleblowing process that enables everyone, including partners, contractors and employees, to raise their concerns at a single platform with complete confidentiality.
