

Wipro – AWS Launch Pad introduces Awslo, the first humanoid from Wipro

Experience innovation in action

With rapid advancements in robotic innovation, organizations are increasingly looking at transforming their working environments by utilizing more and more robots to work intrinsically as human collaborators.

Awslo, a five feet, high-tech humanoid, introduced by Wipro–AWS Launch Pad is irrefutable proof that the future is already here. The robot can take on any customer facing role with élan – be it handling airline check in, or donning the hat of a security assistant, tour guide, or hotel receptionist.

Awslo supports healthcare workers fighting against COVID-19 in hospitals...

- Carrying out routine temperature checks
- Connecting patients to doctors through video sessions
- Ensuring cleanliness by disinfecting surfaces and floors

Awslo assists in Airport terminals to support staff and ensure passenger satisfaction...

- Guiding passengers to appropriate service desks
- Providing self-service check-ins
- Managing bag drops, information for tourists and general airport support

Awslo helps improve engagement and customer flow through Banks and Insurance organizations...

- Assisting with seamless customer check-in and registration
- Engaging with prospective clients for lead generation and awareness
- Enabling customers with information and guidance prior to their appointment

Awslo enhances guest satisfaction with a seamless hotel concierge experience...

- Handling bags and providing helpful tourist information
- Supporting staff with personalized check-in and room tours for customers
- Reducing staff workloads without sacrificing a personalized experience
