NASA provided the data and Topcoders discovered the comets

Topcoder helped astronomers achieve their ambitions to understand even more of the galaxy by helping stargazers detect very faint comets. The Solar and Heliospheric Observatory (SOHO) satellite, deployed in 1995 has discovered more than 4,000 new comets. NASA wanted to improve the SOHO's ability to detect very dim 'category C' or 'sungrazing comets'. 600 Topcoders took on the challenge of developing algorithms that enhanced the satellite's imagery and data capabilities, identifying previously unknown comets. Official comet discovery credit is given to Topcoders whose algorithms identify previously unknown comets.
